The Niedenberger and Kelecseny: '60s Music Edition

- ACROSS
- the Mamas and the Papas had us "dreaming" of this state
  - they built us a "Stairway to Heaven"
  - 8 Across sang a song about a Fortunate _____
  - abbreviation for the band that caused "Comimotion" while they were "Down on the Corner"
  - _____ Morrison; no relation to Jim
  - The _____, as a shortened nickname, helped spearhead the British Invasion in the early 1960s and were also leaders of the British R&B boom of the 1960s
  - Lynyrd Skynyrd thought people didn't need this "Southern Man" around
  - he was first billed as the "Hillbilly Cat" and later attained royalty status in the music world.
  - he was the spokesperson for the counterculture of the 60s
  - she was a folksinger with close ties to 15 Across
  - first known as The Hawks, this band was recruited for the world tour of 15 Across
  - nicknamed "The Big-O," Roy _____'s most famous song is associated with a Julia Roberts film
  - Simon and Garfunkel seemingly sing about Erie as they classify the sky as a "Hazy Shade of _____"
  - Scott _____, formerly of the Mamas and the Papas, told us to "Be sure to wear flowers in our hair" when traveling to "San Francisco"
- DOWN
- a British musician who has converted is Islam and is now known as Yusuf Islam
  - _____ Franklin; Lady Soul who deserves a little "Respect"
  - The _____ were the most successful African-American musical act of the 1960s.
  - Harry _____ had "Everybody Talkin'"
  - The _____ were fronted by the infamous "Lizard King" and sang about "Strange Days" and "The Back Door Man"
  - bridged the musical gap between 15 Down and 15 Across and had people "Feel a Whole Lot Better" and "Turn Turn Turn!"
  - this band rode the "Magic Bus" to the top of the charts and had the first commercially successful rock opera by any artist
  - the name of this best-selling band of the 20th century is a compliment to Buddy Holly's back-up band and the rhythm of music
  - wore white pants and candy-striped button-down shirts as their touring uniforms as they were "Surfin the USA"
  - she was breaking Simon and Garfunkel's hearts
  - this Beatle transformed from a loveable mop-top to an anti-war activist, becoming friends with Jerry Rubin and Abbie Hoffman and was threatened to be deported from the United States
  - Janis Joplin sang that "feeling good was good enough for" her and this man
  - 10 Down were "_____ Miles High"
  - "All Day and All of the Night" this band "Really Got Me"
