

CWENS Holds Pumpkin Sale As Part of Fall Activities

If any freshmen noticed girls directing traffic and helping freshmen move in during Orientation Week, they may have wondered why. The girls are members of a group called CWENS, who make a habit of doing nice things.

CWENS is an honorary society for sophomore women. Members are tapped in the spring term of their freshman year. They must have at least a 2.5 average and must have contributed to the campus in some way.

Betty Seanor, Dean of Student Affairs, organized the Behrend chapter of CWENS about 3 years ago. Miss Sargent, Speech teacher, is this year's advisor. Officers this year are Bonnie Angevine, Pres., Chris Straub, Vice Pres., Natalie Guagliardi, Secretary, and Ann Chiera, Treasurer.

This year in Pittsburgh, the 50th annual convention of the CWENS will be held, with five CWENS from Behrend attending. This convention is held to promote a better understanding of what other chapters are doing and to exchange ideas.

Although the Behrend chapter is quite small with only about fifteen members, they are planning quite a few events for this year.

Again this year they will be selling pumpkins at Halloween. They will be conducting tours of the campus for local FTA groups, and plans for a computer dance are being discussed.

Also, the CWENS are proposing that signs be put up directing the way to Behrend, and they're trying to help Behrend make a name for itself. That's something we all should support so that Erie and the surrounding areas know we're here.

SUB Activities

The movie crime-thriller "They Came to Rob Las Vegas" will have two showings in the RUB Lecture Hall, Sunday, Oct. 20. Times for the movie are 7 and 9:15 p.m., with the prices set at 35 cents with and 50 cents without a student activity card.

The film stars Elke Sommer, Jack Palance, and Lee J. Cobb, and was filmed on location in Las Vegas and Almeria Spain.

Registration for the Pool and Ping Pong Tournament begins Wednesday, Oct. 25 at the RUB desk. Registration fees for the pool tournament are 75 cents with an activity card and $1.50 without. This tournament is a Regional College Union function and the winners will travel to Morgantown, West Virginia, Feb. 24 for the final competition. All persons wishing to enter must do so by Wednesday, Nov. 1.

Also included in the Student Union Board's activities this week will be a local coffee houses will be held at this time throughout the rest of the term.

Dispensary Opens Health Column

The campus dispensary is open to all students, this includes the commuter. Our daily hours are posted in the dorms and on the RUB bulletin boards. There is no charge to visit Dr. Gaughan, who comes twice a week, this term Mondays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. till 12 noon. There is a nominal charge for prescribed medication.

Via this column I will be glad to answer questions that would be of interest to all, so if you have a problem or question that can be helped by the nurse, bring them to the dispensary or send them to the newspaper office.

Colds and sore throats (U.R.I., upper respiratory infection) are the most common disease reported to the dispensary. The Physical Education staff has informed me that many students don't change in the locker rooms before an activity but come from the dorms in their P.E. clothes and then don't shower after their work-outs but again run up to the dorms to change in all kinds of weather. This could be a source of chilling the body and making it susceptible to infection, particularly the U.R.I.

Come and visit!
Mrs. K.

Behrend Acquires Additions To Faculty and Administration

NEW ADDITION TO ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Dr. James P. Runzo, the newest addition to the English Department, is not unfamiliar with Behrend Campus. Much has changed since his departure in 1963, but Dr. Runzo is happy to see that the intimacy and pastoral atmosphere that he remembers has remained.

Dr. Runzo was the Student Government Association President from 1962 to 1963. He was also the recipient of the Thomas H. Turnbull Award in '63, and a member of the Keystone Society.

He has taught at the University of Indiana as an associate instructor and at Canisius College in Buffalo as an assistant professor. He has co-written an independent study text entitled Critical and Historical Survey of English Literature From 1700 to Present.

Dr. Runzo feels he has a big commitment to the growth of Behrend Campus, physically and in the quality of education. He emphasizes the necessity to propagate the campus library to the point where it can effectively support the courses being offered here, and refers to the library as the "heart of the academic environment".

many plans for the chemistry program and perhaps establishing a Physical Chemistry lab. Commenting on his choice of Behrend for his teaching position, Dr. Leavers felt that the emphasis of teaching at a smaller campus is very important. With a smaller student body, student contact is improved, Dr. Leavers believes, and also the faculty can have better rapport which helps in developing the individual learning capacity of the faculty members.

EDUCATOR TO INVOLVE STUDENTS

Mr. Gary Mead is Behrend's Residence Hall Coordinator. He received his B.A. from the New York State University and his M.A. from Bowling Green State College in Ohio.

Mr. Mead describes his job, as related to the student, as three-fold. First he is a counselor; second, an advisor to the R.A. council; third, he is an educator.

As an educator, Mr. Mead hopes to involve students in educative activities they can participate in. Such activities would include goal orientation and motivation, workshops, seminars, and talking together. An example of the latter is the Listening Impact Series that is planned for interested freshmen.

"I think that this is a very interested student body," Mr. Mead stated. He sees the students in general as a group of adults wanting to make the most of college, and feels that this should be a very good school year.
