

"Do You Have A Favorite USFL Football Team And Why?"

1. Tom Harrop (2nd Semester, Science)

Boston, oops, I mean New Orleans Breakers. Of course the reason I like them is because they were my home team. If it wasn't for the New England Harness Raceway, they could've moved to Sullivan Stadium in Foxboro, Mass. Well there aren't any other USFL teams in the Boston area so I guess I'll just keep my loyalty to the old Boston Breakers."

2. Michael Henderson (8th Semester, History)

"I like the L.A. Express, because they sought out the best college quarterback, Steve Young from B.Y.U. Plus they are paying him 40 million dollars to play for four years, a real bargain, don't you think so?"

3. Jim Seifert (8th Semester, Management)

"I like the New Jersey Generals because of Herschal Walker."

4. Mark Infantino (2nd Semester, Business Administration)

"I like the New Jersey Generals because they have acquired a number of quality NFL players such as: Brian Sipe, Gary Barbaro, among others."

5. Roger Seemen (3rd Semester, MIS)

"I don't have a favorite team, I hope the league folds, they play during baseball season not football season! The only way they can survive is if they merge with the NFL."

6. John "Jack" Kennedy (4th Semester, Psychology) Interviewed while in Hyannis Port with his family.

"I feel the USFL (Useless Football League) has out priced themselves. As for players, no person is worth 40 million dollars, plus I personally don't think the league will survive."

7. Rod Luery (2nd Semester, Business)

"The New Jersey Generals are my favorite team. First of all, I'm from Jersey, but most of all, I admire the way the team is structured. Donald Trump (the owner) has financed his team efficiently. The Generals have some of the best ball players in the league."

Lady Cubs Basketball Wrap-Up

By Jill Franz

The 1983-84 Penn State-Behrend women's basketball team ended its season qualifying for post season play with a 12-12 record. The heartbreaking game was the loss to Carlow College in the tie-breaker for fourth place in the playoffs. Four games the Lady Cubs played were decided at the final buzzer by a total of five points, which could have easily boosted their record to 16-8.

"The team experienced great highs," said Coach Ellen Johns, "like beating Allegheny College, one of only two losses Allegheny had this season. The squad exhibited good ball movement and team play for most of the season but size was a factor in rebounding effectively against many taller and stronger opponents."

Scholarships had an influence on District 18 women's basketball this year with two more teams providing scholarships for athletes. Those two colleges, Carlow and St. Vincent, made their presence known immediately along with previous powers, Point Park and Westminster. The Lady Cubs, however, claimed the honor of being the only team to defeat both first place Point Park and second place Westminster.

Three team members displayed much talent throughout the season and earned All-District honors. Diane Metzgar and Mindy Stasenko were selected to the first team and Missy Stasenko was named to the second team.

In the Women's Keystone Conference, Diane Metzgar made the first team All-Conference listings with Mindy Stasenko earning a second team slot.

The Lady Cubs began the season with great depth but injuries and inconsistent play on the part of a few near the end of the season put the burden of good performance on six or seven players. Offensively, Mindy Stasenko (12.0 points per game), Diane Metzgar (12.5 points per game), Barb Schofield (10 points per game), Missy Stasenko (9.7 points per game), Donna Morgan (6.7 points per game), and Pam Anderson (4 points per game) consistently aided in scoring. Mindy Stasenko also led in rebounds (6.7 per game).

Other individual marks set this year include junior Diane Metzgar's assist record (114) which surpasses the old record set by Molly Heidecker in four years of play.

"All in all," said Coach Johns, "the season had many successes. Anyone who saw the Lady Cubs play knows they stretched themselves to do their best, and even in defeat they represented Penn State-Behrend well."
