HUMOR

Top five of the week... By Brad Kovalcik

staff writer

Everyone knows that as soon as the turkey is pulled out of the oven, your relatives are all going to ask you what you've been doing in college. Instead of giving the same stereotypical boring answer, try throwing one of these out to your loved ones. That is why I have come up with the...

Top 5 Things To Tell Your Family Over Thanksgiving Dinner That You've Been Doing While You Were At College.

5. "Do you think you could loan me some money? The girls at Partner's only pay attention to me when I give them fives."

4. "I met these really cool people, we all have the same sneakers and pretty soon we're all going to have matching jogging suits. They told me we're all going on a trip soon, so I'm pretexcited for that."

3. "I looked into the Women's Studies Major, but it's much less about anatomy than I thought it would be.

2. "They started taking LionCash at the beer distributor, so I just eat Ramen noodles and spend it there." 1. "I chugged a gallon of milk in an hour."

wanted needed

By Michelle Moore contributing writer

Are you looking for a rewarding career? Would you like to wake up everyday knowing that you save lives? Are flexible hours and great benefits important to you? If you answered yes to any of the questions above, then perhaps a career in personal care would be a great choice for you!

Applications are now being accepted to fill the position of watching a 22-year-old intoxicated female. Duties include the following:

Taking the initiative to take my cell phone and other communication devices away from me while it is apparent that I am close to intoxication (this includes computers with internet access); make sure that I always have a safe and sober ride home; prohibit me from waking up in the bushes next to the sand volleyball courts with an empty case of Natty Light on my head.

Also, explain why going to the bar every day of the week is not a good idea in terms I can understand, such as using the word "dude" in every sentence; be sure that I do not hit on married men with children and think it's ok because they are a "challenge" and I'm "bad to the bone"; robbery and vandalism are never a good idea; keep me from allowing people to think that my man voice is anything less than real; remind me that making out with inanimate objects, although sometimes a big thrill, should not be an option (this includes pumpkins).

Lastly, never and I repeat, NEVER tell me that I am cut off. No experience needed, willing to train. Please apply in person between happy hour and 2

turkey tale

By Ben Raymond humor editor

Thanksgiving is a special time of year. It is a time to return home, spend time with your family and friends, and be thankful for all of the positive things in your life. But no matter how well a family get together is planned, having that many relatives in one place at the same time can be dangerous. So this is a "madlibs" style Thanksgiving story. Fill this out and compare it to what actually happens. Hopefully, your holiday will go much better.

So grab a sheet of paper before you read the story. Then make a list of all of words to correspond with the appropriate words in the box. Then just fill them in as you read the story and enjoy the hilarity.

NOUN, RESIDENCE HALL, NAME, ADJECTIVE, NOUN, VERB, VERB, NOUN. NUMBER, EMOTION, PER-SON. VERB, COLOR, BODY PART, VERB, PIECE OF FURNITURE, VERB, THING, VERB, THING, RELATIVE, VERB, FOOD, SPORT, FOOD, VERB, THING, NOUN, NOUN, NOUN, VERB, NOUN

I skipped my	_ 302 class on Tuesday, so I could head home	early. When I got back to, I saw the	hat my roommate
, was gone and	d had left a(an) pile of dle of the room.
I got everything pac	ked up and
(ed) in my car.	I tossed in a cd
from my favorite band, The	(ing)
S
Finally, afer a hour	r drive I made it home. When I got to the	he door I was when I saw (ed) me until I was the
I sat my bags down then I spent all	on the
. I spent all	of Wednesday
(ing) on my was the greatest Thursday morning I was w	oken up by the smell of It remine
was a child me	e
When I came downstairs and	all of my uncles were watching the	game on tv. I went to the kitchen to try and	sneak a bite of
, but my mom
hand.
Things were going well until	the caught on fire, my sister	r dropped the
and the dog	got into the
Just when I thou	ght all hope was lost, Grandma reached into the _	and pulled out a giant
There was only so much of th	is that I could take. So I 1 . D 1 . 1 . 1

and headed back to Behrend. I think maybe I will just stay here for winter break.

Behrend boxers

By Liz Cybulski staff writer

When people are eating something and say "Ew, this tastes bad....Try it." Why yes, I want to try something that you just said tasted gross. I'm a sadist.

People who use the phrase "I seen it", "I seen you" etc. I'm going to start making people pay me a quarter every time they say that. Maybe when they're broke they'll finally turn to correct English.

Who ever thought it was a smart idea to stick more than two girls in one living area (like the Suites and Apartments) had to have been a guy. I'll let you in on a little secret; it doesn't turn into an Animal House pillow fight scene.

An ESPN headline on Tuesday was "Bobby Knight Pushes Player's Chin.

Apparently, Mr. Knight was upset with one of his players during a time out and wanted to make sure the player looked him in the eyes. Are we supposed to be shocked? This is the man who made shot-putting chairs across a basketball court an art form.

Two fraternity brothers are suing the film makers of the movie "Borat." The two gentlemen state that they were "duped" into drinking, signing a release form, and being filmed on camera saying sexist and racist comments, which they wouldn't have said otherwise. I hence forth give these frat boys new nicknames; one shall be "Liar, Liar Pants on Fire" and the other "Hi, MyArgument Sucks More than a Hoover."

Is it necessary for McDonalds to have two lanes for drive-thru? Most fast food chains want to cut down on making mistakes on driv-thru orders. Nope, not McDonalds. They want to buck the system by turning a driv-thru into a two lane highway of fast food!

The up and coming Speaker of the House, for the very first time in U.S. history, will be a woman. The "Speaker of the House" in my home growing up was a woman, too. I always knew by that one little phrase, "Go ask your mother."

Don't you love how easy it is to figure out how much tax you're going to pay when you checkout at Dollar General? With the equation only being multiply the number of items you have times seven equals the change, even us Humanities majors can do it.

O.J. Simpson has written a book titled, "If I Did It, Here's How it Happened." I've written a book entitled "When I'm Innocent I Lead Cops in a Car Chase That Lasts Hours Long, Too."

My mother is an elementary school teacher in Pittsburgh. She sent me an email telling me this true story: Last month on Friday the 13th, a little girl told my mother that a fifth grade boy said the teachers were going to lock all the kids in the gym. After the teachers turned off all the lights in the gym, Freddie Krueger was going to come after them all. Honestly, I want to shake this kids hand. That story is friggen brilliant! And you know...if teachers actually threatened to do this, I bet we would n't have discipline problems.

Lloyd: "So you had your heart broken by some young philly?" Harry: "No, It was a girl." - Dumb and Dumber

Had your heart broken lately? Send me your sob stories. baraymond03@yahoo.com

Mike Sharkey/ THE BEHREND BEACON

Nintendo Wii graphics are getting a little too realistic. Students are advised to stay in their dorm rooms.

entertainment purposes only.