Friday thru Sunday, Sept. 20-22, the Office of Student Affairs held its third annual leadership workshop for student organizational leaders. The workshop was held at Stone Valley, the University's wooded camp hideaway in the Nitanny Mountains.

Organizations represented at the three-day workshop were Student Government Assn., C.C. Reader, Ski Club, Beta Chi, WZAP, Black Student Union, DTK, Social Committee, PSPE, PSEA, ITE, IEEE, Finance Committee, Student Court, Young Democrats, XGI's, and Capitolite (yearbook). Also in attendance were Residence Assistants of this year and last who held their own workshop-within-a-workshop to prepare the new RA's for their duties.

The main topics of discussion were improved cooperation between the various organizations and ways to increase students' involvement in them.

Along with a plethora of meetings and leadership orientations, the group was visited by several officials from the University Park campus. These included Charlene Harrison, who conducted special sessions on group dynamics, and Mr. Ralph DeShong, vice-president for Student Affairs at University Park. On Sunday, speakers were Provost McDermott, Dr. Wolf (Dean of Faculty), and Administrative Officer for C.C., Mr. Dessler, all from Capitol Campus.

Other activities included the SGA budget hearings and entertainment by the Buffalo Chipkickers, a local bluegrass group, at a square-dance-kegger on Saturday night.

The workshop was headed by Student Affairs Director Jerry South and the Coordinator of Student Affairs, Agnes Green. Other faculty and staff helping out were: Bud Smitley, Coordinator of Athletics; Marion Krieger, Director of the Counseling Center; Iris Prager, Chairperson-Student Affairs Committee; Pat Murphy, Residence Living Coordinator; and Terry Turnbaugh, Residence Living Coordinator.

The affair could be termed a tentative success. Its ultimate success depends upon the average student-at-large and whether he-she gives the organizations a chance to show their stuff.

Sidey Convocation Speaker

Convocation speaker Hugh Sidey

Hugh Sidey, one of the nation's top journalists and Chief of Time-Life News Service in Washington, D.C., will address a convocation at Penn State-Capitol Campus launching the 1974-75 academic year. This first convocation in the history of Penn State-Capitol Campus will be held Tuesday October 8, 1974 at 11:00 a.m. in front of the school's main building in Middletown.

The convocation will include a robed procession adding a touch of tradition to the academic program.

Mr. Sidey who writes the Time magazine column "The Presidency," has regularly reported on the Johnson and Nixon administrations, and now covers the Ford White House for Time. In 1960 he traveled on the campaign trail with John Kennedy and was in Dallas in 1963 when Kennedy was assassinated.

Sidey, a fourth generation journalist, has written a book, "John F. Kennedy, President: A Reporter's Inside Story." He has also written a book on Kennedy's successor, entitled, "A Very Personal Presidency: Lyndon B. Johnson in the White House."

A native of Iowa, Sidey graduated from Iowa State and worked as a journalist in the mid-west before joining Life magazine in New York. After two years he moved to Washington, D.C. as Time's White House correspondent. In 1969, he became Time-Life Bureau Chief.

Flood Trailers

by Doug Gibboney

Two years after the flood that made them necessary and one year after the expiration of their lease, the trailers have been removed from Capitol Campus.

University officials offered the land between the Main Building and the Placement office for use as a temporary flood victim trailer court following the June 1972 disaster. Problems arose last fall when federal, state and county authorities denied any responsibility for removing vacant units.

The issue remained at a stalemate until early this summer. The state agreed to accept the task and promised all the homes would be relocated to area trailer courts by October 1, a deadline that was beaten by several weeks.

Leader Seminar At Stone Valley

by John, Allen, Tom, Dave, & Mac

Over 50 student leaders and the Student Affairs Staff met for the Third Annual Stone Valley Workshop held at Penn State's Stone Valley Recreational Area on September 20th thru 22nd. Included in the discussions were sessions on group dynamics, styles of leadership, and the role of Capitol Campus as it relates to University Park.

The workshop enabled the various student leaders to become better acquainted with each other and with the problems of the individual organizations. It provided the opportunity for the student leaders to work together to combat common and individual problems.

Although the primary purpose of the workshop was to discuss the common organizational problems, there were periods of recreation. The highlight was an old fashioned barn dance featuring music by the Buffalo Chip-Kickers and fancy footwork by Allen Kerchner.

Falling tents and flowing "spirits" also helped to lessen the effect of Penn State fumbles to the Middies, thundering raindrops, and the unexpected chill of a late summer night.

The conference was concluded with a question and answer session led by Dr. McDermott, Dr. Wolf, and Mr. Dressler.

Perhaps the best summation of the weekend was made by Tom McMillen, president of the X-GI's, when he commented, "I think the workshop was a very valuable experience and should be continued in the future."
