MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL PRESENTS:

The Watergate Bowl

by Jim Bollinger

Welcome, folks, to Monday Night Football. This is Howard Cossell, and I think we have a real match-up for you tonight. And to tell you more about it is the matchless, moribund master of monologue, Dandy Don Meredith.

Howdy, Folks. As Howard said, tonight's game promises to be one of the best of the season, as the White House Boobs go against the American People. Both teams are coming off big wins over mutual opponent McGovern Liberals. But, for the individual match-ups, here's fearless Frank Gifford.

Good evening, fans. Tonight's game pits a perennial loser, the American People, against one of the league's hottest teams, the White House Boobs, led by their crafty coach, Dick Milhous. Starting at quarterback for the Boobs is "Cool Bob" Haldeman, one of the league's leading passers. At halfback, we have Spiro "T", not one of the better ball-handlers, but still a good runner. At fullback is John Ehrlichman, who is not only one of the league's shiftest, most deceptive runners, but who is also fairly adequate in the passing department himself. Leading the attack of the People will be quarterback "Senator" Sam Ervin and halfback Howie Baker, while the defensive unit will be led by middle-linebacker Archie Cox, one of the most ferocious in the business.

So, as you can see, we should be in for a real treat tonight as the White House Boobs battle the American People in the Watergate Bowl here in Washington D.C. We'll be back for the kick-off after this message.

Howard: Here we are folks for another round of unmatched, unpredictable and unbeatable Monday Night Football. The Boobs have just won the toss and will receive. Hubie Humphrey, the kicker for the People is lining up the ball . . . and we are r-r-r-e-e off!

Frank: Trickie Nixon has the ball on his own goal-line, he now moves it out to the 10 - 20 - 35 - 40. He may break it! Looks like clear sailing! Wait! Here comes the kicker Humphrey; he may make a saving tackle. He has Nixon! They're on the 5, 3, . . . he's down! Humphrey may . . . wait, no! Nixon just made it into the end zone . . .

Dandy: Yeah, Frank, he was just on the goal - line . . .
Frank: It's ruled a TOUCHDOWN! So the Boobs go in front early, 6 - 0, on a 100 - yard kickoff return by Trickie Nixon.

Howard: Nixon is, by the way, the coach's stepson. But just look at this replay of the TD. Nixon evades a would-be tackler, it looks like No. 47, Kennedy, who slips. After this, his wall of blockers just decimates the confused attempts by the People. Here, the kicker Humphrey makes a valiant effort . . . but to no avail. Touchdown . . .

Dandy: Plus the extra - point makes it 7 - 0, Boobs. You know, Howard, that Nixon can move like a greased hog runnin' thru a slaughterhouse.

Frank: So, with 14:40 left on the clock, we pause with the score, White House Boobs - 7, American People - 0 on a hundred - yd. return by Trickie Nixon.

Howard: We're back here at the Watergate Bowl. On that return, No. 47, R.F. Kennedy was injured and will not play the rest of the game . . .

Howard: We have sad news to relate. Kennedy, the fine young halfback, for the People, originally a first - round draft choice of the Democrats, has suffered a severe knee injury which may end his career. We are truly grieved.

Dandy: We shore are; He was one right fine young player, and the loss of him is a loss to the entire league, and the very game itself.

Frank: Now we're set for the Boob's kickoff to the People following their touchdown. And it's a beauty; a high booming kick that Eddie Kennedy will field on his own five. He's up to his ten, twenty, 30, . . . 40, . . . he's hit and hit hard . . . The ball is loose . . . The Boobs have recovered on the American 45 - yard line!

Dandy: That was one fine run, but he was really stuck and coughed - up the ball. It seems that he may be hurt.

Howard: Let us hope that he's only been dazed.

Frank: He's up and, with a little assist, is hobbling off the field. It seems as though he'll be OK. So the Boobs take over, 1st and 10 on the People's 45. No. 13, Haldeman, brings his team to the line. The give is to Spiro and he bursts thru the line for 7 yards.

Dandy: He ran right over Cronkite and the entire left side of the defensive line. A fine gain.

Frank: Second and three. Another give to Spiro . . . and he has the first and then some.

Howard: Here we are seeing one of the league's best halfbacks in fine form when he's not fumbling the ball.

Dandy: Yeah, Howard, And they keep running over the left side of that line; which is just what Coach Milhous told us in an interview before tonight's game. And we'll now run that for y'all . . .

Howard's voice: Well, Dick, what will be your game plan for tonight? Milhous: Let me make one thing perfectly clear, we shall first run at them with Spiro carrying the ball, then we'll open up a passing attack with Cool Bob making use of our best receivers, Mitchell and Kissinger. *****

Frank: Back to live action now. Boobs 1st and 10 at the American 30. Fake hand-off to Dean, and Haldeman launches a long, arching pass to his fullback Ehrlichman. TOUCHDOWN!

