A Survey for You

A terrifying thought occurred to me yesterday: Some people might not think that the humor page is absolutely hilarious.

I'm sure that they think that it is still pretty hilarious, how could you not? Our articles always make a lot of sense, are well-written and appeal to thousands. I'm sure that they are just jealous because they can't write for the page and therefore decide to hate on us.

Makes sense to me, why else would anyone dislike the humor page? Because you are a communist bastard? Yeah, that's probably it. Do you dislike the humor page? Do you love it so much that you cuddle with it under the blankets? Well, here is your chance to have your voice heard! And possibly win prizes (but only if you say good things about us, not bad.) We will print the results in a future issue.

BEN TITUS

Reality TV is the greatest thing since television implemented the color screen. If you don't believe me, just think about all the people who watched the finale of "Joe Millionaire."

I know I did. It was the first episode of the show I watched and I am now mad I hadn't been watching it all along. I mean what a twist at the end. I think a better twist would have been if all the girls revealed that they had STDs. Then it would have been Joe who was being lied to the whole time with a hilarious outcome.

This show was fruitier than Rip Taylor in San Francisco and it made me wonder what Fox will do next? My Hollywood connection told me Fox will be letting a group of guys spend half a year at a tropical paradise with a beautiful celebrity. But since it is Fox I know there will be an interesting twist.

The buzz going around Hollywood was that Sandra Bullock was looking to get away on a tropical vacation. The next thing you know, Fox was on the phone with her. Twenty lucky guys were off to a nudist beach where they were going to be spending some quality time with Sandra Bullock. I know you readers would be excited about that ... spending quality time with 19 naked guys. But anyways Fox got them and next thing they were off.

When they arrived they all felt very ill and the reason was they didn't read the small print. Bullock was at the next island over and as they looked forward they found Sandra Bernhard who you may remember from "Rosanne," "Cheech & Chong's Nice Dreams," "Muppets Take Manhattan," and "Wrongfully Accused," standing there buck naked. Most people threw up and a couple others took their chance in the shark infested waters with pirates sailing in front of them.

After several hours of throwing up they complained to Fox and Fox, being the great station it is gave them a chance out. They had to pass a test that was being administered to them by John Madden. But once again it's Fox and there was a CRAZY twist involved. During the test Andrew WK's music was being played the whole time and there was a bar in the room.

Needless to say no one passed the test. Everyone just filled in the rows with As as they bopped their heads to the beat. Well, turns out everyone who took that test died of alcohol poisoning and Sandra died when a coconut hit her on the head. What a CRAZY reality TV show that will be.

Which reminds me, do magic kids play pogs? Seriously it seems to me that these games would go together. Both are made of cardboard and have pictures on it. Plus who doesn't like a good old slammer? Heck, they should even be advertised together. A great time would be during "Joe Millionaire!" You know every goth and pigger east of the Mississippi would see the commercial. Sir Claudio Darkicus and Tim Allen could be the people selling it. Ahh, I don't know, sorry to everyone who wasted their time reading this article.

Clip Art Tournament Results - Week One

Beer (83) over Kirk Cameron (14) - Beer destroyed the humor page staff this weekend and went after Kirk Cameron afterwards. Dennis Haskins (74) over "Mad Dad" Tannen (68) - "Mad Dog" lost his temper and shot Zack Morris, A.C. Slater and Miss Bliss. Shortly after he received a detention from Mr. Belding. Clucker (88) over Ralph Wiggim (47) - Huge blow out! As Ralph strategically picked him nose Mike "Clucker" McCusky tossed half a gallon of Straub over his head and choked him with Skoal Mint can. Kenny Loggins (66) over the Olsen Twins (53) - While debuting in this first lesbian porno, Kenny Loggins softly played "Nobody's Fool" and while they were asleep, he defeated them. Don Knots (72) over The Bearenstein Bears (67) - No one is sure how Donnie came up on top.

Pacific Ocean (79) over Slash (74) - While doing a 15 minute long guitar solo for "Sweet Child O' Mine" the Pacific Oceans drowned Slash and Slash wailed power chords to "Welcome to the Jungle" and then he drank some of the Pacific Ocean and died.

Jon Benet Ramsey (93) over Parrot Playing Guitar (42) - Jon Benet mesmerized the parrot, and while the parrot was daydreaming, Jon Benet killed it. Brian Dennehey (94) over Angela Lansbury (93) - Biggest upset of the tourney! They are both old and both had sex; one of them had to give. Brian Dennehey also was in jail a few times.

Gilbert Gottfried (102) over Mrs. Doubtfire (25) - Complete blow out. They had sex too. Kevin Bacon (213) over Richard Dean Anderson (149) - Battle of the titans! As McGyver was making a bomb out of a pair of sunglasses, tanning oil and a stapler, Kevin Bacon shouted, "Let's Daaaaaaanncceee!" Needless to say, Anderson's hand slipped and he blew himself up. Alternate 1985 (82) over Rollie Fingers (77) - As Rollie was pitching one of his fastballs to Biff Tannen, Alternate 1985 showed up (where Biff Tannen is corrupt and powerful) and Biff hit it right up Rollie's nose and he died of a bloody nose. Urkel (34) over the Wayans Bros. (12) - A moment of silence please. Eric Roberts (45) over an EcoMug (25) - This is a real surprise!

