BEHREND BRIEFS

College students needed to work with children with disabilities

Summers at the Woodlands are full of song, competition and challenge. The Woodlands needs an amazing summer staff to keep up with the challenges and responsibilities of working with children and adults with disability and chronic illness. Summer positions provide great opportunity for students who want to make a difference in the lives of the individuals who attend summer camp in the Woodlands. Openings are available for program coordinators in music, arts and crafts, and nutrition as well as camp counselors and unit coordinators. These positions provide excellent experience for students in recreational therapy, health care, social services and education fields. Woodlands staff receive competitive wages, paid training, room and board, and scheduled time off. Summer positions often lead into fall and winter weekend work. Students interested in any of the open positions, or for more information about the Woodlands, please contact Dawn Zdinak at (724) 935-5470 or visit the Woodlands' Web site at www.woodlandsfoundation.com.

CORRECTIONS

In last week's story "Little Shop of Horrors cast reflects on show," Dr. Christine Mangone was quoted as saying, "All actors and actresses performed well, no lines were forgotten or pitches dropped. The dances were mesmerizing - especially the swaying of Dr. Champagne's hips." This was not a direct quote from Dr. Mangone and was the result of an error during editing of the story.

The story "Public relations class to host voting drive in Bruno's" was written by Kristen Schrum.
