This Week In The SGA

This week's article will cover the past two meetings of the Student Government Association. Provost Robert E. McDermott made his initial appearance before the SGA and talked about the first few weeks of his administration.

The Finance Committee's request for a ceiling of $350 on the Senior Class gift was approved. Tarnhelm, Capitol's literary magazine, and I.T.E. and the Chess Club were allocated funds for organizational conduct. The Social Committee was granted a loan of $1,000, to be repaid from the concessions of the Rock Festival, to be held in May. President Terry Wimmer established a committee to investigate practices of area college radio stations and to make recommendations to improve WZAP's financial problems.

Teacher and course evaluation forms are being distributed this week, to be returned before the end of the term. The written remark area, it is hoped, will add to the subjective value of the evaluations and will establish more concrete feedback.

Two new organizational charters were approved: the Traffic Engineers Club (I.T.E.) and the Christian Science charter. Three club charters were revoked: The Judo Club, the Young Democrats, and the Environmental Committee, all because of inaction. The Charter Review Committee warns that some organizations need charter revisions and will be notified soon. Lenny Thompson was appointed Chairman of the Teaching Award Committee.

Mike Dini, as Chairman of the sub-committee on Student Participation in Academic Affairs, requested student comments and suggestions pertaining to the report of Guidelines of Student Participation in Academic Affairs at Capitol Campus. Students are urged to pick up a copy in the SGA office.

Wimmer announced the Constitutional Amendment was defeated. 187 voted in favor and 72 opposed it, but it did not pass due to the failure to achieve the required two-thirds majority. Dean Grimm has established an Area Coordinator for Meade Heights. Senate members will investigate the possibility of the Farm Show Arena as a site for commencement ceremonies. A campus site, though, is the first choice. A committee was established to discuss designating an award at graduation, named in memory of Dr. Jordan.

Sen. Armand Mundy was recalled by the Senate, due to lack of meeting attendance. Mundy had three unexcused absences this year, which according to the Constitution results in the dismissal of senatorial duties.

Dr. Saylor announced that the Business program will conduct interviews for new faculty positions. There will be an interview today, March 9th at 2:00 p.m. in E-235. On Friday, March 10th, at 2:15 p.m. in the Gallery Lounge, another interview will be held. Any student in the business program or any other interested non-business students are invited.

Wimmer announced that the Faculty Council recommends that counselors be given full faculty status and privileges. The counselors are Dr. Lefkowitz and Miss Kreiger. The Faculty Control is also considering deleting the 21 day drop-add period. Wimmer pointed out that there is a rule J-3 which allows a student to drop a course after 21 days under extenuating circumstances.

The Senior semi-formal dinner dance will be held June 3rd. The Senate discussed the possibility of allowing juniors to participate also. The SGA adjourned and will not meet again until next term.

All proceeds support the AAUW Scholarships Fund. Mrs. Thomas H. Spiers, Jr. is chairman of the Fellowships/Scholarships Committee.

CAPITOLIST Moves

Last Saturday, the CAPITOLIST officially moved into its new office in the main room of the SGA office. From the former isolated office in the placement building, the new office should help promote intra-campus communication.

Originally planned for the fall term, the new office was completed last week with the help of Mr. Burleigh. As is the case with some of our other plans, the new office was delayed by the rigors of publishing a newspaper every week and not by red tape. In fact, when we did finalize the plans and obtain the necessary approval, the office was completed within three weeks.

Weekend on Women's Health

A series of workshops considering facets of a woman's body will be held on Saturday, March 11, and Sunday, March 12, at the Camp Curtin YMCA, Sixth and Woodbine Streets, Harrisburg. The programs are free and limited nursery care will be available (bring toys).

4:00 p.m., Ellen Frankfort and Naomi Mayer, RN and certified nurse midwife, on SELF HELP including pregnancy tests and other ideas.
Sunday, 2:00 p.m., Representative of ZPC on ZERO POPULATION GROWTH.

2:00 p.m., Susan Jameson and Barbara Glenn with AN OPEN DISCUSSION ON ABORTION for women who have not made an opinion on this topic.

3:00 p.m., Political Action Workshop - discussing avenues such as lobbying and the abortion hearings for political action.

3:00 p.m., LEGAL RIGHTS OF WOMEN AS PATIENTS.

This program is sponsored by the Harrisburg Women's Rights Movement, Harrisburg YWCA and the Women's Forum of the National Defense Committee. For more information call either 234-7931 or 232-7531.

With the move of the office furniture, the move was made official last week. The new office will be the location of all the processes necessary to the publication of the newspaper.

In addition, we will try to have a staff member in the office as often as possible. It is our hope that the central location will make getting news to us easier and will be reflected in better news reporting.

The old office will be maintained with the hope that we can put some composition equipment in next year. The equipment would further improve the paper by cutting costs and printing time. If we can swing it, the eight-page CAPITOLIST which now appears only infrequently will be common and even regular next year.

So drop in to see us next term. Put your articles, letters or classified ads in the box, or just come by to shoot the shit. Let us know what's in your head, perhaps we can help find out what's going on here. And Thank You, Mr. Burleigh.

DTK Elections

At its most recent meeting, Delta Tau Kappa, the social science honor society, elected new officers.

The new personnel are: President, Gaye Miles; Vice-President of Programs, Elaine Parker; Vice-President of Membership, Galen Smyers; Secretary, Alice Krull; Treasurer, Fred Manas; Chairman of Publicity, R.W. Bonaker. The officers assumed their posts immediately.

The society also announced its dinner will be held April 6, 1972 at Schindler's Restaurant, Camp Hill. The smorgasbord affair will feature a speaker who serves in Pennsylvania government. All those who wish to attend the dinner are requested to pay the four dollars fee prior to the end of the Winter Term.

DTK is also planning other activities for the Spring Term. The society invites all social science students who have a 3.0 or better grade average at Capitol Campus to join.

Gay Miles, DTK's new President, announced that there will be a regular meeting the first day of the spring term. The meeting will be April 4, 1972, at 7:00 p.m. in the T.V. Lounge. The organization will utilize the session to finalize plans for the dinner, to be held April 6, 1972.
