Shoot Out!

The Army ROTC Rifle Team captured second place in the annual Professor of Military Science's Rifle Match at University Park on Saturday, January 26th.

Behrend was deprived of a first place showing by only eight points, being out shot by the University Park team who fired for 2160 points out of a possible 3000. Behrend's team score was 2152, the total of the top five shooters. In third place was the Altoona ROTC unit with 2052, followed by Ogontz, Schuylkill Haven and Delaware County.

Behrend's top shooter was Shawn Phaneuf with a 464. Shawn also took the prize for high prone score with a 184. The other four making up the team total were John Falcone, 456; Fred Gildersleeve, the Team Captain, with 424; Mark Berninger with 408 and Bill Newitt, 400. Other team members were Janice Carl who fired a 313, and Dan Scala with a 301.

The match was followed on Saturday night by a banquet in Henderson Hall, after which the winners were announced and trophies presented. Colonel Robert Rose, the Professor of Military Science at Penn State, gave a brief talk on the Army ROTC program, presenting a number of facts which showed plainly that the Penn State program is among the top in the nation in terms of both quantity of commissioned officers produced and the quality of those officers.

The ROTC Rifle Team is an integral part of the Behrend

College Rifle Club, which is a student organization chartered under the Student Senate and open to all full-time Behrend students. The club holds meetings and practice sessions at the Lawrence Park Rifle Club range on Nagle Road every Monday and Thursday evening, and anyone who is, or thinks he may be, interested in shooting is invited to attend. M. Sgt. Don King, the club advisor and coach, will provide transportation to and from the range.

The club plans to hold an introductory match and party to provide the student body with an opportunity to become acquainted with the sport of indoor shooting on Thursday, February 7th. Everyone is cordially invited.
