

Letter To The Editor Loan Fund?

Dear Editor:

Re: Editorial -
"It's Your Decision"

Without question there is no better use for the $5.00 Cap and Gown fee than for the Cap & Gown. After all, this is similar to other fees related to the attaining of a degree - application, tuition, room and board, schedule changes, transcripts, and so on.

Nonetheless, there is a fund which should be established and so many who should get into the act will only stand and watch the parade go by. Later they will be totally unaware of another missed opportunity.

Shortly, Mr. Herpel will retire after 35 years of University service affecting 25% of its life. His efforts on behalf of the outlying campuses and all students are well chronicled. Establishing a Loan Fund in appreciation would be an expression well worth all necessary effort. The Fund currently operating was his creation. The Faculty Wives Club has made additional contributions and hope to add more soon. Its outreaching effects are limitless.

Surely this is one decision that should come naturally.

Very truly yours,
George Dressler
Financial Officer

Applications

It is expected that Resident Assistants will advise and counsel students within the limits of training and capability available to them.

3. Resident Assistants are to be cognizant of student conduct in their areas and to report problems to the Residence Coordinator when they occur.

4. Resident Assistants are expected to help organize and maintain the educational, athletic, cultural, social and other activities sponsored by the Office of Residence Living Programs.

5. Resident Assistants are expected to support the functioning residence governments within the area.

6. Resident Assistants should serve as examples for other students. A standard of personal conduct commensurate with responsibilities of the position should at all times be maintained.

Remuneration

Residence Halls: $410 fee reduction per term.

Meade Heights: $310 fee reduction per term.

Steps In The Application Process

1. Candidates must be matriculating at the Capitol Campus as full-time undergraduate or graduate students at the time of filing an application for the position.

2. Candidates must have filed an application for on-campus housing for the 1972-73 academic year before applying for a Resident Assistant position.

3. Candidates must have a cumulative Grade Point Average of no less than 2.20 at the Capitol Campus. This average must be maintained during the period of appointment.

4. Complete the application. Be sure that the addresses of those three persons you have listed as references are complete and correct. The Residence Living Office will mail the recommendation forms directly to the persons you specify. At least one of your references should be the Dean of Students or your academic advisor from the previous college attended.

5. Candidates who have a preference for a particular area (i.e. Meade Heights or the Residence Halls) should so indicate on their application. Persons are assigned to the particular areas in relation to their relative individual strengths. Area preferences can therefore not be guaranteed. You have the right not to accept an offer for appointment in a particular area, but you will not be reconsidered for positions in other areas.

6. All application forms must be returned Friday, April 21, at 5 p.m. in the Office of Student Affairs (W-101). When the recommendations have arrived, your file is considered complete.

7. When your file is complete, you will be notified concerning the scheduling of interviews.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend. If unable to attend, although interested in appointment as a Resident Assistant, you may acquire an application in the Office of Residence Living Programs - W-101, Main Building. Applications must be returned to this office no later than Friday, April 21, 1972, at 5 p.m.

Dr. McAree Wants To See You

Dr. James McAree, Social Science Program Head, has established a basis for consulting with social science seniors who will graduate at the end of the term.

McAree hopes the private talks to be pleasant conversation about the future of the individual students, as well as individual impressions of their academic career at Capitol Campus.

Also, he wants to institute a system whereby the graduated students can return information to him concerning their success on the job market or their present academic situation.

All graduating students in the social science curriculum are invited to participate. Dr. McAree will be in his office, W-157, every morning throughout the term. Appointments are not necessary. If he is occupied at the time a student wants to see him, he is requested to return later. Dr. McAree wants to see everyone, even if they have consulted with him several times before.

Deferred Grades Due

Deferred grades for the Winter Term 1972 are due May 18th, as specified in the University Policies and Rules for Students, Section Two, M-6. All deferred grades should be submitted to E-106 no later than Noon on May 17th so that they may be processed and sent to University Park. In the event that it is not possible to submit the deferred grade, a form for an extension must be filled out. Extension forms are available in Room E-106.

