GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Meet The "Playmates" and The "Untouchables"

by Tony McGovern

There is a volleyball team at capitol and among the girls on the teams, the game is enjoyed quite a bit. The girls find the game a good break from schoolwork and find it enjoyable and competitive.

The development of the teams is most amusing. The Playmates I are all from one house, 952B Kirtland Avenue, consisting of Donna Walter, Jackie Strum, Marilyn Coriell, and Karen Bath. Playmates II is a combination of two houses, 828A Nelson Drive, with R. A. Shiela Ryan, Theresa Kaminski, Barbara Jagozinski, and Gerry Delaney, and 824A Nelson, where Karen Cunningham, Mary Pat Dougherty, Lexy Lucia, and Debbie Sklar make up the other half. Barbara Kayes and B. J. Hatfield are two other members of Playmates II. A team calling itself The Untouchables consists of Maureen Beirne, Lydia Taggart, and Ann Marie Pol-chick.

During a pleasant interview with Gerry Delandy, she told me that all the girls find volleyball a lot of fun, and a good break from the home existence. She said that in her house, Shiela and herself turned the other girls on to the game. She said that once the girls play, they find themselves coming back again and again. It seems that the secret is in getting people who know one another to get together and join in the volleyball fun.

The team meets for one hour on Monday nights from eight to nine o'clock. The dress is casual, consisting of a blue and white striped shirt and a pair of blue jeans. Officials are present for the girls volleyball games.

Why not give it a try, girls, it should be fun.

certs, parties, and so forth, say so. If you remember what it was like last Winter with no Snack Bar, and were stuck in the dorm and liked it, make your feelings known. The times have changed and the issues may have changed, but I submit to you that people still enjoy a good time. . . and if your Social Committee isn't providing that for you, it deserves to die, and well it might. At least it has been responding to a contemporary theme: "Help one another". Have You?
