Through the looking glass

by Mike Pingree, KRT Campus

THIS BELONG TO YOU, BUDDY?

A man robbed a gas station in Canonsburg, Pa., and left his cell phone behind. It didn't take long for the police to catch him.

BUT WE HAVE YOUR FINGERPRINTS

After having a few drinks, a 41-year-old man in Yokohama, Japan, grabbed the buttocks of a woman who bent over to get a soda out of a vending machine.

She called police who rushed in and arrested him. He says he does not remember doing it.

OK, THEN, DOWN WITH AGRICULTURE, TOO

A man decided to chain himself to a branch office of the U.S. Department of Energy in Olympia, Wash., to protest the U.S.-led war on Iraq. He padlocked one end of a chain to a door handle and the locked the other end around his neck before discovering he was at the wrong building. Workers informed him that he was chained to the Washington State Grange, which promotes the interests of farmers.
