

Cubs Top Eisenhower

By Jay Schonhaler
Sports Editor

Larry McAleer fired in 28 points and Jim Davis turned in an exceptional defensive performance to pace Behrend's basketball team to a 77-72 squeaker over Eisenhower and earn them a split of last week's pair of contests.

In a game earlier in the week, the Cubs were involved in another thriller, being edged by Walsh, 72-68.

McAleer was consistent throughout the game against Eisenhower as he riddled the man-for-man defense for 14 points in both halves en route to chalking up his single game career high and going over the 500 point mark.

Davis, on the other hand, limited Eisenhower's top scoring threat, Neil Kromer, to four points in the second half and collected 12 points and 15 rebounds.

With one minute left in the game, Behrend held a one point lead when Pat Gahr went to the foul line to try to increase the margin. He sank both ends of the one-and-one and the Cubs were up by three.

Behrend controlled a missed shot by Eisenhower and a Davis to McAleer feed upped the difference to five.

Eisenhower was down but not out as they scored quickly, regained possession and sought to move within one on a one-and-one foul situation.

The first shot went awry, the Cubs Mark Chesko snared the last of his 13 rebounds, and looped a long pass to Eddie Evans to clinch a five point victory.

Behrend's zone defense in the early stages of the first half proved ineffective, particularly against Kromer, who dented it for 14 of his team's first 22 points.

Behrend quickly switched to a man-for-man defense with Davis assigned to guard Kromer. Kromer finished with 24 points, but was virtually shut off in the second half, limited to two field goals in the second half.

Head Coach Roger Sweeting admitted that his decision to start off in a zone was a gamble that didn't pay off. "I thought we could surprise them by going into a zone, but the only ones who were surprised were us."

Sweeting noted that his team had beaten Eisenhower earlier this year on the strength of a solid man-for-man alignment and felt Eisenhower would be expecting the same setup from the outset.

Statistically, Jon Kennedy ended nine points and 13 rebounds, while Gahr, coming off the bench, contributed 10 points.

"I think he played probably his best game of the season" Sweeting said of Gahr.

Against Walsh, the Cubs were also locked in a tight struggle, but the win slipped away from them as a last second attempt to tie the game failed.

Behrend was down by two in the final moments when they gave up a bucket to Walsh. The Cubs moved down court hurriedly and dropped in a shot with five seconds showing.

They immediately called timeout to set up a zone press to swipe the inbounds pass and get a final crack at sending the game into overtime. The strategy didn't pay off, however, as Walsh arched a full court pass that ended in a layup to squelch Cub hopes. Sweeting maintained that he was not disappointed with his team's overall play. "I thought we played one of our better games of the season. Walsh is probably one of the strongest teams we've played all year."

But he added, "I would say we caught them playing at less than their best. Against us they were content to coast."

Walsh threw a full-court press at the Cubs for the entire game but it didn't prove bothersome. "In general we were able to beat the press, get the ball upcourt, and get a good shot" Sweeting commented. Behrend's troubles stemmed mainly from their shooting, finishing at 37 per cent from the field.

But Walsh's Ray Dungen, a 6' 6" freshman proved to be the most persistent headache for the Cubs. Dungen hails from Detroit Pershing High, a school that has turned out such notables as Spencer Haywood and Ralph Simpson. He connected for twenty points to lead all scorers and dominated the boards thoroughly.

High scorers for the Cubs, who trailed by ten at the half before making their comeback, were Chesko with 15, Davis, 14, and McAleer 7.

A pair of struggling wrestlers are edged out of bounds as both contend for dominance over each other.

Gal netters take seven consecutive

By Muriel Hykes

Fantastic, great...all the good adjectives describe the Behrend Women's Basketball team. Last Tuesday, the girls dealt a smashing blow to Villa Maria's team for their seventh victory in a row. The final score was 82 to 32.

Once again their star Jill Heenen shone through with a high score of 32 points while shooting. Jane Truskey also did another fine job at rebounding for a total of 22 points. Heenen was next in rebounding with a score of 15. Other notable rebounders were Hoyt, Grimm and Smogorzewski with total rebounds 11, 8, and 5 respectively.

Other leading scorers were Smogorzewski who had 11 points, Truskey with 11, Hoyt had 8. Several other players scored: these include Grimm, Dunbar, Mitchell, Walters and MacKinlay.

As if rolling up all those points and the basket isn't a great feat, the women further proved their shooting skill by making 12 out of 13 shots from the foul line!

Keep it up, Ladies!
SCORING

	P	R
Grimm, Pam	6	5
Heenan, Jill	32	15
Smogorzewski, Karen	17	5
Truskey, Jane	11	22
Mitchell, Sue	6	2
Dunbar, Donna	6	1
Walkers, Carolyn	6	0
Hoyt, Kathy	8	11
MacKinlay, Mary	2

Final Score
Behrend 82 Villa Maria 32

Intramural Season Closing

By John Roach

Spring is just around the corner and closer yet is the wrap-up of the championships in the bowling and basketball intramurals at Behrend College.

