Soccer players honored

University Relations--Several members of Behrend's 1985 soccer team were honored recently for accomplishments during the 5-8-4 fall season.

John Scifo was selected by teammates as recipient of the Dennis Grace Most Improved Player Award. The award is named after Grace, a Behrend alumnus who is head soccer coach at Notre Dame.

"John was called upon at midseason to fill in for an injured player, and his playing just continued to improve," said Cub's Soccer Coach Herb Lauffer. "His mental and physical intensity enabled John to compete well on the collegiate level."

Doug McCarthy was selected by teammates as the recipient of the John Hoge Outstanding Freshman Award.

"Doug earned a starting position about three games into the season," recalls Lauffer. "He played the position extremely well for a freshman and continued to improve throughout the season. He was definitely a mainstay of our defense.

Teammates selected Scott Coykendall to receive the Michael Joyce Hustle Award. He established a team record of eight assists in 1985.

"Scott was a sparkplug, a catalyst who encouraged his teammates to excel," related Lauffer. "He created opportunities both with and without the ball. His ability to create plays was a real plus for the team."

Joe Kushon received two postseason honors. He was named to the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Soccer Conference All-Star Team and was awarded the Michael Marsh Most Valuable Player Award.

Kushon led the Cubs with 10 goals including 2 game winners. "Joe was our most dangerous offensive player, and he drew a lot of attention from our opponents," said coach Lauffer. "In spite of the pressure on him, Joe excelled. He was the main thrust of our offense."

The 6-10 Behrend Lady Cagers are gearing up for their final month of the 1985-86 season. Seven games remain on the schedule including tomorrow night's home encounter with the Carlow College Celtics at 6 p.m.

Juniors Paula Skaggs, Toni Lumley and Sue Holmes continue to lead the Lady Cubs. Skaggs averages 9.4 points per game and 10.7 rebounds per game while Lumley contributes 9.1 ppg. Holmes adds 12.6 ppg and pulls down 9.2 boards per outing. Behrend is outrebounding its opponents by a margin of five rebounds per game. However, they are giving up an average of 62 ppg while scoring 57 ppg. Since the last issue, the Cubs have defeated Pitt-Bradford, 63-57, while losing to Point Park, 69-77, and Mercyhurst, 66-72.

Students and faculty had the chance to compete in an exhibition basketball game Wed. Jan. 29 before the Behrend Alliance game. The students prevailed 62-30 (official), however, scoreboard read 61-47.
