CLEP Exams offered

Four new subject examinations in medical technology have been added to those 29 subject College Level Entrance Examinations (CLEP) now offered monthly at the Central Pennsylvania Test Center located at Capitol Campus.

Those subjects include: Clinical Chemistry, Hematology, Immunohematology and Microbiology.

Two kinds of CLEP examinations are offered at Capitol. The subject exams, such as those recently added, measure achievement in specific undergraduate college courses. The general examinations measure achievement in five basic areas of the Liberal Arts - English Composition, Humanities, Mathematics, Natural Sciences and Social Sciences - History.

Mary E. Gundel, Test Center Administrator, announced that persons desiring to enter college at an advanced level with credit for material learned without attendance at formal college classes may now apply for the December testing.

Capitol Campus and many other institutions of higher learning in Central Pennsylvania grant academic credit for the CLEP examinations. Persons wishing to take the exams should inquire at the institution they wish to attend as to whether credit will be accepted for the CLEP examinations, the examinations to take and the scores required for credit.

Beta Chi News

by Sy Sebastianelli

A word of thanks goes out to everyone who made the Beta Chi slave dance a success. Twyla Brown, advisor to Sigma Delta Chi, a slave in demand or is that a demanding slave, offered more than enough slaves such as Sue Willens, Cheryl Weinberg, Elyse Paul, Sue Wolf, Laine Kenner, Bezy Hughes, and more beauties. Even Mr. Paul, one of the older models, was quickly snatched off the bidding by two lovelies.

Turning to current events, Beta Chi will have a guest speaker this evening at its meeting in room E-310. Mr. Ralph Kelly, recruiter for W. T. Grant stores has been pleased to have the opportunity to meet and speak to concerned students about occupational prospects in the retail merchandising profession. Grant's has some 1100 stores in 45 states contributing over one billion dollars in sales annually. It's growth has lead to a need of qualified college grads - anyone interested can attend.

Social Committee Events

by Don Snyder

At the regular meeting of the Social Affairs Committee of Capitol's Student Government Association, it was announced that the policy board had accepted the resignation of Ray Nearhood as co-chairman of the Committee. The decision making body had met on November 11 to decide on the matter. Nearhood submitted his resignation on November 1. The committee will decide on a replacement at its next meeting.

In other news, it was announced the twice postponed bike race has been rescheduled until the spring term, 1973. The Rob Wessel Concert of November 12 was discussed. Because of poor attendance at the event, the committee will take into consideration student apathy when planning future week-end events.

Plans for the hayride, which was scheduled for November 17, were finalized. Advanced ticket sales indicated it would be a successful event.

A Nostalgia Week was scheduled for February 11-17. Such activities as an ice cream social, a dance marathon, a W.C. Fields film festival, and a dance with a "greaser" group will be included.

A belated New Year's Party with the possibility of a string band for entertainment is tentatively scheduled for January 12.

A winter week-end, including a snowman building contest, a snowball battle between the Heights and the Dorms, and sleigh riding was planned for the end of January (weather permitting). A roller skating party for February is also being scheduled.

Films throughout the winter term include: "Death in Venice"

(Jan. 5), "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf?" (Jan. 17), and "Flap" (Jan. 27).

The Social Committee is sponsoring the Black Student Union Dance on Friday, December 1, 1972 in the Student Center.

THIS WEEK IN THE SGA

by R. W. Bonaker

November 20

This week's CAPITOLIST again consolidates two Student Government Association meeting reports into one article. The first report centers on the meeting of November 20.

Opening discussion concerned ways in which SGA could better inform the student body, and the major priorities of the governing systems. The possibility of establishing an SGA information desk and expanding "Operation Contact" were mentioned as ways of gaining student input. The senators also were concerned with how they can affect academic concerns such as new courses and degree nomenclature changes, and how to make SGA run more smoothly by tightening organization, making committees live up to their functions, and coordinating finances.

President Mike Dini received a letter from Shirley MacLaine's secretary stating that the actress can not definitely commit herself to accepting the invitation to be speaker at June Commencement. The Campus/Community Service Committee has decided to contact the next speaker on the list, Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, U.S. Senator (Republican, Pennsylvania.) Former SGA vice-president Max Brady echoed concern for campus traffic safety, as raised by a Middletown merchant, by sending a letter to Security Chief James Paul. Brady called for traffic signs warning of the dangerous curve near the dormitories to be posted as well as the painting of crosswalks and other warnings. Dini praised Brady for his action, adding that traffic safety is of added importance with the many children living in Capitol Campus Village.

Dini also announced that the Amendment to the proposal establishing a master of public administration program in a hook-up with the Army War College, Carlisle, passed by a faculty vote of 77-23. The Amendment specified that all elective courses be taught at Capitol if the program is established.

At the conclusion of the presidential announcements, the Senate presented Dini with a wedding gift, a nifty candleabra. Dini was married on November 11 and now lives with his wife Bonnie in Pineford Village, Middletown.

The Finance Committee allocated $125 to the Campus/Community Service Committee to stage a Christmas party, scheduled for Saturday, December 2 in the Recreation/Athletics Building. An SGA committee, headed by Sen. John Murphy (Jr., at large) to set up a process of student referendums, was appointed. The referendums, scheduled during the period of winter term registration, will consider revisions of the SGA Constitution and the possibility of a name change for the campus. A committee to deal with student academic and campus-wide concerns was established to deal with such pertinent issues; to act as a sounding board.

In further action, the SGA passed a motion dealing with the required parking sticker fee. The motion was stated as follows: "We the members of the SGA do at this time oppose the $7.50 parking fee imposed on us every term, pending justification." The motion passed by 21-0. Asst. Dean of Student Affairs, Jerry South pointed out that the sticker fee, which is required of all students of the University, is funneled into a central budget which is used for the construction of parking lots.

The SGA, in another unanimous resolution, called for the establishment of a course which will give instruction in the preparation of thesis papers and other research methods. The motion was introduced by Sen. Karl Salmon (Jr., at-large) and was referred to the ad-hoc committee on Academic/Campus concerns.

November 27

The second of the series of SGA reports centers on the events of the final meeting of the term, November 27. Special guest was Mr. Walter Slygh, Capitol's Officer of Academic Services.

Slygh talked about the various problems which have become engulfed in his office. "Currently, we are conducting a study to see what we can do to better serve the students. We are also looking into the possibility of doing more of our own computer work. We have three alternatives; one would be to set a distinct programming system at University Park. Another would be to have it done someplace else, for example HACC. Another would be to ask main campus to supply us with our own equipment, but that
