

Behrend Beacon

CULTURE

Explore the world of Andy Warhol
PAGE 2

>>NEWS

Scrubs Club works with Habitat for Humanity
PAGE 4

New television studio in Kochel
PAGE 6

>>BUSINESS

Investing in the new decade
PAGE 7

>>OPINION

Scandals within Catholic church
PAGE 9

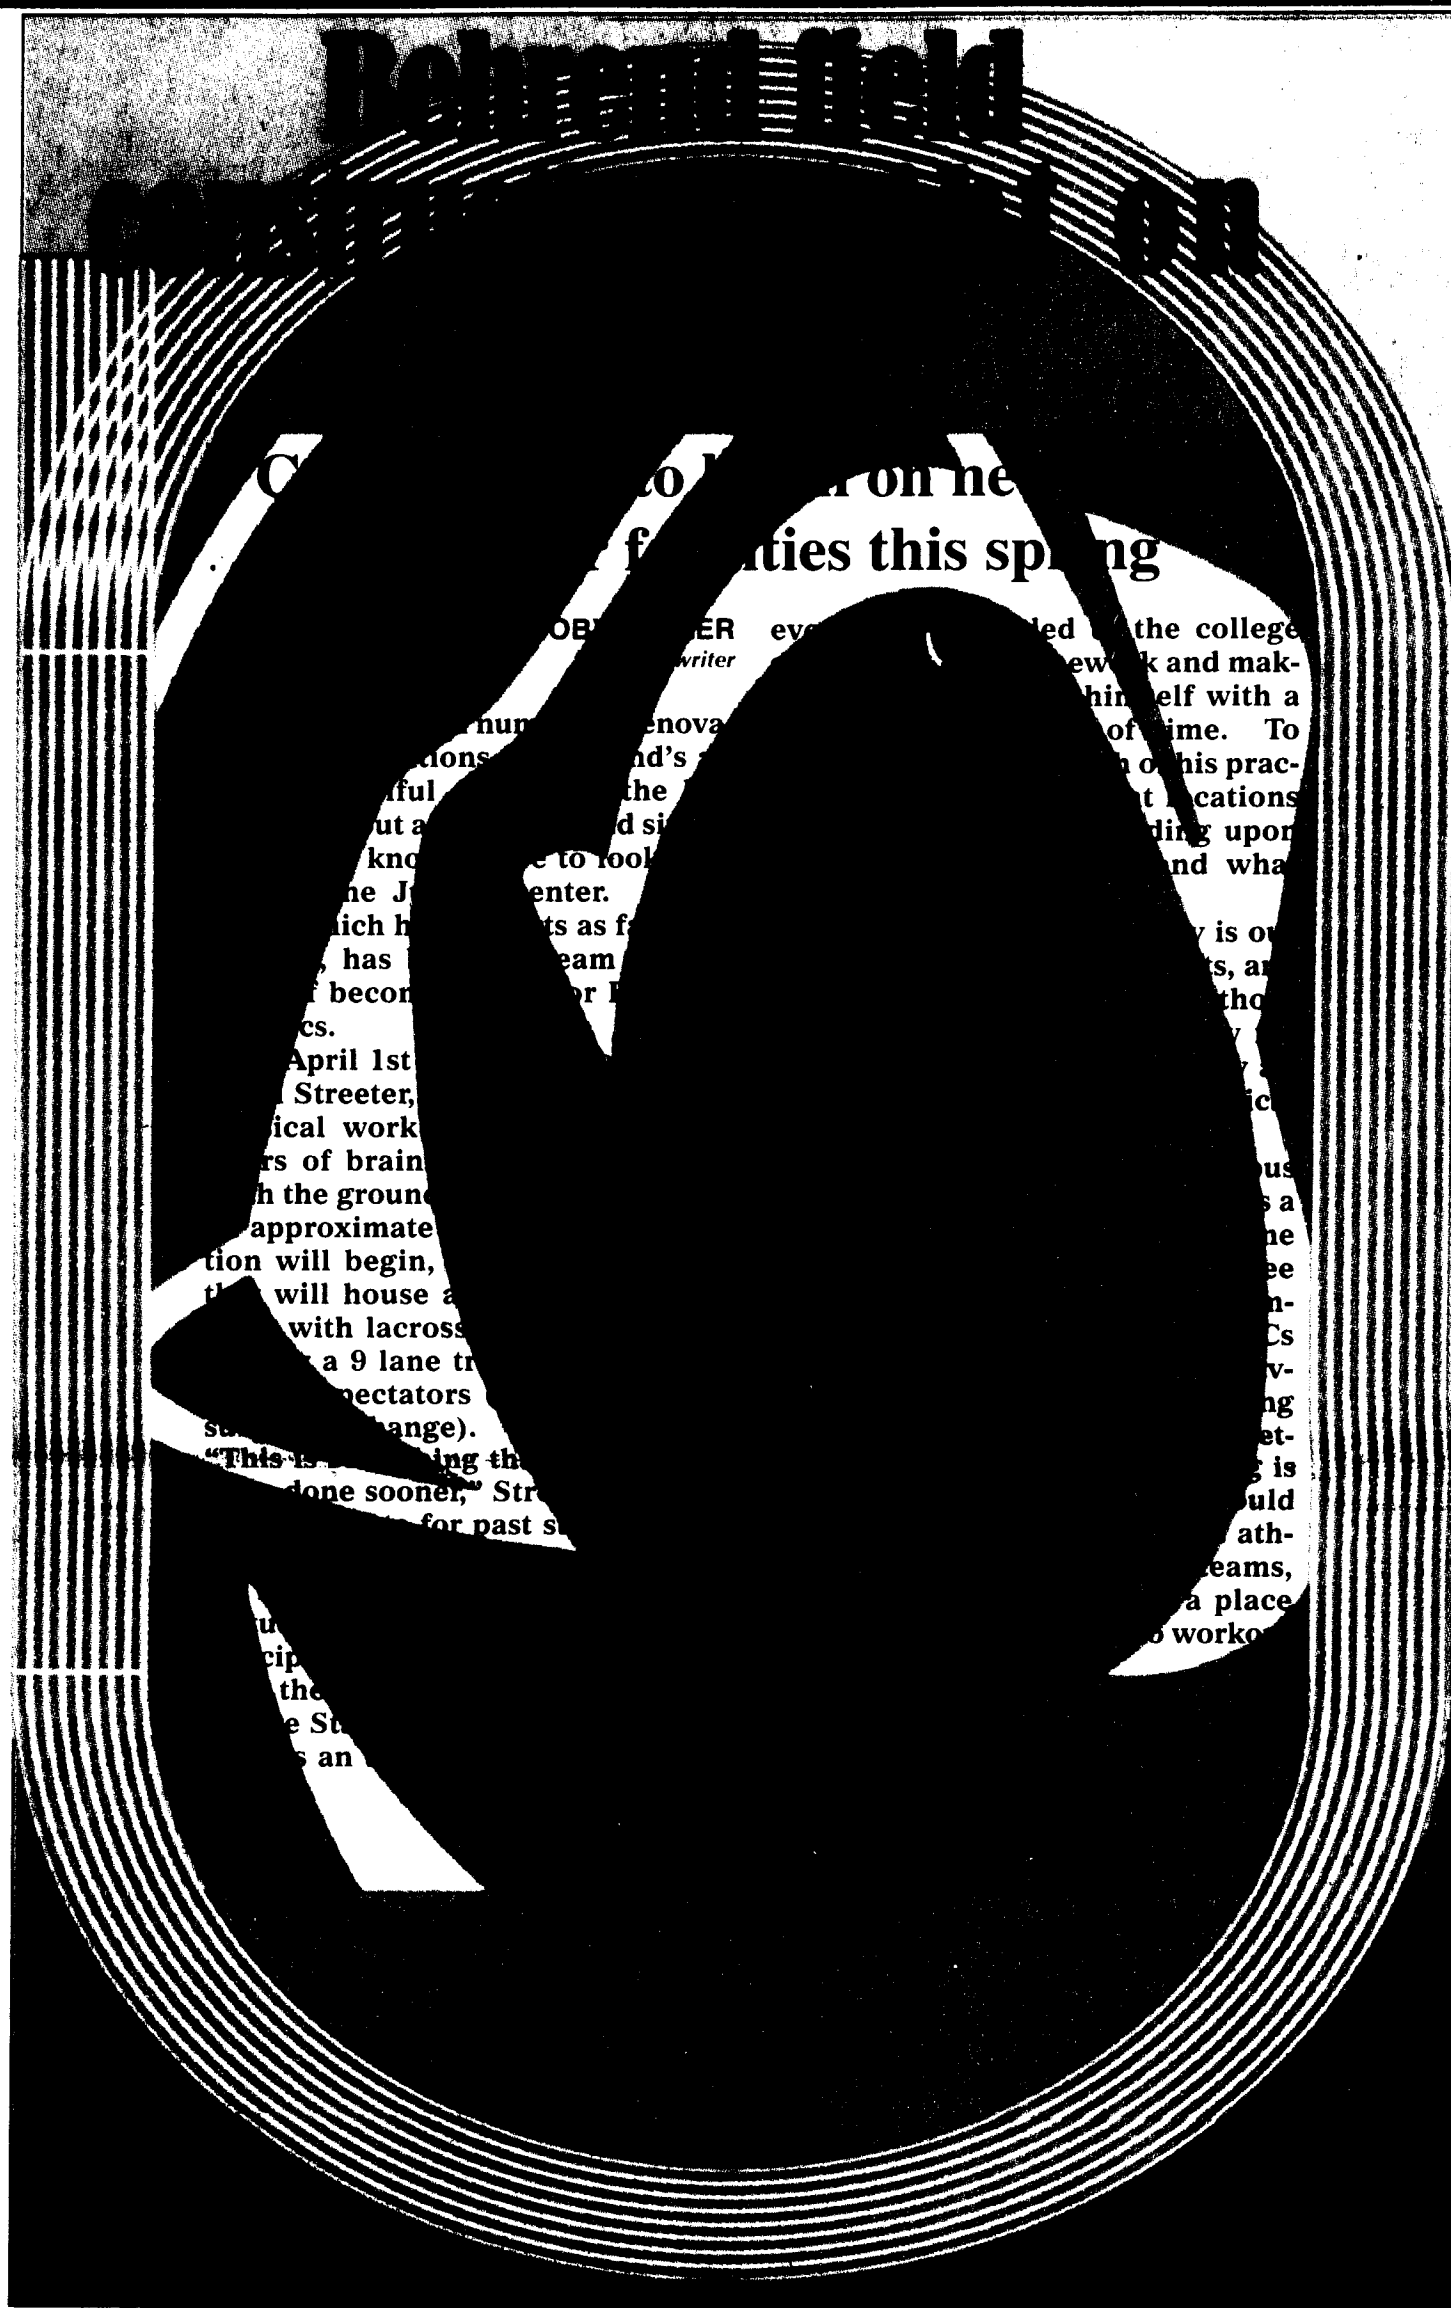

Bill Cowher gives a motivational lecture at Junker Center
PAGE 12

Weekend Weather

FRIDAY
Partly Cloudy
H 82 L 58

SATURDAY
AM Showers
H 58 L 48

SUNDAY
Partly Cloudy
H 59 L 54

Homecoming hype

Homecoming committee works toward white out week

KATIE DUFFY
news editor

As Homecoming Committee pursues the remaining details on their agenda, excitement amongst students continues to grow. Since it has been over 2 years since Behrend has hosted its own homecoming, the committee had a lot to accomplish, and the students have a lot to look forward to.

"Since the organization is so young, there was little hype about it at first," said Andy Iams, president of the committee. "We're trying to give the Behrend students who always complain of how little there is to do something great to stay the weekend for."

Many students have been made aware of the homecoming events through their clubs and organizations, who are each responsible for nominating one individual for homecoming court.

see HOMECOMING, page 3

Brunos gets new boss

CAROLYN ZAFFINO
staff writer

