STAFF MEMBERS POSE FOR SPORTS ILLUSTRATED

Former Collegian Editor Steve Aller and current Collegian Sports Editor David Bruce have reportedly been selected to model in Sports Illustrated's first annual male swimsuit issue, due on newstands on April 1.

Bruce, a senior at Penn- State Behrend, said "I was humbled by the choice, I have prepared myself for years just hoping for a chance like this, but I never thought that it would come true."

"The trip to Morocco (for the photo shoot) was fabulous, and some of the outfits were outrageous," said Aller, a really think that the women are going to love it."

Both Aller and Bruce believe that this experience has changed their lives forever.

"I have gotten over 200 calls from women at Behrend who want to go out with me," said Aller, "I just can't keep up, I need sleep."

"My life has changed, mostly for the good," said Bruce, "but I get the feeling that I have become a sex object, and that dissapoints me because I want the women to respect my mind as well as my body."