In the keg intramural tourney, we find the Aces Wild team with a 17-3 record holding a slim lead over the 16-4 Zelds III quartet and the rest of the pack is farther back. Some top bowlers this year have proved to be: Gary Bokoch, Zelds III who is total pin fall leader with a 24-38 count, league leading average (162.6 per game), has recorded third high game honors with 202 and has second high series with 533 series. Jack Figurski Zelds III is second in total pin fall with a 2373 count. He has retained second high average 158.2 per game. He has third high series honors with a 504 series and has captured high game honors with a 206. Tim Bayline (Aces are Wild) is third in total pin fall with a 2360 county third in average 157.3. He has also captured high series honors with a 534 series, and is second on the

Calendar of Events
Friday, February 21, 9 p.m.—	Coffee House, RUB Quiet Lounge.
Sunday, February 23, 7 and 9 p.m.—	Movie, "Class of '44" with Gary Grimes and Deborah Winters, RUB Lecture Hall.
Wednesday, February 26—	Classes End, 5:45 p.m. and Pizza Party at Dobbins Hall.
Thursday, February 27, Friday, February 28 and Saturday, March 1—	Final exams.

Greek and Latin

(Continued from Page 1) provide classical courses in translation so that students may recognize the value of and derive profit from the classics?

What is the task of education? Is it not to teach people to think, to solve problems, to cope with life, to find pleasure and inspiration in literature, the arts, philosophy, and even in their own thoughts? Its task is to bring students into contact with great minds, not only of the present, but also of the past. As John of Salisbury said, "We are pygmies standing on the shoulders of giants."

Without the efforts of scholars of past generations, we would not be so far advanced as we are today.

No knowledge is sterile if the student is open-minded enough to become interested in a subject. Although I am not a biologist, chemist, or mathematician, I do not feel that the years I spent studying biology, chemistry, algebra, and geometry (required subjects) were wasted. All knowledge teaches a person about the world and his relation to it. I cannot build a computer, but perhaps my students will find satisfaction in meeting the challenges of Latin and Greek. Perhaps they will find humor, comfort, wisdom, and attitudes

Continuing education night course sign-up

Any full time Penn State student may sign up for continuing education night courses February 24 and 25 from 7-9 p.m. in the RUB.

Classes begin Monday, March 17, and meet on Mondays and Wednesdays for ten weeks. There is no additional charge for these courses.

Be sure and check the Continuing Education office on Registration Day, Wednesday, March 12, to be sure that the classes chosen have been offered.

First Period:
6:25-8:25 p.m.

- (B40) Arts 1—The Arts.
 - (S14) Biol. 41—Physiology.
 - (S20) Chem. 11—Introductory Chemistry
 - (S25) Comp. Sc. 1—Basic Computer Programming (1 cr.)
 - (G25) E.E. 804 —A.C. Circuits (2 cr.)
 - (L18) Engl. 3—The Writing of Ideas.
 - (L34) Hist. 21—History of the United States Since 1865.
 - (S30) Math. 63—Introduction to Linear Algebra.
 - (S30) Math. 803—Technical Calculus.
 - (J89) Nutr. 351—Nutrition of the Family.
 - (L96) Spc. 200—Effective Speech.
 - (B70) Thea. 100—The Art of the Theatre.
- Special class time: TTH, 7:55-9:10

A lab will be scheduled after the first meeting.

- Second Period
8:35-10:35 p.m.
- (L04) Anthy. 45—Cultural Anthropology.
 - (S13) Bi. Sc. 3—Man and His Environment.
 - (L18) Engl. 1—Composition and Rhetoric
 - (L18) Engl. 800—English Usage
 - (L36) Human. 1—Values of the Western Cultural Heritage.
 - (G55) I.E. 811—Manufacturing Materials and Processes.
 - (S30) Math. 4—Introduction to Algebra
 - (S30) Math. 802—Technical Mathematics.
 - (H10) Ph.Ed. 5—Physical Education (1 cr.)
 - (L70) Psy. 2—Psychology.
 - (L92) Soc. 1—Introductory Sociology.
 - (L86) So. Sc. 2—Contemporary Man and Society.
- Students are required to take a placement exam at registration for English 1.
Please allow 60 minutes for the exam.

APPLY NOW

If you Want to be a
Spring Arts Marshall

Applications Available at the RUB Desk

THE ERIE BOOK STORE

717 FRENCH STREET

452-3354

DATA TYPE & RESEARCH SERVICE

2 Sylvan street Rutherford Rutherford, N.J. 07070
(201) 933-6222

Termpaper & Thesis Research - Lowest rates from $2.50/pg.
Mon.-Fri. 9:30-6 Sat. 10-4
CAMPUS JOBS AVAILABLE

Cricket

FASHIONS for the "Young Minded"

Junior and Misses

Fashions

10% Discount
with Student I.D.

2905 Buffalo Road
Wesleyville, Pa. 16510
898-1301