Forensics Active This Year Looking Forward to Fall

The Forensic Union, headed by Dr. Ingeborg Chaly, consists of any Behrend student interested in competing against various other colleges in oral competition. The categories of competition may vary from oral interpretations of prose and poetry to rhetorical criticism. Other categories consist of original oratory such as persuasive and informative speeches, impromptu and extemporaneous speaking and after dinner speaking.

This year's team competed in three different tournaments. The first, held at California State University, had twelve schools competing; Behrend matched wits with such schools as Bowling Green State University, Duquesne and the University of Maryland. Behrend was represented by Cindy Arnold, Debbie Vogt, Regina Gapinski and Craig Caldwell at this tournament.

The second tournament was held at Frostburg State College. Representing Behrend was Cindy Arnold, Mark Coates, Beth Marsteller, Lynne Phillips and Debbie Vogt. Mark was our Pentahaloon winner. To be eligible for the Pentahaloon, a student must be entered in five events. Coates secured a second place. Beth and Lynne were finalists in the After Dinner Speaking with Beth finally taking a fourth place and Lynne a second.

Four students then traveled to University Park to compete in the John Henry Frizzell All-

University Speaking Contest. Representing Behrend at this event were once again Cindy Arnold and Lynne Phillips; Barb Drelick and Harry Loudon also competed. All four students placed in the semi-finals. Cindy, Barb and Lynne were finalists. Drelick placed third in the final competition and won $25.

Students interested in joining the Forensics in the fall may sign up for Speech 301 and receive either one or two credits for it.

Players to Extend Show

by Jeff Matson

Tomorrow night the Behrend Players will begin their unprecedented third week of performances. Demand was so great for tickets during the early performances of the show that the cast and crews decided that an additional two performances would be presented. At this time, there are tickets remaining for both shows at the RUB desk.

The Players would like to thank the students, faculty and administration for their constant support during this year and hope that next year will be one of continued growth for the Players as they go on to expand the theatre program here at Behrend.

Students are reminded that if they are interested in working with the Players next year that they should sign up for Theatre 189, a one-credit course in theatre production. Although the shows for the coming season have yet to be chosen, Mr. Selco plans to again present a wide range of theatre styles that will be able to utilize the unique facility of the Studio.

The 73-74 season has shown the possibilities and potential for a theatre program at Behrend. The success of these two productions can be attributed to many sources, the hard work of the many crews, officers and Mr. Selco, director of the Players; also the generous support of local businesses in securing props and other services was of great help in producing the quality of performances, and of course, the reason all of it is going, the audiences. The Behrend audiences have made the work much more a labor of love and with their continued support the sky's the limit for the Players' growth.

Behrend's Fourth Annual Spring Arts Festival was open to the public last week. Even the youngest members of the Erie community seemed to enjoy it.

Classes End, Hell's End

If raw sex, twin-fisted action and high voltage thrills are your cup of TNT, you won't want to miss Hell's End on Friday, May 17. It explodes on the scene with bristling tension, knocking the lid off sanity.

Actually, Hell's End is about as exciting as a six-pack of Carnation Instant Breakfast, but I thought I could pull a few of those lines for good review. Absurd as it may seem, Hell's End is the rejoicing in the knowledge that final exams are all that remain on this year's calendar.

The day-long schedule of activities include: a Tug O'War, a car bash, and a Frisbee Contest. There will be an Ice Cream Thing in the RUB, starting at 1:00 and the Grill will open at 10:00 outside the RUB with outside dining a possibility.

The car bash begins at 10:00 in the upper RUB parking lot. Voluntary violence will only be a dime or three for a quarter. The Tug O'War and Frisbee Contest will begin at 12:00 behind the soccer field. Contact Tom

To start the Spring Arts weekend last week a Jammy was sponsored by the Freshman Class. Behrend students and local talent had a good chance to entertain the Behrend community.
