

Student Voice:

"What would you like to see change at Behrend for next fall?"

Choosing the last Student Voice question for the last issue of the paper is no easy task. We thought we'd ask something about Libya or something political, but while these are urgent issues, a question pertaining directly to Behrend seemed more appropriate. Readers have the whole summer to think about these terrible problems and how we can combat them. This issue's student voice question asks, "What one thing would you like to see change at Behrend for the Fall semester?"

Bernadette Reigel, Second Semester, Education--"Get new typewriters in the library."

Bernadette Reigel

John Moscato

John Moscato, Third Semester, DUS--"I'd definitely like to see better security guards. These ones we have now are totally off the wall."

Lisa Cooper, Seventh Semester, Psychology--"They don't give us

Lisa Cooper

any holidays off like President's birthdays and Jewish holidays."

Yolanda Josey, Second

Yolanda Josey

Semester, Liberal Arts--"The food. It tastes powdered, and everything is processed. It's not really healthy at all."

Collegian Photos/Paul Duda

Continuing Education offers lecture on how to choose colors

by Julie Karasinski Collegian Staff Writer

Did you ever wonder why that one certain outfit gets you more compliments than any other? Sally Horner, a consultant with Color I, an international company that provides image and wardrobe counseling, can tell you. She will be hosting a workshop tonight in Turnbull 204, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., on choosing flattering colors and cost-effective wardrobes.

"It's more important now than ever for women in the work force to project a positive image," says Ms. Horner. And that's just what she'll be discussing: how to create a positive image by choosing colors and clothing that make the most of your best attributes.

Ms. Horner can identify your body's color scheme and blue print (body shape). For example, if you have brown hair, blue eyes and light skin (skin that burns), than you have a gentle color type. You should stick to wearing softer colors like ivory, as opposed to wearing bright colors such as pure white. Never wear colors that sharply contrast like red and black; instead, wear colors that blend. In addition to clothing, make-up, hair styles, eyeglasses, and accessories will be discussed.

Sally Horner has had five years of experience with Color I. She attended a Color I school in California and has gone to wardrobe schools. Now, she's settled in Erie with the first Color I office in the area.

Ms. Horner feels that looking your personal best can be of great help to students, "When people feel good about their appearance," she says, "they have more self confidence." And self confidence is something everyone can use.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOC.

wishes everyone a safe and happy summer

&

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF '86

GOOD LUCK!