Answers

A questionnaire has been distributed to all junior students and faculty by the Cultural Programs Committee. The responses will be utilized by the committee to plan next year's program.

The committee hopes that everyone will take the time to complete the questionnaire and return it to the Student Activities Office, W-105, Main Building.

ON THE MOVE Dear Stud And Uncle Slime

michael chew

... due to an error in your packet or a course closing, you did not receive all the courses you requested... Well that's sweet, and its also a normal predicament for all us students on and during registration day. You go in there and you have about two minutes with hundreds of other disenfranchised students, to make a simple decision on your life. It was suggested by a fellow drone while we were standing in line, that if you don't get a course they could at least tell you what course you didn't get. This way, registration wouldn't be as disturbing as it is, that's just on the surface though. See you simple fuck, its an error in your head, Slim Slygh, this school, and today's society does not make mistakes. Everybody knows that we the stud-drones are here to serve the machine (Sieg Heil). Regardless, ain't Slim cute when he's efficient.

So we all did our comic phoney duck scene of registering for our education, well that's the way I view it anyway. I did have the fortune to rap to a few fellow studs who asked me, "Well what degree are you working for, what are you going to be, a BA, BS, or a BU?" I proceeded to discuss some more cosmic relationships, and this stud asks me about degrees. It seems that Slim and his cronies have really sucked some peoples' fine minds - now they're just the amerikan idea of niggers (white or otherwise, no squirrels admitted).

"Mein furher, this young man does not haf his papers - Where are your papers mein schmuck?" "You do not haf your papers in order, well you must go to the end of the line, a gas chamber is waiting for you, See you in Auswitch, the great fire oven in the sky - Sieg Heil!" "Sieg Heil Mein Furher!"

So some funky assed commander puts someone at the head of the class, and you know, its always slim pickings on the way down, way down in the heart of your educational brain, locked, and put under key. And then its very obvious to see that no one give a fuck about education in this god forsaken hole. Experiencing registration is a joke, its not real, but the most disquieting fact of the matter is, that it is real. This advisor tells me that I can't take the courses I want, Well I want this, Its closed, Well I'll take it anyway, You can't! I guess that told me, but that dude-fuck is really interfering with my education, while all the while giving me a new one; I just look under his surface. Some good theatre might have been to whip a can of blood out and shot the bastard, the pagan bastard.

So this guy is only adding to my nightmare, and to further relate our mendacity (or the systems), we're gonna really relate to this paper illusion, we're going to get into the Drop-Add dazes. Its just more paper and nothing else. Only if you could only shove that paper and save a tree, Halt the machine, I want to get off. Then slinking down to the bathroom, cop me a stall, whip out this pint of Rye Whiskey, take a little hit... Zow! What a rush!

Returning to the inner-stellar hallways, dissolution is rolling through the Isle of Man, or at least through the hallways of your brain; in thirty-three and a third, no less. One just blows around tryin' to fight this confusion - Hey, somebody say something real, meaningful... Attencion' Pleeze, courses M4193-A and BS420-P have been D-Eightened, so check your 014's and your Zero O Ones! Repeat, I say courses... his voice dies away, Take II -- a long scream, primal at that. Still, I feel insane, but secure in my own madness.

Uncle Slim trucks by me, sweating underarms swollen in bureaucracy, Sieg Heil! Ole Slim, he's cool and regardless, only gettin' a little red in the face; But I'm not here to blow Slim away, he's just doin' his job. Maybe he could go a little easier on his health, sit back and take a simple suggestion; There must be a better way. I mean, man what are you doing, what are you perpetuating, what are you creating, why are you destroying the right to free education, why are you closing the door to the light, why can't registration be a three day trip into understanding. There's got to be another way cause this other way only puts people uptight, dissatisfied, and aborted.

Regardless, one flew east, one flew west, I went on over the cuckoo's nest with McPatrick, and we left Big Nurse with all the rabbits for a good Irish Drunk... this is the hangover.
