Mark Your Calendars

On Feb. 14th, love sucks! The Lion Entertainment Board is bringing two hardcore bands to play a show in Bruno's Cafe at 8 p.m. The first of the two bands is Throne. A three-person band out of Haddam, Conn., its music style is hard rock. Throne may be familiar to Behrend students because the band opened for "The Starting Line" at the Battle of the Bands last spring. Throne has played with several popular bands at shows, including Blink 182, Creed, Good Charlotte and many more. Playing alongside Throne is Anne Gohra, a hardcore band from Meadville. Anne Gohra has played across much of western Pennsylvania. Both bands will be playing an hour-long set in Bruno's Cafe.

A Closer Look

At the Lilley Library, students can rent new and old release movies, as well as Educational films for free. The Lilley Library offers students of Penn State Behrend the ability to rent movies with your ID card. In addition to being free, students are also able to rent movies from other campuses. The library stores its video materials in order of call number.
