In the community: A section examining how Behrend students are making a difference in their community

Reality Check to build homes with Habitat for Humanity in November

MIKE O. WEHRER
news editor

On Nov. 14, Reality Check will be doing a Habitat for Humanity build in Union City, PA.

Volunteering for community service is a common passion for many Behrend students, and Habitat for Humanity provides an outlet for this passion.

"I did a couple of habitats before," said Ellie Repkova, a 7th semester international business and finance student who is heading the Nov. 14 build. "and actually, we worked on the house that we'll be working on in November. We worked on the foundations in the spring and now the house is standing, so I guess we'll be working on the walls next."

"I think there's at least one build per month," continued Repkova, "basically, any student organization that wants to do a build with Habitat can sign up for one with Cynara Stubbs, who coordinates these kind of service projects."

"This upcoming build is being sponsored by reality check," said Repkova, "but I know a lot of the time, Greek organizations will sponsor a build."

"They organized two builds already this year, but no one really showed up for them," said Repkova. "I think it was because they weren't really well advertised. I'm actually in kind of a weird situation because I have more people who want to go than we have space to take them. We can take 12 people, and about 14 sign up, which is good if people who signed up can't make it."

Delta Chi is doing their monthly collection for the Messiah Lutheran Church.

This month, the church has asked for donations of Instant Oatmeal to gather and deliver before the end of the third week to be blessed in church.

Last month, Delta Chi gathered shampoo and collected over 30 bottles for the church. They showed their appreciation for our efforts by recognizing us in their weekly newsletter and thanking us for accommodating their requests.

Delta Chi also will be involved in the Belle Valley Fire Department's haunted house which takes place at 1514 Norcross Road every Friday and Saturday of October beginning at 7:30. Admission is just $5 and all proceeds benefit Belle Valley Fire Department.

Delta Chi will be volunteering for the 30th of October to support the BVFD in their efforts to scare unsuspecting patrons.
