

FROM YOUR Editor Orientation People Appreciated

We take this opportunity to acknowledge the efforts of students who played such a big part in the Orientation Week activities.

Without the extensive planning and the hard work put in by these people, the week would not have been the success which it was. In this respect, we believe we speak for the entire student population.

The Orientation Committee, under Miss Mary E. Gundel, directed the activities which initiated new students to the atmosphere of Capitol Campus. Rita Girondi, Mark Israel and Mike Dini, along with a few others, worked diligently on the committee.

Recognition must also be extended to students who coordinated many of the other activities. The list is incomplete, but here are many of the names which come to mind: Sam Randazzo, Max Brady, John Sheridan, Ray Nearhood, Gene Bryan, Sy Sebastianelli, Bill Reilly and countless others.

Thank you,
THE CAPITOLIST

Social Committee Meets Tonight

The Social Committee will hold its first meeting of the year tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the TV Lounge.

Officers and members of all the campus organizations, as well as new and returning students, are asked to be present for this meeting.

The purpose of the meeting will be to get activities for the coming year coordinated with the intents of the various organizations, also the Social Committee is anxious to hear from students with ideas for possible activities not yet considered.

A good turnout of interested students is a must if the Social Committee is to succeed in their plans for the coming year, so if you qualify as an interested student attend the Social Committee's meeting tonight.

Bathtub Race Benefits Cancer Fund

One Saturday this past August, students representing Capitol Campus and Harrisburg Area Community College raised nearly $300 for the American Cancer Society by merely taking a bath.

Actually, it involved a "race" between two bathtubs throughout the City of Harrisburg. The mobile tubs, which were constructed by Capitol engineering students for a similar race in May, started from points equal in distance from Harrisburg's Market Square and slowly made progress toward the finish. Along the way, the two tub teams received donations for the cancer fund from curious onlookers.

The event, which was a part of a "Cancer Carnival" which was staged during the week, was coordinated through the efforts of Capitol Student Government President Mike Dini, and representatives of HACC.

The "race" lasted approximately five hours and each tub covered a course of a few grueling miles. The Capitol entry tried to beat the HACC entry to Market Square from a point in the outer reaches of the Allison Hill district of the state capital. The HACC contingent began in the Uptown section of Harrisburg. When the teams had reached the square, the HACC team had garnered only $17 more than the one from Capitol.

One-dollar per minute was the average donation during the event. The trek was difficult indeed for those participating as the cast iron or enamel tubs were propelled solely by man-power.

Once the tubs entered the Downtown portion of Harrisburg, they were escorted to Market Square by the city police department. In relation to the event, following is a letter to Mike Dini acknowledging his effort and that of others in making the carnival a huge success. The letter is from James Straub, Director of Public Safety.

SGA Appreciated

Mr. Mike Dini, President
Capitol Campus SGA

I have your recent thank you note expressing your appreciation to the members of the Harrisburg Police Department for the escorts provided in Downtown Harrisburg on August 19, 1972 during your "Bathtub Race" activities.

The Harrisburg Police Department is always happy to cooperate with any organization in furthering a worthy cause and I am sure that the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce officials were equally happy to work with your group to provide funds through the 1972 Cancer Carnival to help fight this dread disease.

May I congratulate your student group for the interest and energy you displayed in this very worthy cause.

Most cordially,
James A. Straub,
Director of Public Safety
City of Harrisburg

Political Information Seminar

On Tuesday, October 3, 1972, a Political Information Seminar will be staged in Capitol's auditorium, starting at 7:00 p.m.

People who represent the George McGovern and Richard Nixon presidential campaign organizations will be the featured speakers. The event is being sponsored by Delta Tau Kappa, the international social science honor society based on campus, and the Capitol chapter of the College Republicans and Young Democrats from Harrisburg Area Community College.

Ted Stellwag, Executive Director of the local Committee to Reelect the President, and John Nikoloff, Coordinator of the Dauphin County McGovern for President Committee will take the opportunity to inform potential young voters about the candidates. Each will offer a brief presentation on some of the candidate's proposals and elaborate on the party platform. The presentation will not be in debate form and there will be a question and answer period following the presentations.

The seminar is being produced in conjunction with a voting registration drive for the General Election on November 7. Students who live on campus can register to vote in this district (Lower Swatara Township) on Wednesday, October 4, in Vendorville from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. College students can vote in their collegiate residential district via an edict by Pennsylvania Attorney General Shane Creamer last year.

The traveling registrar will also visit HACC on Tuesday, October 3, from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and the Middletown Municipal Building on October 5 from 6-9 p.m. Prospective voters can register at the Dauphin County Courthouse, Front Street, Harrisburg, until October 10.

