ICC Denied A Vote

On Friday Feb. 22 Mr. Chet Giermack, president and chief executive officer of Eriez Magnetics, will present a lecture on the management techniques used at Eriez Magnetics. Giermack will discuss "One Minute Management".

The lecture will be at 12 noon followed by a reception in the Reed Seminar Room. The event is sponsored by the Management Club, the MIS Club, and the Accounting Club. Students, faculty and staff are invited to attend.

The Student Government Association (SGA) voted to determine if the Inter-Club Council (ICC) needed a vote at SGA meetings. Chairman, Greg Goldsmith would have voted representing campus clubs.

"I thought that I could get their views and bring them back to the meetings, rather than have representatives from each club at the meetings," said Goldsmith.

"I could understand their issues better than SGA because I have direct contact with the clubs," he added.

Chris Anderson, SGA vice-president, disagreed. He thought that ICC was a special interest group, and due to the fact that SGA has on and off campus representatives, all the students were being represented.

The vote took place on Feb. 4 and the final vote was almost unanimous.

Faculty Compete In Games

Two Behrend faculty members competed in a field of over 500 men and women in the St. Vincent Quad Games cross country ski race.

Dr. Edwin Maseller, in his third year of competition in the games, came in first in his age group and 49 out of the 410 men who finished the five-mile race.

Masteller, who started skiing about nine years ago, enjoys cross country skiing and focuses more on his finishing times rather than the trophies. His time in this year's race was two minutes faster than last year's.

He also looks forward to competing in the running part of the games. His time in a 10K race is around the 40 to 43 minute mark, but he is working at improving this time.

Also competing in this race was Behrend's women's tennis coach, Pamela Fischer. She finished fourth in her group out of the 13 women who finished.

Chess Club Sets Goals

by Michael Shaffer
Collegian Staff Writer

The Chess Club has recently been reorganized by Barrett Parker. The meeting members determined prospects of the club and election of its officers.

The club plans to improve the performance of its players through informal games of chess conducted in the seminar room under the guidance of its advisors, Dr. Donald Cogley and Mr. Stafford. As the club progresses in skill, tournaments between other colleges may be arranged.

The club meets Mondays and Wednesdays from 1-4 p.m. in the Reed Seminar Room. All interested persons should attend. For more information contact any club officer or advisor or call, Barrett Parker at 725-1460 or Michael Shaffer at 898-6511.