Artman (89) over Paul Hogan (67) - In a dramatic change of events, Artman's friend, Brian Giles, came to his aid when Paul Hogan attempted to slit Artman's alligator-like throat. Then Paul Hogan died of old age in a bed full of sluts.

Apple Dumpling Gang (73) over Joel Goddard (59) - Who cares? Soda Popinski (102) over Barry Bostwick (52) - Soda won with a T.K.O. when Bostwick was drinking a Pepsi Twist.

Chris Farley dressed as a girl (64) over T.A.T. (57) - I still love you Tiffany. Tom Selleck (84) over Macaulay Caulkin (2) - Serves the little bastard right. I don't think anyone with a straight face can say they like that kid.

Brandon Call (65) over Conan O'Brien (63) - Huge upset. Give it up for the Lamberts! Nick Nolte (58) over Apollo Creed (39) - Anyone who bet against this obviously doesn't know Nick Nolte and his bad-ass reputation. Cooter (45) over Capt'n America (32) - As many males already know, Cooter ALWAYS wins, especially when its either Cooter or your friends.

Paul Reiser (69) over Steve Martin (0) - Steve Martin sucks. I think the EcoMug could have beaten him! M.C. Hammer (45) over Mt. Vesuvius (44) - I hate "Hammer."

Norm McDonald (101) over Bruce Coville (137,292) - Duh?

Styx (58) over "Mad Dawg" (39) - Styx went Mr. Roboto on his ass and "Mad Dawg" vanished faster than Styx's career. The Jolly Roger (85) over Antonio Fargas (81) - Poor Huggybear @

Patrick Duffy (103) over "Sweet" Lou Whitaker (83) - Whitaker had potential to go far but Duffy is an unstoppable force. Elian Gonzalez's Mom (75) over Moses (71) - Go Go Gonzalez!

Rat King (106) over Steve Buscemi (105) - This went into overtime and the Rat King used his "Rat Eye" to dazzle and confuse Buscemi.

Lightning with Cap (2) over Chicken Little (1) - Man, they both suck!

Best after Week #1

GOD FEARS SATAN MAY WIN MEDIA MARKET 'AMERICAN IDOL'

Adam Kinder

Let's face it, America, being God today isn't an easy task. When the Supreme Being isn't busy trying to keep George W. Hush from prematurely starting Armageddon, he's trying to keep Satan and his environmentalist task force from burning more vehicles. As if his daily tasks needed anymore complexity, Satan throws yet another curveball into play with the popularity contest straight from hell, "American Idol."

Thought up by the suits at Fox Interactive, whose stock is coincidentally controlled by the Prince of Darkness, "American Idol" was reportedly a last ditch effort by Lucifer to regain his fair share on the media market.

"Warping the public's mind today is a much bigger task than it was back in my day," says The Great Deceiver. "I was losing ratings all across the boards. I guess my arch demon was right when he told me Joe Millionaire just wasn't that great of an idea."

Satan was quick to point out that while

"American Idol" seems to be an underhanded stab at The Creator's anti-Idol commandment, his actually intentions are purely for evil's sake.

"I mean, don't get me wrong, God and I always have been on tense terms. If you think this whole Iraq standoff is tense, you haven't seen anything. My intentions for 'American Idol' were purely to depress the common teenage crowd, so that they'll be more easily controlled," said a rather smug Satan earlier today.

God, on the other hand, sees the situation in a more holy light.

"He's always tried to outdo me, even when we roomed together in heaven," commented God. "I made a pretty good splash with 'Seventh Heaven' and my evangelist networks, and naturally Satan felt he needed to get his foot back in the market, so he launched all this 'reality' TV crap."

When asked his opinions on Satan's newest weapon, "American Idol", God attempted to play down the apparent American love affair with the show.

"You know how these people are nowadays, they love to stare at themselves in the mirror and wish they were perfect. [Satan] is playing off that perfectly with 'American Idol'. He's gathering up the most saleable faces and trying to keep everyone in dreamland while he does his usual, lie, cheat, and steal."

While God declined to comment on his own future plans for the media market, he did give his thoughts regarding Satan's apparent hold on the market.

"It's no doubt that I fear he may win control of the American media market. However, God always prevails, and if he keeps recruiting complete idiots such as Simon Cowell, he will essentially be laughed out of the market. I mean, American viewers aren't that mindless, right?"

Satan was unavailable for further comment at this time, however his press department quickly stated that the Devil was in no way affiliated with Simon Cowell.

The current semi-finalists stop for a quick picture before meeting with "The Prince of Lies."

DANA

CENSORED

This is not an attempt to glorify alcohol, it is merely a depiction of some of the possible outcomes, all negative, in the use and the abuse of alcohol. The humor page urges you to not partake in excessive alcohol consumption and just because it is on the humor page does not make it funny. Alcoholism is a terrible disease and if you know of a situation that shows the poor outcomes of alcoholism, email them to BehrendBeacon@hotmail.com
