

WEEKLY WEATHER FORECAST

SATURDAY

HIGH: 28 LOW: 18

A chance of snow or flurries
Wind: E/NE at 17 mph

SUNDAY

HIGH: 21 LOW: 12

Very cold with intervals of cloud and sun
Wind: N at 9 mph

MONDAY

HIGH: 19 LOW: 9

Few snow showers
Wind: W/SW at 9 mph

TUESDAY

HIGH: 27 LOW: 18

Scattered snow showers, possible rain showers
Wind: W/SW at 11 mph

WEDNESDAY

HIGH: 18 LOW: 7

Mostly cloudy throughout the day
Wind: S/SW at 8 mph

THURSDAY

HIGH: 21 LOW: 29

Few snow showers
Wind: S at 9 mph

FRIDAY

HIGH: 26 LOW: 20

Mostly cloudy throughout the day
Wind: S/SW at 12 mph

PENN STATE NEWS

courtesy of the Penn State NewsWire Service for the week of Jan. 19, 2004

Bryce Jordan Center offers discounted tickets to students

With the help of funds from the University Park Allocation Committee (UPAC), substantial discounts are being offered exclusively for Penn State students for three upcoming shows at The Bryce Jordan Center: Tracy Morgan on Jan. 31; WWE Raw on Feb. 2; and Toby Keith on Feb. 14.

'Mad cow' scare could cost Pennsylvania millions

The recent finding of a single cow with "mad cow disease" on a dairy farm in the state of Washington could cost Pennsylvania livestock producers many millions of dollars this year, according to Penn State College of Agricultural Sciences experts. "If we take everything into account -- beef byproducts, beef steers, beef feeder cattle and culled dairy cattle," says Bill Henning, professor of dairy and animal science and a meats specialist, "the cost to Pennsylvania beef and dairy producers could be enormous, potentially as high as $75 million." Lou Moore, professor of agricultural economics, agrees with Henning's estimate, but says he is hopeful that the furor over the disease in the United States soon dissipates and prices recover.

Mazzante breaks Big Ten women's basketball career scoring record

Kelly Mazzante scored 24 points in No. 8/8 Penn State's 79-64 win over Illinois on Sun. in the process breaking the Big Ten conference women's basketball all-time career scoring record. The game was a record-setter in several ways, highlighted by Mazzante, who broke the scoring mark of 2,578, previously held by Ohio State's Katie Smith. The two-time Kodak All-American and Wade Trophy candidate finished the game with 2,594 career points, leaving her just 20 shy of passing the men's conference mark of 2,613, set by Indiana's Calbert Cheaney.

CLASSIFIED

"Rudeness is the weak man's imitation of strength." - Eric Hoffer

Janet Neff Sample Center for Manners & Civility

FOCAL POINTS

PHOTOS BY DAN STASIEWSKI/BEHREND BEACON

Scott Poeppel, ME BD 02, right, shows his competitors Alex Henderson, POLSC 04, and Leann Partomioli, BIOBD 04, what they're up against at the Jan. 16 Jeopardy Challenge.

Jake Blazer, left, and Eric Penrod of 2 Skinny Dorks perform an acoustic set Saturday in Bruno's. The Lion Entertainment Board sponsored the event.

PHOTO BY LAUREN PACKER/BEHREND BEACON

Who needs to pay high prices at local ski resorts when you live on a camou that is one giant hill? These two students took advantage of the hill between Niagara Hall and Lilley Library on Saturday.

PHOTO BY SCOTT SOLTIS/BEHREND BEACON

Wesley Lawrence Taylor, left, portrays Malcolm X as Michael Green portrays Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. during Monday's presentation of "The Meeting" in the McGarvey Commons.