TGIF!

A new year for new cadets

LIBBY PASCUZZI
Penn State Behrend
Company Executive Officer

Fall semester offers an exciting start for Army ROTC on campus. The number of new cadets enrolled in Army ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corp) at Behrend outnumbers the amount of cadets in the sophomore, junior, and senior classes combined.

Personally, this boost in enrollment is overwhelmingly exciting to me. As the Company Executive Officer at Penn State, I am thrilled to see so many new faces in the program. Whether these students are taking this course for the leadership experience or plan on making a career in the Army, I am excited to get to know each and every one of them and watch them grow.

During the weekend, senior cadets met and ate lunch with new cadets Matthew Blair, Jared Smith, and Evan Kardosh. Blair and Schwab have been awarded four year scholarships through the Army ROTC program.

The first day of physical training (PT) for the semester was held on Sept. 25 at 0800 at the gymnasium. Any students are interested in attending PT sessions for a good workout without any commitment should join the program.

Along with the start of PT, cadets have had the chance to participate in other events since the start of semester. The Vietnam Traveling Wall came to Erie this past weekend and was raised at Family First Sports Park off of upper Peach Street. On Saturday, a group of cadets went rock climbing at McConnell's Mill State Park.

Upcoming events for cadets consist of the Annual Orientation picnic where the entire Pride of PA Battalion consisting of Behrend, Mercyhurst, and Gannon will meet for good food and camaraderie. Over the past few years, local National Guard units give have rolled onto campus in Striker vehicles and flown into the Behrend fields in Apache helicopters to cadets an up-close look at some of the military's most advanced transportation weapons systems used.

In Sept. and Oct., cadets will work as security guards at Pittsburgh Steeler's games in order to raise money for events later on in the semester.

What's up this week

In this week's meeting several senator's were selected as Co-Chair's for the various SGA committees. An application is now available to any student to serve as a Co-Chair for any of the standing Committees. We also talked about the progress of the convenience store project complete with a visual aid of the architects renderings.

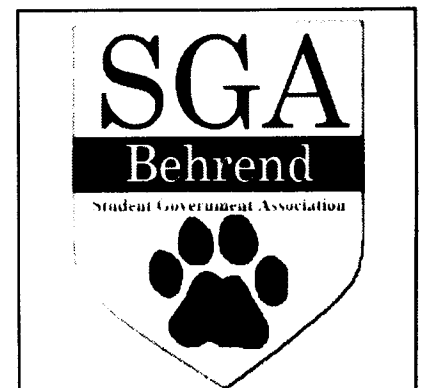

What we're working on:

The committees have been charged with creating a weekly meeting time and to come up with their initiatives for the year by next week's meeting. We are also preparing for club and organization training day, which is mandatory for all club Presidents and Treasurers to attend. The first President's roundtable will be held during training day, along with Treasury Training, Org-Sync Training, and Training on how to write an SGA Budget Proposal seminars

Important dates:

The first SGA Budget call dead line is September 10th, all proposals must be turned in by 5pm at the RUB Desk. The first SAF budget call is September 7th, all proposals must be turned in by 5pm in Student Affairs. Club and organization training day will be on September 11th at 10am in Burke Center (formerly known as REDC).