Howard: There he is! The fine young fullback from USC, who has become quite adept at all phases of the game. Here we are seeing just one of his many talents.

Dandy (singing): Cal - i - for - nia, here we come, right back where we started from . . .

Frank: The P.A.T. is good; we pause with the score now 14 - 0, White House.

LATER IN THE FIRST HALF

Howard: This game has progressed to the point of boredom! The Boobs have intimidated and tricked the People to a point I had thought was impossible in the modern phases of this game! The performance of White House has been spectacular, relying on the big play. But they have been helped alot by the low quality of play on the part of the Americans.

Dandy: Wall, Howard, Ah agree that the People's performance leaves something to be desired, but Ah've also noticed some poor execution by the Boobs.

Howard: Which has gone, Dandy, almost unnoticed because of their use of the big play . . .

Frank: . . . Which has given them a 35-3 lead with just 2:53 remaining in the first half, and the ball theirs on their own 38. They are faced with a third and 21.

THE DRAW TO LIDDY, BUT HE IS CAUGHT FOR AN EIGHT-YARD LOSS.

Howard: A splendid play by the right defensive - end As we see on this instant - replay, he not only took the fake to Hunt, but also stayed in the hole and took Liddy for a loss.

Dandy: A right fine play.

Frank: Dean's in to punt. He gets a fine one off. It will be returned by J.D. Sirica. J.D. has it on his own 20. He's got one block, two . . . he's off! Down to the Boob's 25 where Dean, the punter made a saving tackle.

Dandy: What a play! He went right thru the wedge of blockers to stop a sure TD.

Frank: With less than two minutes left on the clock, the People have a chance for seven. The first play is a pass to . . . intercepted! That's Trickie Nixon with the ball! . . . He's gotten one block, two, he's being chased by the tailback McGovern, but he'll score easily.

Howard: There he is again! This fine, versatile veteran Nixon. He's scored three times now, including the first and last TD's for the Boobs this half.

Dandy: Ah can't help but be amazed by his slippery moves and blinding speed.

Frank: Gray adds the extra - point and the score is now Boobs 42, People 3. And that'll just about do it for the first half.

Dandy: 5-4-3-2-1. That's all folks.

Frank: We'll be back with our half time highlights after this. *****

Howard: This game has been all Boobs, with the Statistics all in their favor:

To Change Graduate Schools

Princeton, N.J. - A national panel of leading educators has issued a report calling for major changes in American graduate education.

In the report, entitled "SCHOLARSHIP FOR SOCIETY", the Panel on Alternate Approaches to Graduate Education questions the emphasis on research as the single criterion for evaluating all graduate schools and their faculties, and urges that all doctoral students spend time working outside university walls in areas related to their major fields.

The Panel was supported by two influential organizations largely representative of graduate school opinion - The Graduate Record Examinations Board, whose policies affect the entrance requirements of most graduate institutions, and the Council of Graduate Schools in the United States, whose 307 members include universities awarding 98 per cent of the doctoral degrees in this country.

In a preface to the report, "new elements do need to be added to graduate schools, that significant modifications need to be made, and that horizons of concern need to be expanded if graduate schools are to meet fully the emerging needs of society."

The Panel report recommends that:

- graduate school faculty be encouraged to take a wider view of their professional roles, and the decisions "for tenure, promotion, and salary increments no longer (should be) based on the single criterion of research and publication."

- more experts who may not possess the usual academic credentials be added to graduate school faculties. "Successful achievers in business and government possess gifts and experience that could be of immense influence in redirecting academic energies toward the servicing of social needs."

- more intensified efforts be made to recruit able minority - group representatives and women to the faculties. "Statistics can be cited confirming that the politics of graduate education reflect the influence of a . . . discriminatory society."

- often rigid institutional requirements, such as residency and fellowship policies, become more flexible to meet the needs of new groups of students; for example, part-time women students. "Graduate administrators and faculties must arrive at a new perception of the worth and dignity of 'recurrent' or intermittent' learners."

- every graduate student should be required to undertake discipline - related work outside the university if he has not previously done so to insure that no advance - degree candidate graduates without exposure to real working situations.

- certain institutional policies be altered to allow faculty members more time to play a larger role in the solution of major societal problems.

"It is a matter of recreating the graduate faculty as leaders in the search for a new understanding of the possibilities of human society and of recreating the graduate institution as one that is capable of counseling political and cultural leaders on ways of assuring meaning to the structural changes of society now in progress," the panel concludes.
