Behrend hosts career fair April 15

University Relations—Penn State-Behrend will host the 1986 "Focus on Careers," a free career fair for college students and high school seniors, from 2-5 p.m., Tuesday, April 15, in Erie Hall on the campus.

More than 75 different careers, from accounting to zoology, will be represented by Erie area professionals. They will be available to answer students' questions about job prospects, starting salaries, job satisfaction, educational requirements and other issues.

"The fair will provide students with the opportunity to talk with professionals about their careers and how they enjoy their work," says Mary Beth Peterson, Behrend career placement coordinator.

"Students will be able to find out, first-hand, how graduates in their majors are succeeding in the working world. The fair also will help students uncertain about a college major determine what career paths they are interested in."

Now in its second year, the career fair is sponsored by the Erie County College Career Cooperative, which includes representatives from Behrend, Gannon, Edinboro, Mercyhurst, and Villa Maria. Last year the fair attracted more than 250 area students.

Admission is free and open to all area college students and high school seniors. For more information, call the Behrend College Placement Office at (814) 898-6162.