There may not be any noticeable changes to Bruno's right now, but behind the scenes there is a new manager that is working on slowly leaving her mark. Elizabeth Kearns was promoted from her catering job to Bruno's manager shortly before the semester began. So far she is very much enjoying the job. "This is more exciting because I'm right in the middle of campus and get to work with more students, plus I'm never bored!" Elizabeth stated about her new job.

So far she has started working on some small menu changes with the head chef, but there won't be anything drastic.

"It's not like I can get rid of the chicken wraps," Kearns joked, referring to the menu. Her main goal for Bruno's right now is to maintain the excellence that Mike Lindner put into place as manager. However, she has big plans for what will be put next to Bruno's outside. It is still in the design stage, but a convenience store will make its way onto campus. It will be located on the south side of the Reed Building right next to the outer wall of Bruno's.

See BRUNO'S, page 3

Kickoff concert for the kids

CONNOR SATTELY
The 2010 THON season will kick off with a benefit concert in Bruner Hall this week featuring students and local musicians. The Kickoff Concert for the Kids, which will start at 6:00 p.m. on October 1, will raise money for pediatric cancer research through Penn State's largest fundraising effort, THON.

The concert will be organized by the THON committee of Student Government, Assistant Student Government (S.G.A.) Jen Slane, co-chair, says that the event will be the largest of its kind in the history of THON.

THON is the largest fundraising effort for pediatric cancer research through Penn State's largest fundraising effort, THON.

in SGA, which is open to all students on campus. Slane says that THON is a great way to get involved in the community and that the event will be a great way to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

This type of event should be a great way to get involved in the community and that the event will be a great way to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

The event will draw a large crowd of students and faculty members. Slane says that the event will be a great way to get involved in the community and that the event will be a great way to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

the event through the THON committee and through the SGA. Slane says that the event will be a great way to get involved in the community and that the event will be a great way to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

The event will draw a large crowd of students and faculty members. Slane says that the event will be a great way to get involved in the community and that the event will be a great way to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

The committee is still looking for more interested bands and other groups to perform at the event. Slane says that the event will be a great way to get involved in the community and that the event will be a great way to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

