

SUB Activities Agenda

The Behrend Student Union Board's schedule of events for the upcoming week is filled with activities running the gamut of interests. A film classic, supernatural program, and mini-concert are featured at Behrend in the days to follow.

On Sunday, November 12, the movie classic "The Mouse That Roared" will have two showings at 7 and 9 p.m. in the RUB Lecture Hall. The film concerns the story of a tiny country which declares war on the United States, while expecting to lose the battle, and stars Peter Sellers, Jean Seberg, William Hartnell and David Kossoff.

The little group invades New York during an air raid alert, when the streets are deserted. Unaware that they are supposed to lose the war, they capture a scientist and his assistant and their newly invented, terrifying weapon. The complications that arise because of their mistake make for a delightful story. Prices for "The Mouse That Roared" are 35 cents with an activity card and a dollar without.

An exciting new program comes to Behrend on Wednesday, November 15. Ed and Lorraine Warren, investigators of the supernatural will bring background data, photos, slides and taped interviews of their documented case histories of hauntings and witchcraft to the RUB Lecture Hall.

The Warrens have devoted a lifetime to the study of psychic phenomenon. Lorraine is a clairvoyant and Ed a researcher and investigator of paranormal of psychiatrists, doctors, and activity. Together with the help of mediums they have documented over 300 cases of genuine hauntings, poltergeists activity, spirit possessions, astral projections, demonology and witchcraft.

The Warrens have had their own television talk show and have appeared as guests on numerous radio and television programs. Admission prices for this unique presentation are set at 75 cents with an activity card and $1.50 without.

Erie Hall will be the scene of a mini-concert on Saturday, November 18. The concert will feature "Gravel", one of the finest bands from the Pittsburgh area. Starting time for the show is 9 p.m. with prices set at $1.00 with an activity card and $1.50 without a card.

SUB Director, Bruce Zimmerman, has announced that the Friday night Coffeeshouse has been cancelled this week due to All-U-Day activities taking place this weekend at University Park. The weekly Coffeeshouse will resume next Friday night.

Local Group Offers Info

The Women's Liberation Group of Erie has copies of "The Birth Control Handbook" available free of charge at the office of Planned Parenthood, room 820 in the Baldwin Building, 10th and State, Erie.

The Handbook includes topics on human sexuality such as anatomy, conception, contraception, sterilization, abortion and venereal disease. The uses of oral contraceptives, intrauterine devices, condoms, the diaphragm, spermicides, rhythm and other methods are explained in detail.

Planned Parenthood seeks to provide leadership for the universal acceptance of family planning as an essential element of responsible parenthood, stable family life and social harmony. Education and information about human reproduction and human sexuality are available from the speakers bureau. Those wishing private counseling and referrals for family planning can call 453-6473 for assistance. Education and counseling services are free.

Members of the community wishing more information about the Women's Liberation Group of Erie may call 453-5248.

The Story of Eric

The Childbirth Education Association of Erie announces a film showing November 14 at 8 p.m. in the Villa Maria College Lecture Hall. The film, "The Story of Eric," will be introduced by Dr. David Doupe, an Erie doctor currently practicing obstetrics and gynecology. The film will be followed by a question and answer period led by Dr. Doupe.

The film depicts a modern couple anticipating the birth of their first child. It shows the interpersonal relationship between the husband and wife, their doctor and the hospital during the events leading to the birth of the child. The highlight of the film show the joy of the husband and wife sharing the birth of their child. For further information

Book Review

A Social History of the Bicycle

"These bladder-wheeled devices of the demon of darkness are contrivances to trap the feet of the unwary and skin the nose of the innocent. They are full of guile and deceit. When you think you have broken one to ride and subdued its wild and satanic nature, behold it bucketh you off in the road and teareth a great hole in your pants."

This opinion of the bicycle, expressed in a Sunday sermon in Baltimore in 1896, did not reflect public consensus. This is shown, conclusively and oftentimes hilariously, in A Social History of the Bicycle by Prof. Robert A. Smith (American Heritage Press, $9.95).

What began as an attempt to discover the sources of the bicycle craze of the Gay Nineties evolved into a light hearted but scholarly study of the impact of the cycle on American culture, and the extensive heritage the "craze" left behind. A professor of Social Sciences at California State College in San Bernardino, the author treats the origins of the two-wheeler, impact of the machine on the economy, morals, transportation, sport, highway improvement, dress reform, communications - the whole thing. "The primary value of the book for the reader is two-fold, I hope," says Prof. Smith. "First, it will bring pleasure, an occasional laugh, and maybe a better understanding of the lives of our grandfathers or great-grandfathers. Second, it may provide a better understanding of the reader's own times by showing how a machine influenced our contemporary lifestyle."

Some 100 illustrations enhance the witty, stimulating text.

Tennis Champions

The Men's and Women's Intramural Tennis Championships were recently held at the Behrend Campus Courts. Competition began in the second week of October and concluded on Wednesday October 25. The men's singles title was captured by Ben Pawl with a hard fought victory over Dave Anderson 6-1, 7-5. In the women's singles, the championship was taken by Jean Struble who easily defeated Mary Hutchison 6-3, 6-2. Some fine tennis was played over the two weeks the tournament was held and a special congratulation goes to the winners.
