INTRAMURALS PROVE TO BE POPULAR

by Don Hossler

The month of June has sprung upon us, designating the end of another Capitol Campus academic year. As the academic year closes, sports activities subside. The sports activities at Capitol, for 1970-71, improved greatly from previous years through a combination of innovation and enthusiasm.

Much of the innovation is supplied by Bob Stanley, serving his first year as Recreation/Athletic Coordinator. Bob instituted the idea of a Recreation/Athletic Council made up of students to help formulate and oversee sports activities on Campus. This organization is now functioning and has contributed greatly to the variety of sports activities available at Capitol. An All-Sports Trophy was also inaugurated this year, as well as an extremely wide offering of sporting activities for all students, faculty, and staff. Enthusiasm can be seen at a Recreation/Athletic Council meeting, the many spring softball teams organized, or by speaking with Bob Stanley.

The fall 1970-71 sports were very popular with flag football drawing almost 50% more participation than the 1969-70 season. The DMZ's dominated the fall intramural scene capturing the All-Sports Trophy with championships in football, volleyball and walk-a-mile. A varsity cross-country team competed against other colleges.

The winter term unfolded in January bringing on basketball, books and snow. For the second straight term the DMZ's dominated the Capitol intramural sports picture by winning the All-Sports Trophy. The DMZ's took volleyball—men's and co-ed and many one day events. The DMZ's basketball team traveled to a tournament at Harrisburg Area Community College bringing home a 4th place trophy. The intramural basketball championship was won by the Raiders. The dark-horse team of the season best typifies the Raiders as they knocked off the DMZ in the playoffs. Varsity basketball completed a won 3—lost 9 record. The need for a larger gym was realized this year, as the varsity chose to play their games at the Main Street Gym. The Base Gym was also crowded each night with pick-up basketball participants.

Spring term sports were successful on varsity terms as the Golf and Tennis teams compiled good records against inter-collegiate competition. The baseball club was organized and played a number of games with schools such as Franklin and Marshall and Lebanon Valley.

On the spring intramural scene something devious was brewing. The Studs, a motley crew of dorm residents, had been trying to gain the All-Sports Trophy since the fall term. Led by the Captain Joe Zalewski, "Studs" were going to wrest the coveted "All-Sports Trophy" from the clutches of the "DMZ". At the Studs DMZ softball game an All-Sports Trophy gleam was seen in each of the "Studs" eyes, except Marc Joseph who still wanted to beat DMZ Mike Tannous one on one in basketball. While in contrast the DMZ's, all seniors except Tannous, had a tired, book-worn, kind of elderly look in their eyes.

The track meet saw another confrontation between the well-disciplined Studs and aging DMZ's. The Studs still sported the All-Sports gleam. The DMZ's were looking for graduation and their chance to stand in the bread and unemployment lines of Waterfall, Murrysville, Pittsburgh and Elizabethtown. The meet was won by the Studs and the total All-Sports Trophy points began to accumulate, in their favor. The Studs wrapped up the spring term intramural sports schedule with wins in walk-a-mile and golf. Now, all that's left is softball. The Studs hold a commanding lead for the All-Sports Trophy. If the DMZ's capture the softball championship they may be able to slip the Studs for the All-Sports Trophy. You can find out who wins by attending the Championship softball game, June 7th at 7:00 p.m. on Field "A".

WALK-A-MILE

by Joe Zalewski

With only 14 walkers assembling at the Athletic Building on Wednesday, May 26, the second Intramural Walk-A-Mile of this year got underway.

The course covered a distance of approximately one mile. It started at the Athletic Building, went down the road past softball field "B", past the University Apartments, and up to the Athletic Building for the finish.

The only rules involved were that the participants had to stay on the road and use a heel-toe style of walking. Bob Stanley and a spotter followed the pack in a car to make sure no one violated the rules.

Twelve men and two women lined up for the start. Represented were the Studs with 10 men and the DMZ with 2. The only 2 female contestants were from the Little Studs.

The participants formed a straight line for the start. Dick White of the Studs grabbed an early lead with Don Hossler close behind. White's lead lasted about half a mile until Hossler caught him near the University Apartments. Each racer fought to gain the lead from then on.

With a final burst of determination, White crossed the finish line ahead of Hossler with a time of 8:28.78. Hossler finished an extremely close second with a time of 8:29.21, the margin of victory being less than a second.

