

Business Students— Take Note!

By Michael Collins

This year business students at Capitol Campus will find some new changes and many opportunities open to them. First in extracurricular activities there is the Business Club.

The Business Club, with its new name Beta Chi is growing and looking for more new members. Beta Chi's membership is presently 44 students (only two women) out of a total of 430 business students.

Each year the club offers a program of activities such as dances, Casino Nights, and slave sales. With the funds obtained from such affairs, the club is able to finance its educational activities.

Last year the club took a trip to the Transpo Exposition in Washington D. C. Here club members were introduced to the problems and some of the future plans and ideas of transportation. At the meetings films are sometimes shown, which depicts different facets of the business world. So get involved and join Beta Chi.

In the Business Curriculum the outlook is good as plans for expansion and improvements are in the making. For the first time courses in Health Administration are being offered under the auspicious of the Health Administration Program. The program currently carries four courses which will be available over a three semester span. Dr. Tucker, the head of a prominent hospital in the area, is the instructor for the courses.

Another improvement which may be realized in the winter term is the addition of some special topic courses. Some of the courses being coffered are: Advertising, Information Management, Commercial Bank Management, and Econometrics. The Business Department will try to make these courses truly unique and attempt to lure specialists in these fields of industry to come in and lecture in these courses.

The Business Department is also looking at the possibilities of hiring more instructors and also having the school accredited by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools. To qualify for such accreditation the school must meet all the standards of the association, including one which states that junior college students who transfer to an upper division school can receive credit for only the basic business courses (basic accounting, economics and statistics) while all other business courses must be taken at the upper division school.

This subject of accreditation by the A.C.B.S. is ambiguous, in that nobody really knows the benefits of such accreditation and that such accreditation will cut down on the number of students able to transfer here which is something the Business Department does not wish to do.

Test Dates for Teacher Examinations

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY. College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates specified by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 11, 1972, and January 27, April 7, and July 21, 1973. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification of licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations. The school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are listed in an NTE leaflet entitled SCORE USERS which may be obtained by writing to ETS.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general educational background and a Teaching Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The BULLETIN OF INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES contains a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.
