Penn State Behrend is implementing a storm water management plan to deal with water overflow during storms. The plan has been set into motion because of new federal rules and regulations. Behrend operates a "regulated small municipal separate sewer system" which, under the new laws, is required to have a storm water management program. Dr. Thomas Wortman, special projects assistant to the dean, said the plan will coincide with current activities by the Greener Behrend Task Force. A public meeting concerning the plan will be held Wednesday, 11 a.m. in Reed 117.

Additional information will be posted at <http://greencampus.psu.edu>.

GREENER BEHREND TASK FORCE

A Closer Look

On Feb. 12, six resident assistants dressed up in rented wedding gowns for the Bridal Tea. The six were escorted by six male RAs and took part in a fashion show at the Smith Chapel. David's Bridal donated the wedding gowns and tuxedos for the evening.
