

S.G.A. ELECTIONS TODAY

Reader Spotlights Trash

The Reader spotlights the innovative method of cleaning up the halls. The clutter of printed signs is an eyesore in the college community. You can't see the forest for the trees. Often times, students can read a bulletin board and not be at all enlightened to the activities on campus.

One finds that he can read several bulletin boards and gain conflicting and useless knowledge. There are several areas that list or attempt to list the campus activities and they give all a half-truth.

One example is the time listed for the past Saturday's soccer match. The C.C. Calendar of Events printed the time for 2:00 in the afternoon. The Activities calendar and the Hot Line had it printed as 8:00 in the evening.

The bulletin board in the hall if the main stair case is the major area of complaint. Material was hanging that had been dated for months. The layers of paper manifested the thoughtless hanging of signs. No one cared what was underneath as long as their sign was on top.

The Reader congratulates the mysterious marauder for doing everyone a favor - cleaning up the school. The Reader fears that his work was in vain and has the following suggestions.

First, a coherent system of gathering the information on ALL activities should be delegated to one office. The Student Activities Office is the logical choice. This information should be posted in one area. This listing should be completed and not a half-truth.

Secondly, the printed signs announcing club meetings should not be used. The signs are ugly to begin with and are ineffective. The clubs should depend on the single activity calendar and work with the publicity co-ordinators if they need additional publicity.

Thirdly, the suggested area for posting the information is the canvass boards by the front doors. They are easily accessible to the student body and a visitor can find what is going on in the school without having to read every scrap of paper on the walls of the building.

Lastly, there is a paper shortage. The massive practice of wasting paper at Capitol is abominable. It should be stopped. The Reader is taking steps itself to cut down on newsprint. We hope the mysterious marauder has taught the school a lesson. Maybe we can work together to keep the clutter out of the halls and to get a more efficient method of announcing campus happenings.

Deferred Tuition

by Bill Matthews

As many of you may know deferred tuition this fall was a little more painful than it had been in the past. The reason being, the tight budget situation at University Park.

This winter term it will get worse, (according to John Taylor, the finance officer). So you should be prepared in that you may not be able to defer tuition at ALL. Watch for all publications concerning tuition payments in the near future. It could have an adverse effect on you.

PUBLICITY COORDINATORS

The position of publicity coordinator has been filled by not one but two extremely capable students. They are Bill Fleisher and Wanda Burkholder. A mailbox has been established for these people in the S.G.A. office (W-104). All organization publicity (other than posters) will channel through the publicity coordinators.

The publicity coordinators will be responsible for getting releases and announcements in the monthly calendar, The Weekly Hot Lion, the school newspaper, the C.C. Reader, and on campus radio, WZAP. You, the organizations, are responsible for getting all the correct information to the publicity coordinators.

Releases will have to be submitted to the publicity coordinators as far in advance of printing deadlines as possible. Deadlines are as follows:

1. Monthly Calendar - 15th of the month preceding the event.

2. Weekly Hot Lion - preceding Tuesday, 4:00 p.m. (Printed & out on Wed.)

3. Newspaper - C.C. Reader - Thursday, 9:00 p.m. (Out on Wed.)

4. Yearbook - as soon as possible.

Printing deadlines will call for advance planning on the part of each organization.

Reservations for any campus facility must be made one (1) week in advance, by the requesting organization. Classroom reservations are to be made with the Records Office. (101). All others through the Office of Student Affairs (W-105.)

Requests for posters must also be made through the Office of Student Affairs at least one week in advance.

Adherence to these deadlines by all will increase the success of student sponsored events.

SGA ELECTIONS TODAY

by Bob Hetzel

The Student Government Associations elections being held today in Vendorville from 8 to 5 p.m. will see a dramatic shift in the political life in this community. In years past the Social Science Department has provided the largest number of Senatorial candidates with the Business Department coming in second. A look at the ballot for this fall election will show the Business Department to be offering the most candidates, (6) while the once active Social Science Department will have nothing to select from; save write-ins! The Humanities Department seat will also be open for write-ins. One candidate each will be offered by the Elementary Education, Math / Science, and Engineering Departments. The names that will appear on the ballot, by Department, are as follows:

Rules

The voting rules in this election allow 2 votes to be cast by each student. (Both Junior and Seniors may vote as provided for in Article XII Section 3 of the SGA Constitution.) One of the votes must be cast for a candidate in the voters respective Department while the second may be used at the voters discretion. The Junior and Seniors voting will also have a vote to cast for or against proposed Constitutional revisions. It should be pointed out that the proposed revisions, if approved by a sufficient number of the student body, will clear up a good number of ambiguities in the present Constitution. I urge all students to approve the revisions in the Constitution and to cast their vote for their Senatorial candidate. A vote, in a broad sense, is a statement that you give a damn about this community. Do you?

Marijuana Smokers take Note

The House of Delegates of the American Bar Association by a substantial majority vote (122 to 70) called today for an end to criminal penalties for marijuana smokers.

The adopted resolution reads: BE IT RESOLVED: Because of the tendency to punish those who merely experiment with the use of small quantities of marijuana and to apply too serious penalties to them, rather than to concentrate on detecting and punishing sellers of the drug, there should be no criminal laws punishing the simple possession of marijuana by users.

The House of Delegates also adopted a resolution favoring the decriminalization of non-profit casual transfers of marijuana.

Cecil Poole, delegate of the Section of Individual Rights and Responsibilities, introduced the measure. Among those speaking in favor of the proposal were: Whitney North Seymour, Sr., cultural festivals, also the New York City Delacarte Theatre Summer Dance Festival, City Center for Music and Drama, the A.N.T.A. Theatre, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and numerous other theatres and houses both on and off Broadway.
