

features

Regency harmonizes Behrend with style

by Cheryl Nietupski
Collegian Staff Writer

"Regency" will entertain Behrend College on Sunday, March 22, with an outstanding musical performance of what had originally begun as a "street act" in Baltimore, Maryland. "If you see nothing else this year, you have to see Regency—they're hot!" says Jamie Grimm, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs. Regency is a unique a capella group of performers that combine the best of Classic Motown, Swing, the Beatles, Country and current top-40 music. They have toured many clubs and festivals, and have entertained over 100 college campuses. In fact, Behrend is just one of the many campuses that has had the pleasure of being entertained by Regency. In their past performances at Behrend, students have often had to stand in the aisles in order to watch these fascinating entertainers, because there were no seats left available!

Regency has won the 1985 National Association of Campus Activities (NACA) Award for the Contemporary Artist of the Year, and has written many jingles for commercials. The group consists of twins Dwayne and Wayne McNeil, Milton Ames, Sammy Davis and Anthony Griffin.

Regency will be performing for free as a part of the Cultural Series in the Reed Lecture Hall at 8 p.m.

Roundtable hosts film series

by Jill Tourville
Collegian Staff Writer

The Roundtable Society is featuring two foreign films next month. Dr. Dean Balwin says that these European films are "for people who want to try something older than Hollywood films," and encourages those who want to learn something new to attend. The difference between European films and American films, explains Dr. DeHart, is the approach. "European films require more from the audience. They challenge your thinking and are more artistic and intellectual." The first film will be shown on April 3. Entitled: "I Am My Films," its theme focuses on the famous film director Werner Herzog, "one of the leading names in German cinema," says Dr. DeHart. "I Am My Films" includes Herzog's dream, adventures, and obsessions in his movies. The second film, "Willi-Busch Report," will be shown April 13. Dr. DeHart describes it as "a good look at German relations and small-town press." The films will be shown at 7:30 in the Behrend Science building, room 101.

Also next month the Roundtable Society will sponsor Poet Lois Marie Harrod. More details to come.

SPC gets helpful hints

by Susanna Jalosky
Collegian Staff Writer

On Feb. 12-19, Jamie Grimm and three SPC representatives attended a National Association of Campus Activities (NACA) conference in Nashville. Tim Zbel, Robyn Hovey, Becky Schick, and Jamie Grimm met with students and representatives from 200 other colleges at the Opriland Hotel. They attended seminars, showcase shows and meetings to book entertainment.

There were such seminars as leadership workshops, coffeehouse programs, residence hall programs, and co-op booking. During the day, the students and representatives attended the seminars. The coffeehouse programming seminar was particularly beneficial for our Behrend students. Increase in attendance at dances, concerts, and club acts by carefully booking dates and offering a variety of entertainment were some of the things discussed that could be applied to our very own Wintergreen

Cafe. During the evenings from 8-11 p.m. there were showcases: 20-minute acts would perform to familiarize the students with as many acts as possible. At this time the students would attend co-op booking meetings. The idea was to put together a tour for each of the desired entertainers. Colleges like Pitt and Gannon would book dates complying with Behrend and neighboring colleges, therefore forming a tour for the band or comedian. By doing this, the bookings are cheaper and easily accessible.

Our representatives returned with some exciting things to look forward to. Behrend's big "hit", Caruso, is coming back along with Tim Settini, named best entertainer of the year, and Sue Kolinsky, a well-known comedian who's appeared on Saturday Night Live, and Cool Rays, to name a few.

Jamie Grimm and SPC are to be commended for their efforts and accomplishments. Thanks to them, ahead of Behrend students lie endless days and nights of exciting fun and entertainment.

Crossword Companion

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12			13				14
15			16			17	18		19
	20				21			22
23	24			25			26
27			28			29			30	31
32		33			34				35
36		37			38			39
	40			41			42
43	44			45			46
47			48			49			50	51
52		53			54	55			56
57					58				59

ACROSS

- Some
- Person from Denmark
- Kinds of car (abbr.)
- Southern constellation
- Reed instrument
- Layer
- Go to bed
- Fink
- At
- Pig Pen
- Male reference
- Stitch
- Sneaker
- Expression of surprise
- Leave
- Owne (Scot.)
- Ban
- Under
- Ego
- Wary
- Symbol for radium
- Lure
- Can
- Sillet
- To
- Noise
- Wale
- Rule
- Military command (abbr.)
- Put
- Else
- Err
- Canadian province
- Turn
- Zip
- Appendage
- Vortex
- Garden
- Look

DOWN

- Away
- Before (Poetic)
- Sherlock's friend
- Boat
- Presidential nickname
- Nay
- Scary
- Fall month (abbr.)
- Behold
- Fruit
- Put away
- Follow (suf.)
- Morning
- Believes different than church
- Sun
- Replied
- Conceal
- Fish
- Clot
- Inlet
- Bread
- Spoken
- Need
- Bed
- Dorsal
- Squak
- Alae
- Rumba
- Dampen
- Ore vein
- Dry
- Note on musical scale
- Gun
- Sneaky
- Poem
- Small
- Eon
- Public announcement
- Overdose

Puzzle #109

Psycho Comics

WHEN POLE VAULTERS TRIP.