

Garrett Leading Scorer

Cubs Tamed In Early Season Play

by Jim Wygonik

Going into the 1982-83 season, Coach Sims and the Behrend netters were riding on high hopes. Unfortunately, they have yet to dent the win column after six outings. "One major reason is the loss of forward Tom Blythe," said Sims. "He was our leader on and off the court. We lost three of those games because we lacked leadership," Sims added. He is looking for one of his upperclassmen to step out and take charge. Although there has been hints of leadership from the returning players, it has been sporadic.

The Cubs haven't had an easy team to get on track with. They opened with the University of Buffalo, then Walsh, Waynesburg, Clarion, Edinboro, and lastly, Westminster, who gave Pitt a tough ball game early in the year.

Power forward, Steve Aden feels, "We haven't blended as a team yet. Also our level isn't up to par. We have been unstoppable at times but have yet to maintain that level for an entire game."

One bright spot has been the freshmen. Especially guards Darrel Gray and Chris Garret. "Darrel's quick with a good shot, and his outstanding leaping ability makes him an unexpected rebounding and shot blocking threat," commented forward Rick Roseto. To date, Chris is the team's leading scorer with a 15.4 points per game average.

Other top performers for the Cubs have been Don Vaughn with a 14.5 points per game average along with 40 rebounds on the season. Joe Greer averaging 12.0 points. Ty Vaughn with 11.6. Steve Aden with 9.8, and Shawn Thamert leading in assists with 20.

I.M. Hoops Beat Stiff Competition

by Jim Wygonik

Basketball at the Intra-Mural level at Behrend seems to be surging in the right direction. Teams for two, three, and five man competition are forming and gearing up for their respective seasons. "A year ago at this time it was tough to round up ten guys to run a few games late at night or on the weekends, but this year you go down to the gym at 11:00 at night and find 25 or 30 guys," remarks Rob Simon.

Last year's IM champions in basketball was Joawad, but if the talent displayed on the court so far is any indication on the upcoming season a new champion may be crowned.

I.M. director Duane Crider is pleased. "A successful I.M. program relies on student body participation and stiff competition.

December 13th, Point Park the 18th, and return home against Fairmont State, January 4.

We have both," said Crider. When asked to forecast any outcomes, Crider was leary, "Although last year's champs look tough with some new players, there are so many enthusiastic and talented kids here, it will be anybody's game." The two and three man seasons will end by Christmas recess. The two on two is sponsored by Miller Beer. Each participant will receive a Miller t-shirt with trophies going to the top three teams. Sign-ups for five-man will begin this week in the athletic office and play will begin after Christmas.

— Behrend would be 6-1 at this point if not for the loss of Tommy Blythe.

— Coach Sims will put the Cubs back together in time for a winning season.

— Shawn Thamert has done a great job off the bench for the Cubs this season.

— Freshman sensation Chris Garrett will rewrite the record books before his career is over.

— The Steelers will be tough as ever in the playoffs and win their fifth Super Bowl.

— Franco Harris will stay around long enough to break Jim Brown's rushing record.

— The Pittsburgh Pirates will win the World Series next year.

— The Cleveland Indians will be fifth or sixth as usual.

— The LA Lakers will defeat Moses Malone and Philly in the NBA championship.

— The Behrend girls will repeat as District 18 champs again.

— Pitt's defense will store Eric Dickerson cold in the Cotton Bowl.

— Sugar Ray Leonard will come out of retirement and deck Marvin Hagler.

— Larry Holmes will never be beat.

— PENN STATE will annihilate Georgia in the Sugar Bowl to become national champs.

— PENN STATE will be one big party on January 2.

Look Ahead
Lady Cubs
At 3-2

by Joel Campbell
Sports Editor

Last year's District 18 champion Lady Cubs are off to a impressive 3-2 record this year.

The Lady Cubs dropped their first two games of the season to Geneva by two and Point Park by seven.

Coach Ellen Johns, last year's District 18 Coach of the Year commented, "We did not play well our first two games and only lost by small margins, that speaks highly of our potential."

The Cubs evened their record at 2-2 with home victories over Thiel and Westminster this past week.

Villa Maria was forced to drop their program due to lack of players, which accounts for the Lady Cubs 3-2 record due to the forfeit.

The team has been working hard in practice to improve their fundamentals, which have according to Coach Johns improved in the last three days alone.

The Lady Cubs strong point is considered their inside game, which consists of Barb Schofield, Mindy Stasienco, Nat Kuhn, and Tammy Anderson. Diane Metzger, the starting point guard, compliments the inside game as well as adds a good outside shooter.

The team returns to action in games this Friday and Saturday when they compete in the Baldwin-Wallace holiday tournament.
