

Intramural's Begin 4th Week

by Dave Lojewski
Sports Writer

The fourth week of Intramural Basketball has begun and with it the guys are starting to show which teams are the potential powerhouses. In the Dorm League, Super Fly Inc. remains on top with a pair of convincing victories. They demolished Minerva's Minosa 100 to 35 and overpowered Fondling Tools 64 to 19.

Leading the way for Super Fly was Robb Johnson in the "century" game by scoring 49 points. He scored enough points alone to beat the opponent. Also contributing in that contest were Bob Britton and "Sparky" Jefferson with 18 and 16 points respectively.

In their other outing, Lamar Macintosh paved the way with 25 points. Bob Britton added 18 to give them a convincing triumph.

Other exciting games that have been played were Fourth Floor Niagara defeating Custer's Cavetry 34 to 29; Seagram's 8 crushed Fondling Tools 41 to 12; The Horny Dozen Minus Two overcame Custer's Cavetry 43-24; The Gang that Couldn't Shoot Straight outshot Fourth Floor Niagara 47-20; and Minerva's Minosa destroyed First Floor Lawrence 84- to 38.

In the Wild and Exciting Commuter League, the Genessee Giants are tied with B.A.M.F. for the top spot. Both teams sport perfect 3 and 0 ledgers.

The Giants remained on top with two overwhelming victories. One was to the hands of the Sugar Daddies 41 to 28 and the other by overpowering the Greasy Butts 76 to 31.

Steve Johnson paced the way in the victory over the Greasy Butts with 20 points. He usually hit from underneath with a layup or a tap-in from a missed shot. Mike McCall added 18 and "Ducky" Zimmerman contributed 16. Both Mike and Ducky were also sterling with the ballhandling and passing. Zimmerman also contributed many assists in the game.

In other action, the Texas Taters beat the Faculty 43-to 26; B.A.M.F. picked up two victories, one over the Greasy Butts 60 to 24 and the other was a squeazer past Matz 21, 40 to 38. Matz 21 outlasted the Court Kings 42 to 26; and in another thriller, the Sugar Daddies edged Watfive 34 to 33. The Faculty posted their finest win 34 to 25 over the Court Kings.

The games that have been played so far have been exciting and furious. There are a few people watching the contest, but everyone who participates in the league wishes there were more people in the bleachers. The way things are going it should be an exciting battle for the crown because there are so many good teams.

The victory circle doesn't seem too far away, for some of the teams since they all are confident they're the team to beat.

B-Ball Season Opens

The Behrend basketball team opens their 1972-73 season Saturday, December 2 against Allegheny College of Meadville. History will be made Saturday when Behrend Campus's basketball team pledges competition with four year colleges, a stiff step-up in competitive athletics at Behrend, and a status of recognition in the Erie area.

In a recent interview with the Erie Times, Head Coach Roger Sweeting expressed his optimism of the upcoming season, "At our size, it is going to be tough for us to play the running game we prefer, but many of these guys have played for a winner so often that I don't expect them to be satisfied with less."

Coach Sweeting has already been crippled with pre-season setbacks, the absence of Steve Johnson, and an injury to last year's co-captain and third leading scorer, Marshall "Ike" Burnett.

Coach Sweeting hopes that he can find "equal" replacements in his reserve line-up. As of yet, Sweeting will rely on proven talent in co-captains Mike Hook and Glenn McKinney.

Denny Diener and Chris Gross are two veterans in contention for the starting line-up, the fifth man spot could be filled by any of the remaining veterans or able freshmen.

Regardless of difficulty "within" the team, Allegheny won't be able to take Behrend lightly. This is Behrend's first go-round with four year schools and that could make a difference in later competition, but with past experience with Coach Sweeting, Behrend will be disciplined.

This early in the season, mistakes made by both teams will be costly, but with Sweeting drilling the teams on basic fundamentals and physical exertion, Behrend could provide stiff competition for some of their opponents this season.

Game time Saturday is set for 8 p.m. With support in a gym that seats 200 fans than can sound like 500, let's have 500 and sound like the entire campus population in there to watch the Behrend Cubs battle Allegheny College. Behrend Cubs battle Allegheny College.

Winter Weekend Poses Problems For Frosh Class

by Lynne Philips
Managing Editor

The Freshman class called a meeting asking all freshmen students to attend. And unbelievably there was such a tremendous turnout I couldn't find my way around. Of course anyone would be lost in a lobby of three freshmen. Doesn't this class of 655 students know how to read.

Signs were posted in all three dorms. Surely more than three students read those signs. Some of you may be wondering, if signs were only placed in the dorms, how could a commuting student know of the meeting. Not only were signs announcing the meeting in the dorms. They were posted in all the buildings; taped onto doors; and a huge sign was in the RUB mailroom. Doesn't anyone take notice?

Assuming freshmen students do know how to read, why don't they attend the meetings? Is it because the students don't care? If this is so, then why do they complain that Behrend doesn't have enough activities on the weekend to keep students from going home or from going to other colleges?

At this meeting held November 30, tentative plans were going to be made for the Freshman class to sponsor a winter weekend would really be great. But how can a class even begin to organize such an event if no student support is gained. Sure, students think a winter weekend would be great. But talk with no action will never accomplish anything.

The members of this class have elected officers to get things moving. And they have been trying. Those signs weren't just posted to clutter the dorms, the doors, or the RUB. Those signs were posted for a purpose—to get freshmen involved.

There are committees to be formed and plans to be discussed. If any Freshman Winter Weekend is ever going to happen, the support of the students is needed. Will some of you freshmen please give a damn and attend the next meeting?
