Varsity Basketball 1973

Mens' Intramural B.B. Set

by R. W. Bonaker

Men's intramural basketball play for the winter term begins on January 22 with the team roster deadline set for next Tuesday, January 16. Rosters should be returned to the Recreation/Athletics building no later than 5 p.m. of that date.

All is in readiness for the new season as the floor of the Base Gym has been repaired from the damage caused by the June Flood. The floor was repaired at a cost of $6,000, but amounted to a relative saving as the addition of a completely new floor would have cost approximately $25,000, according to Mr. Robert Stanley, Recreation/Athletic Coordinator.

Each intramural team will be comprised of 10 men. Team members must donate a total of 10 dollars to register in the league, the money to be returned upon completion of the season. In addition, each team must purchase a PIAA rulebook at a cost of 70 cents.

Team captains will meet at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, January 17 in the Rec/Ath building to prepare for the coming basketball program.

The championship tournament has been tentatively scheduled for March 5-9 with the winning team being invited to participate in inter-collegiate tournaments at Harrisburg Area Community College and Millersville State College.

Universal Gym

by Rich O'Brien

As has been previously reported, the long awaited Universal Gym has arrived at Capitol Campus. Situated in the weight-lifting room of the Recreation/Athletics Building, the Universal Gym is an excellent machine for general weight training.

Standing approximately eight feet high and five feet wide, the apparatus is a single unit which has a variety of devices for exercising as well as ordinary weight lifting.

On the date of its arrival late last term, a machine demonstration as to the proper use of the apparatus was staged by a representative from the Spartacus Company, manufacturer of the Universal Gym. Roughly 35 people attended the showing and watched with interest and enthusiasm.

The Universal Gym is a welcome addition to the athletic facility. Bob Stanley, Recreation/Athletics coordinator cordially invites all members of the campus community to utilize the Universal Gym.

CC INTRAMURAL SPORTS

by R. W. Bonaker

Capitol Campus has an outstanding intramural sports program, according to Bob Stanley, Recreation/Athletics Coordinator.

And rightly so. A host of activities are offered during each term, of interest to everyone on campus, whether male or female, student or faculty.

Last fall, approximately 20 percent of the campus population participated in intramural recreation and athletics. Flag Football was the biggest activity as 'Them' won the league championship in the playoffs staged near the end of the term. The addition of a lighted field, goalposts, better equipment, and outside officials, enhanced the program.

Intramural bowling was expanded up to the point where two leagues were in operation. All told, 72 people participated in the Monday and Wednesday night leagues.

During this term, many activities will be offered although definite schedules have not been established. Intramural basketball, pinocle, bowling, darts, volleyball, weight training, badminton, table tennis, roller-hockey and martial arts (judo, karate, self-defense) are in the offing.

The Athletic Department distinguishes between club and varsity sports. Varsity sports are funded by the department and play on an intercollegiate basis. Club sports are not funded by the department but are given assistance with scheduling and organization by Stanley's office.

Athletic Supplies

Athletic supplies can not be purchased on campus. Basketball jerseys and trunks, sweatbands, tennis balls, golf balls, and other equipment is available in the Rec/Ath Building.

People may inspect the merchandise in two glass cabinets in the building. Purchases are handled in the following manner: Each item is marked with a price and a purchase number. Having noted this, the information should be supplied to the Finance Office where monetary transactions will be handled. The office will produce a cash receipt which is taken back to the athletic building and the merchandise will be supplied.

On Tuesday, the Capitol Campus Varsity Basketball squad, coached by Mr. Al Williams, began regular season play by playing Penn State's Delaware Campus at the Main Street Gym, Middletown. However, the game was played after we went to press.

This year, the team, with the help of returning stars and the addition of fine junior prospects, should improve upon last season's 4-11 record. In addition, the coaching finesse of Williams, once a standout with the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association, and a somewhat softer schedule should lead to Capitol's first winning season since 1969. Capitol's toughest opponents should prove to be Messiah, Lebanon Valley and Shippensburg.

12 games are on tap for the season, with the possibility of a couple additional games if they can be worked into the schedule, according to Bob Stanley, Recreation/Athletics Coordinator.

Last year, due largely to inadequate coaching, Capitol blew many games it could have won. In this writer's opinion, five games which should have been won eluded the Lion's grasp. Capitol had the personnel to win those games, but it didn't happen. Perhaps the addition of a paid and more knowledgeable coach in Williams could make a significant difference.

However, last year was not all bad news. The team set a single game scoring record with a 124-75 conquest of Northeast Christian Junior College. Paul Hook, at 6 feet 2 inches, proved to be a prolific scorer and rebounder, setting school seasonal marks in those categories. He set a one game mark with 28 rebounds and on five occasions scored more than 24 points. He is back this year.

Also returning from last year are stars Larry Chupka, Rick Miller, Pat Bently and Steve Hutter. But it has been reported Hutter may miss the entire season due to an ankle injury. Chupka was the team's second leading rebounder last year and at 6-5 his height will play an important role. Rick Miller is a scrappy little guard who was the team leader in fieldgoal percentage last season. Bently and a few others returning give adequate bench support for the squad. Players eligible to compete this year but not returning for various reasons are Joe Duda and Ted Sites.

One area where desperate improvement is needed is at the free-throw line. A year ago, Hutter led the regulars with 58 percent converted while Hook followed with 56 and Chupka had 54.

In fieldgoals, Miller paced the team with 48% and Chupka had 47%, followed by Hook and Bently with 45.

But with the beginning of the new season, optimism flows. With the current potential, Capitol should have at least a 9-3 won-lost record. Fan support could mean a great deal to the team. Come out and see the games. Home contests are played at the Main Street Gym in Middletown, located near the town square on Route 230.

DTK Meeting

Delta Tau Kappa, the international social science honor society, is planning many events of interest to the entire campus. To properly organize such activities, meetings have been announced by Gaye Miles, President.

On Tuesday, January 16, the initial meeting has been scheduled for the T.V. Lounge, beginning at 7 p.m. The following Tuesday, at the same time on January 23, new members will be honored in the Gallery Lounge.

Anyone holding a 3.0 cumulative grade average at Capitol and has achieved at least an eighth term standing in the social science program is eligible to join the society.

Also, students can join even if they are not currently enrolled in the social science program. For example, humanities or engineering or business students qualify with a 3.0 Capitol average and have had a minimal 20 credit hours of instruction in the liberal arts throughout their collegiate career.
