Nine Vie For BB Pitching Spot

The baseball season for Behrend is going fairly well as the slates find them at 7 and 6. Coach Clarence Stoner and Mike Folga have been assisting the players who comprise Behrend's 1979-80 Men's Baseball Team.

This season, there were nine potential pitchers. First was Greg Breski. Greg is a commuter from Lawrence Park, Pa. He graduated from Iroquois High School and is now a sophomore majoring in D.U.S., he's 20 years old, 5'10" tall, and weights 175 lbs.

Next is sophomore Cliff Caldwell. Cliff attended Cambridge Springs High School in Cambridge Springs, PA., lives on second floor Perry, and majors in Accounting. He's 19 years old, 6'1, and weighs in at 175.

Then we have a trio of Erieites with John Greulich, Scott Klimow, and Rich Ragen. John is a commuting graduate of Erie Cathedral Prep who comes in at 6'1", 170 lbs. He's a 21 year old senior majoring in Business Management.

Scott is a 20 year old junior who came to us from Academy High School. He's 6'0, 160 lbs., and commutes to school. Scott is majoring in Psychology.

Rich, who is 5'11", 170 lb., is the second of our two commuting graduates of Iroquois High School. A freshman here at Behrend, Rich is 18 years old and his major is D.U.S.

Our sixth pitcher is 6'1", 185 lb. Jeff Carter, a graduate of Saegertown High School in Saegertown, PA. Jeff's an 18 year old freshman and a D.U.S. major. He lives on third floor Lawrence.

Our sophomore pitcher from Wexford, Pa. is 20 year old Dave Christian. Dave, coming in at 5'7", 160 lbs., attended Richland High School and lives on third floor Lawrence. His major is Engineering.

Our third of four freshman pitchers is 19 year old Wayne Helmbreck, Wayne, who's 6'1", 165 lbs., is a graduate of General McLane High School in Edinboro, Pa.

The last freshman pitcher we have is Bill Juranovich from Sharon, Pa. Bill graduated from Sharon High School and now majors in Community Development. Another dormie from third floor Lawrence, Bill measures 5'8" tall, weights 170 lbs. and is 19 years old.

Going on to the other positions, we find three Canevin High School graduates from Pittsburgh, Pa. First we have 6', 195 lb. Jim Kaczorowski, a D.U.S. major here. "Kaz" is a freshman, 19 years old, and has been playing between first base and center. He lives on first floor Perry.

Also from Canevin and living on first floor Perry is Jim "Jimbo" Sciuilli. A freshman coming in at 5'8, 150 lbs., Jimbo plays second base. He's 19 years old and is majoring in Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Trivia Question Winners

Congratulations to all those students who correctly identified Four Mile Creek as being named such because it is Four Miles from the center of town.

Those lucky students who will receive a pass to the Millcreek Mall Cinema as a result are as follows:

Kurt Stephenson, Jim Greenman, Mike Krahe, Mindy Brandon, Peggy Koepfinger, Pat Koepfinger, Laura Cipriani, Nathan Spears, Dan Abata and Linda Schwienitz.

If your name is on this list, be sure to stop by the Collegian office and pick up your pass soon!

Former AMSCO Exec Serves As Lecturer

Frank Plasha, retired AMSCO executive, is bringing his expertise to the classroom at Behrend College Penn State.

The former vice president of employee and public relations at AMSCO is currently serving as lecturer in Behrend's Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

Drawing on his years of experience in the areas of personnel and labor relations, Plasha is teaching a course in labor studies and industrial relations. The course is an introductory analysis of unions, management and related topics.

Until his retirement from AMSCO last November after 14 years employment there, Plasha had accumulated some 30 years experience in personnel and labor relations. He also served three years as international representative for a major labor union.

Teaching is not new to Plasha. He has also taught personnel and management and labor relations courses in Behrend's Continuing Education evening school. At Cornell University he served as instructor and public relations director for the School of Industrial and Labor Relations as well as lecturer in the Cornell Extension Division. He also taught similar subjects at the University of Cincinnati.

He has been affiliated with many national organizations and in 1971 served as national president for the American Society for Personnel Administration, comprised of some 25,000 members.

He has served as arbitrator for AFCSME Union and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; chairman of the American Management Association seminars on recruiting, employment, and manpower management; national committee member, "Jobs for Veterans."

Plasha plays an active role in many Erie area civic and charitable organizations and also serves as consultant to local industries.

Earlier this year he was elected president of Personal Advancement Institute Inc., an Erie-based full service human resources consulting firm.

He has published articles in the AMA Personnel, McGraw-Hill Chemical Engineering, ASPE The Personnel Administrator, Fortune and The Office.

He has his B.S. degree in business administration and journalism from West Virginia Institute of Technology and his M.S. degree in industrial and labor relations from Cornell.

Women's Softball Establishes Stronghold

Women's Softball Takes Control

With this year's season half over the Women's Softball Team has established a stronghold at the top of the league with a record of five wins and two losses. This seems of little consequence since the team's batting average of .337 has produced a remarkable thirteen runs per game.

The team's top batter, Lee Ann Kolo, has an average of .450 and has seven RBI's. As pitcher, Lee Ann has two wins and two losses to her credit.

Rock 'N Roll

There was a struggle here on earth between Beelzebub and Rock. The old prophets were too senile to destroy the Armegegon facing them. New angels rose to meet the fury. The good of the earth never wore silk of gold chains like the evil ones and fought with all their musical might.

Second base person Patty Bowley, possesses a .407 batting average with 8 RBI's.

Outfielder Lisa Simpson is also right up at the top with a nice round .400 for her batting average.

Captain of the team, short-stop Kathy Rolph has a batting average of .391, 8 RBI's and in addition has stolen seven bases this season.

Centerfielder, Mary Rose leads the team with 12 RBI's.

Catcher, Sharon Totleben leads the conference with eight stoler-bases. Her batting average is .370.

In the Women's Keystone Conference the team has one win and one defeat on record. Time is on their side though, since they still have six games left to play in the Conference.

"We won the conference last year," said Coach Wilson, "and if we play well, we have a chance of being in the top three. We're looking hard at number one!"

eternity. Once again soul and jazz and the Messiah, Rock returned. The anti-Christ is now beaten and the disciples of evil play, no more. Only rock can help the world. You can even dance to it again like the prophets wanted us to do. Praise the lord and pass the Chuck Berry! I now see the light! I've been saved by Rock n Roll.
