

Soccer team prepares for the big tournament this weekend with a scrimmage against Geneva College. Although the scrimmage saw the Cubs go down in defeat, the match heralded hopes for bigger and better things for the Behrend team.

Coach Herb Lauffer psyches his team up for the upcoming home opener. His efforts were to no avail as the Cubs went down to defeat in their first contest at the hands of the Golden Toronados of Geneva.

Behrend Campus will host its second annual invitational soccer tournament this weekend, October 1 and 2.

Invading the Cub's home field will be three rugged opponents who promise to pose a stiff challenge to Behrend's hopes of a second straight tournament crown. The Cubs won the affair last year with a 3-1 victory over Altoona Campus.

In the first match, at 1:30 Friday afternoon, a scrappy Slippery Rock J.V. team clashes with tough Erie County College of Buffalo, New York. The Rockets were 3-5-2 last season, while the Erie County team compiled a 5-5 record.

Our own Behrend Cubs meet Lakeland College in the 3:30 nightcap. This is the third all-time meeting between these two soccer powers with Behrend holding a 2-0 edge. Lakeland had a deceiving 1-10-1 record in 1970 against powerful opposition, including nationally ranked teams.

The consolation game will start at 12 noon on Saturday while the big championship game begins at 2:00.

The outlook for this year's Behrend team is very bright with a host of returning lettermen from last year's 5-5 squad and a group of sensational freshmen prospects.

The talented Cubs are led by sophomore captain Jim Channis. Channis comes off a fine freshman season which saw him score 12 goals while assisting in four others. He garnered an honorable mention on the NJCAA Region 19 all-star soccer team. Other returning starters include dependable goalkeeper Ed Moore, Mike Joyce, Mike Marsh, Pen Hallowell and Robert Jeffrey. Other sophomores expected to see plenty of action are Chris and Paul Moore, Warren Laio, Bob Cain, Bob Skwaryk and back-up goalie Doug Ebert.

Coach Herb Lauffer welcomes an excellent crop of freshmen this year including sensational all-around athlete Roger Nolan from Pittsburgh. The strong and speedy Nolan was also a baseball and basketball star in the Steel City. Bill Hildenbrand, John Hoge, Charles Rainey, and Dave Aloiz round out the great freshmen brigade.

The tentative starting lineup for today's match includes Joyce at right fullback, Marsh at center fullback, Aloiz at left fullback, Hallowell at right half, Nolan at center halfback, and Rainey at left half. Jeffrey and Hildenbrand will start at the right and left wings respectively. Hoge will be at right inside and Moore at goalie.

Coach Lauffer appeared confident in stating that Our team will be much improved over last season's, and the caliber of play in this tourney will be much improved over last year. It will not be an easy tournament. However, if we get, winning the tournament will definitely be in our grasp. We have the talent and we have the experience. Now we need the support."

Herb Lauffer is a hell of a coach and one hell of a man.

The Behrend soccer coach, now in his third season at Behrend, being the classiest coach on this campus, he sets his own style: white shoes, expensive looking suits and a sharp announcer-type voice. His air of professionalism seems to spread to everyone who comes in contact with him.

His players respect him because they know he will mold them into true athletes. The players want to win and they gladly accept his two-a-day workouts because they want to be in top physical condition for the big tourney this weekend. Practice starts at 7:15 a.m.

But Lauffer realizes that there are more important things than winning. That's why he entered the coaching field. "I always got more out of athletics than just the business of winning or losing. The opportunity to work with young people, and to work with athletes and try to develop them and to mold them into a cohesive team was something I knew would be enjoyable for me."

Lauffer is a graduate of Slippery Rock where he played four years of soccer and two years of tennis.

Upon graduation, Coach Lauffer took a position at Iroquois High School in Lawrence Park where he coached tennis, track and junior high basketball. Summers he worked towards his Master's Degree at West Virginia University, earning it in 1968.

After five years at Iroquois, Coach Lauffer looked for a college job because he was "disenchanted with high school work". He found Behrend Campus to his liking.

When asked if Behrend could be termed a "stepping stone", the 29-year-old Butler native admitted, "I can't say I'm not looking. I came here with my sights set eventually on a small four-year institution. I am willing to give this campus a chance, however, I'm not going to move for the sake of moving."

To the question of whether today's trend is away from emphasizing athletics, Coach Lauffer replied, "I guess the trend is slightly away from it, but with that trend athletes are more important than they've ever been."

As to what a person gains participating in sports at any place but a major school, the Coach answered, "I think there's that self-satisfaction of realizing that you're dedicating yourself, you're sacrificing a great deal and you're not taking the easy way out. It's all apart of your self-discipline. Psychologically as well as physically, man needs competition. He has that instinctive nature to compete, to play, to organize some form of physical activity."

"A boy gives himself to our program and gets a lot from it in just this self-actualization type of thing where he actualizes himself as being the best. He may not go a hundred per cent on it, but he's trying to be the best at whatever he's doing."

Herb Lauffer understands athletes. Herb Lauffer spells success.