After the race, Hossler was quoted as saying: "White ran a smart race. I underestimated his final kick". Don was also peeved at himself for having lost track of the location of the finish line.

Third, fourth, and fifth places went to Shabelski, Hall, and Labar respectively, all of the Studs. Jim Kihm of the DMZ copped sixth. Voglesong finished seventh and Zalewski eighth. They were followed by Kilgallon, Hartman, Matonis, and Hafer.

The two girls in the walk-a-mile finished in a dead heat for first. Connie Sinko and Marcy Olshansky were both clocked at 17:11.0.

It should also be mentioned that there were several startled motorists who were traveling along the course during race time.

CAPITOL LOSES CLOSE ONE

by Ed Gregorich

On May 20th the Capitol Campus Baseball Team traveled to Easton, Pennsylvania to play North Hampton Community College. Capitol went into the game with an 0-3 mark, while North Hampton carried an 8-7 record.

North Hampton scored first in the game with a run in the first inning, but Capitol came right back with two in the second, on a triple by Denny McKernan after two men walked. In their half of the second inning, North Hampton scored three runs on two hits and then took the lead. Capitol scored one run in the third inning.

The big inning for Capitol came in the sixth when they scored four runs on four hits, but still fell one run short of tying the game. The big hits in that inning came from Gregorich, Wolfe, Guss and Risenger.

The losing pitcher was Denny Cole who struck out nine and walked two. This was a superb performance by the stocky right hander, but still left his record at an 0-2 mark.

CAPITOL LOSES TO MESSIAH IN FIRST

On May 12, Capitol Campus played its first varsity baseball game. The day was overcast with an occasional shower, but the field was in good condition.

Messiah got the first score on the board with their four runs in the second inning on two walks, two errors, and two singles. They scored again in the third, fourth, and eighth innings with three, two and two runs respectively.

Capitol had many opportunities but just couldn't put anything across. The biggest threat came in the third inning when Ed Gregorich singled to the left with one out. Then Steve Rosenzweig singled to right, and Bob Guss walked to load the bases, but the next two men were retired on a strikeout and a ground out.

The hitting stars for Capitol were Ed Gregorich with two, Dick Risenger, and Steve Rosenzweig with one each.

The losing pitcher for Capitol was Denny Cole who was relieved by Greg Fondek in the sixth inning.

DR. SHOCK ON TOP

by Mike Kilgallon

"Let There Be Fright", the well known phrase of Scream-In and T.V. Dr. Shock must have its effects on opponents of this currently first place team, Dr. Shock.

On Wednesday night May 26, Dr. Shock continued their supremacy on the bowling alleys by whipping the Studs, 3½ games to ½ game. It all started out as Studs' supremacy for six frames at that point Gunther Idler was leading the Studs. But the Dr. Shock quintet was not to be undermined. Bruce Williams and Rick McDonough started striking about the seventh frame, and as the tenth frame came, one pin seemed to be the difference. As the final bowlers finished up it looked like a one point victory for Dr. Shock. But the scores were checked for any possible wrong calculations. An error was detected. A one point mistake caused a tie for the Studs and a lost victory for the Dr. Shock team.

In the remaining games between these two teams, Dr. Shock took command, but the Studs kept bowling and hanging in there but all of it as to no avail. Stan Kobylanski (high game 185) and Stan Krumsky (high game 173) of Dr. Shock and Studs respectively lead their teams in the second game.

As the final ball rolled, it was Dr. Shock still on top of the bunch by a 2½ game lead.

The final stats showed Mike Komishock with a 162 average for the night and Rick McDonough also had a good showing. The Studs leaders were the hard-throwing Stan Krumsky, Gunther Idler and also Jerome Matonis coming through with a good third game.

In another game that was of big interest, was the contest between Last Place (currently the second place team) and the Sandbox-5. Here we saw Last Place give 130 pins handicap and defeat this "girls" team by a 3 to 1 score. Last Place was lead by the great bowling of Bill Hickman with scores of 199-168-214. Bill Hoffman added his skill for the victory. Kay King lead the Sandboxes. In other league action, Julie Padula and the Little Studs won four games by the forfeit of the Sons of Italy. The Hermies were victorious over the No Names by a score of 3 to 1, and Movement over Orpheus also by a 3 to 1 margin.