Abandoned Pets Pose Problems

Students moving into Meade Heights have reported a number of stray and abandoned pets roving about.

Since it is against University regulations to house pets on campus, some other place off-campus must be found.

Anyone knowing of a place or places where these pets might be given homes is asked to contact either Bob Bonaker or Mike Welliver in W-104, Main Building. If you have found any of these strays, contact us immediately and we will try to find homes for them somewhere off-campus.

Journalism Courses Postponed

Students who were planning on picking up some courses in Journalism this year will be dismayed to learn that there will be no courses offered in that field in the coming year.

Failure of the Academic Affairs Committee to meet and set up a series of courses and acquire a faculty member to teach the courses is the reason for the postponement.

If you are interested in getting some courses in Journalism at Capitol, you'll just have to wait until the Fall Term of '73, at which time there is to be a program started.

Japanese Dancer To Present Program

On Monday, October 2, 1972, Ayako Uchiyama, a Japanese Kabuki dancer, will present the first program of the 1972-73 Capitol Campus Cultural Program series.

The Kabuki Dance offers the audience an opportunity to experience the Japanese culture. The choreography is such that the story told by the dance is brought to life. Graceful and yet dramatic, the traditional dance of ancient Japan is truly beautiful. The elaborate costumes of the dance add life and vitality to the story.

Ayako Uchiyama studied dance at the Mizuki school and Hoshio Noh in Japan. She has also studied with Martha Graham in New York. Her performances have received wide acclaim in the United States, Canada and Japan.

There will be an evening performance at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Main Building and a lecture/slide presentation at 2:00 p.m. in the Gallery-Lounge in the Main Building. The public is cordially invited to both presentations. There is no admission charge.

Future cultural programs include a drama production "Dawn of Freedom" on November 6 and a performance of electronic music on November 27.

Swiss Banker To Address Policy Group

Featured speaker at the Harrisburg Foreign Policy Association's first meeting of the season on Thursday, September 28, at Schindler's Restaurant in Camp Hill will be Dr. A. Robert Lang, prominent Swiss banker.

His topic will be "Switzerland's Position in International Policy: Its Background and Current Problems". Dr. Lang's talk, which is free and open to the public, is scheduled for 8:00 p.m.

Ted Gress, president of the Harrisburg FPA, in announcing the meeting, stressed the timeliness of Dr. Lang's address, which will deal in part with the world monetary situation, now in a state of flux. The speaker will be introduced by the Honorable G. Allen Patterson, Pennsylvania's secretary of banking, and the association has extended a special invitation to attend to all Central Pennsylvania bankers.

Since 1959, Dr. Lang has been one of the general managers of Credit Suisse, one of Switzerland's three major banks, in Zurich. In the Swiss Army Dr. Lang holds the rank of brigadier, corresponding to a one-star general in the U.S. Army. This is the highest military rank a nonprofessional officer can attain in Switzerland.

New members of the Harrisburg FPA will be signed up at the meeting, which will mark the climax of the 1972 membership campaign, spearheaded by Mrs. Florence H. Aungst, membership chairman. Goal of the campaign is the doubling of local FPA membership.

Free Advertising

THE CAPITOLIST offers what may be considered a unique, while very beneficial, service to on-campus groups and organizations. That service is FREE advertising or publicity. Classified Ads, which will appear in small print, are also FREE, but only to the Capitol Community.

Profit-making organizations not related to Capitol Campus will be charged nominal prices for abundant advertising space. For example, only $4.50 will pay for a four inch by one column ad. A four by two ad is eight dollars, one-tenth a page is 10 dollars, while a quarter page ad is 15 dollars. $30 will bring a half page ad while for only $60, a full page can be guaranteed.

THE CAPITOLIST is a non-profit organization, funded by the Student Government Association. Advertising charges are levied only to help pay for the cost of publishing a weekly tabloid.

All articles and advertising that qualify for printing will be graciously accepted. The paper is published on Thursday of every week during the academic term. To meet printing deadlines, all information submitted to the editorial staff must be received by Friday before publication — which is a deadline six days before the issue comes out.

THE CAPITOLIST exists a means of communication for the entire community. Feel free to submit articles that say something, or do something, or enlighten. All letters to the editor will be printed — uncensored and uncut — bar none. Only signed letters will be accepted, however.

If you are a person of free spirit and mind and are dedicated to helping others by listening to them and giving them a chance to express their views, please join us. We of the editorial staff of THE CAPITOLIST are anxious to do things but we can't do it alone. If you want to help, contact either Bob Bonaker or Mike Welliver, 826-B Nelson Drive, Meade Heights, or come see us at our office, W-104, Main Building, phone 787-1663. You'll be glad you did.
