Varsity Basketball

By: Joy Savage The men's Varsity Basketball try outs were held on Tuesday, October 9 in Erie Hall. The decision was difficult but cuts were made. The following individuals chosen to represent Behrend College on the basketball court have voiced the following opinions concerning this year's team and the upcoming season.

Co-captain, Kirk Farbacher, a center standing at six feet seven inches, feels the one quality he lacks is the ability to jump higher. Also co-captain of this years team, Ron Williams, a six foot, two inch forward wishes he could be a "natural." Guard, Kevin Hudson, thinks his playing ability is hampered somewhat by his height 5'9". Lony Thomas a six foot guard, feels the duties of a guard are to lead the team plays and set up the offensive plays and set up the offensive plays. Mike Powell a guard standing at six foot, says the presence of playing ball begins at the end of a game when the team is down by one point, or when they're only ahead by one point. Mike Melzer, another five foot and nine inch guard, also feels that more height would make him a better ball player. Gary Spencer a forward explained that as forward he must be quick to capture any rebounds. Charles Smith at 6'1" is a guard who plans a professional career in basketball; he is trying to improve his handling of the ball. Greg Vauhn, a forward, predicts that this year's team will win the three big championships which are the Mercyhurst Tournament, the Big 5 and the District 18 championship. The following young men are playing for Behrend for the first time, and have made known their opinions. Tyrone Vaughn a guard standing at 6'3" feels that being on a team helps to motivate him. Bill Irving is one guard who wishes he could "slam dunk" better. James relaxation and enjoyment out of playing basketball. Eric Limpert, a forward, who is hoping to improve his out side shot and handling of the ball.

The assistant coach, Captain Jeff A. Witherel, looks to see twenty wins from his team. He comments that this years team is much more experienced. Coach Witherel states that the team is larger than last years, but this will allow him to replace a full squad during a game. In his opinion this year's challenges are the teams of Mercyhurst, Clarion, Edinboro, Grove City, Pitt-Johnston, Gannon Point Park and Westminster. In reference to Coach Sims, boys basketball coach last year. Coach Witherel believes that Coach Sims brought "refine and polish" to last year's team that will hopefully continue.
