

Cubs Break Into Win Column Spikers 3-3 On Road

Behrend College soccer improved its season mark to 2-4 last week with wins over Gannon and Alliance, but fell victim to a powerful Pitt-Johnstown on Saturday, two goals to one.

This up-and-down inconsistency has plagued the Cubs to date, but they hope to overcome this in the near future.

After dropping their three outings, the Cubs entered the win column with a 3-0 victory over local rival Gannon University. Dave Hall and George McMurtry scored first-period for Behrend, with assists from Rick Potts and Tim Holdcroft. Rich Lawrence added another shot at 25:07 of the second half with an assist from McMurtry.

Coach Herb Lauffer was pleased with the efforts of his players after the Gannon match. "This was one of our best outings of the season," said the Behrend mentor, adding, "We also got different people scoring in an overall good performance."

Lauffer cited the efforts of backs Bill Hildenbrand, Bob MacZura, Tom Mandl, and Tom Kennard.

The booters then traveled to Houghton College to face a club that was champion of the National Christian Athletic Association in 1979. The Cubs were crushed 3-0 by the powerful Houghton club.

Sophomore back Tom Mandl commented on the match, pointing out that the Cubs played "very lackluster." He thought nothing worked well in the game as his team slipped to 1-4.

Next the Cubs took on Alliance and recorded an impressive eight goals for their second victory of the season. Ed Bell kicked three goals into Alliance nets, and was supported by Potts (one goal, three assists), and Holdcroft (a goal and assist each).

Mike Knowles contributed three shots and Jeff Mandl had one, while Rich Lawrence assisted on two occasions.

On Saturday, the Cubs traveled to Pitt-Johnstown, only to suffer a disheartening 2-0 setback. UPJ scored early, with goals coming off a penalty kick and a goal shot early in the match.

Though falling behind in the first half, the Cubs played tough and held the opposition scoreless for the second half. In spite of the loss, the Cubs were pleased to welcome back Jim Krebert, who returns after a prolonged injury.

With seven remaining games on their 1981 slate, the Cubs can look forward to a possible 9-5 record. Upcoming home games include: Allegheny College, Oct. 13; Grove City College, Oct. 21; Suny-Fredonia, Oct. 27; and Roberts Wesleyan, Oct. 31.

Like Willie Nelson, the women's volleyball team is on the road again.

For six consecutive games, the ladies have taken to the highways to display their prowess on the court. On September 22, the team played the Lady Lakers of Mercyhurst, losing 3 games to 1. On September 24, they dropped to Grove City, 3 games to 1.

Then on Saturday, September 26, they popped Gannon 2 games to 0 and Clarion by the same margin. Then there was a defeat on the 30th to Westminster, 2 to 0 and a win against Youngstown State on the same night, 2 games to 1.

The team is led by senior captain Mary Rose. She has played four years on Varsity and had been the captain once before, as a sophomore. This is her sixth year of organized ball, having played two years prior to this for Churchill Area High, in Pittsburgh.

She is known not only for her deadly serve, but also for her devoted leadership. Aside from all of this, she is the second smallest on the team.

Says Mary, "The team has a real sense of hustle. We'll often risk life and limb (and often chests) to keep the ball in play. We've been a little weak lately due to the injuries of Sandy Rhea and Shelly Harper, but we've done a great job adjusting to each other off of the bench."

The team has compiled a 5-3 overall record this season, even under the pressures of travel.

Concludes Mary, "The team has a lot of spirit. As long as we're up, we can play well together. It's really hard to keep spirit going when we have so many games away, so we hope we have support at home games."

After one of the games away, this reporter interviewed the top cheerleader for the team, manager Jan Satyshur. According to the team, not only does Jan keep the equipment, but she keeps the spirit high for the games.

Satyshur is very fond of the team, saying that "this group of players is always after the ball. They never stop playing until that whistle blows. They're always fighting for the play. That's what I respect most."

The devotion of these women, not only to the game, but to each other, is evident. When asked what she felt overall about the team and the season, Satyshur summed it all up with a hearty smile: "They're the best!"

Ethics Of Playing Tennis

Tricia Woods

Recently, Coach Kent Peightal gave all his players a pamphlet put out by the United States Tennis Association entitled "THE CODE." The purpose of this pamphlet is to eliminate confusion in the unwritten laws of tennis.

In my tennis career, I have found the lack of these written, unwritten laws, add an interesting slant to court play, both physical and verbal.

The Code assumes that all players are basically honest. This is true, if we assume that everyone has a conscience.

Frankly, I enjoy skimming an occasional ball off the opponent's back after they retrieve a "dead" ball from the net. Sometimes I even yell, "Ball coming," right before she hits the pavement. When my opponent gets up, I politely ask if she is all right and say, "I can't believe that happened."

The oldest tradition in tennis is to give your opponent the benefit of the doubt. I always trust my opponent and assume she will honor this tradition.

All-U-Day Great Success

By Ann Karmazon

All-U-Day at University Park was a great success! Mostly sunny, clear, and crisp it turned out to be ideal football weather.

At Beaver Stadium my friends and I managed to find a reasonable ticket scalper and all sat together.

Coach Paterno kept with tradition and paced the fifty-yard line. He wore his usual high-water pants and black and white oxfords.

By halftime, it was clear that Temple didn't stand a chance. We relaxed, watched the cheerleaders, and yelled for the lion.

The Blue Band outplayed Temple's Diamond Band by a mile. And the final score was a shutout, 30-0, PSU.

After the game and a couple of hours of relaxation, it was time for Atlanta Rhythm Section. The concert was fantastic!

Even the warm-up band - McDuffy Lane - was applauded back out for an encore. Their rendition of the Beatles' "Revolution" was outstanding and "Rocky Top" nearly brought down the house.

ARS, as all loyal fans know, has a combination folk-rock/rock-and-roll sound that can keep you on your feet all night - and it did.

From the first song, "Champagne Jam," to the final "Georgia Rhythm," the whole crowd whooped and swayed along.

In all, the concert was well worth its $6 ticket price.

After ARS came parties, parties, parties, and the day was Penn State to the end.
