

NYC needs College Interns

Tri-County Neighborhood Youth Corps, located at 2257 Herr St. Harrisburg, is a Federal non-profit agency and is looking for College Interns interested in social service work. Under a new Federal program, the Tri-County Neighborhood Youth Corps will hire 15 students to work a maximum of 360 hours through May 31, 1975 at the rate of $2.50 an hour. Students accepted for this unique program must be full time college students in good standing, must also be permanent year round residents of Dauphin, Perry or Cumberland County and must be 22 years of age or less as of May 31st. The person to contact for information about this special program is Sue Levinson and she can be reached by phone at 233-1084.

If eligible, the student sells his services as a volunteer to a local agency that deals with social services. Hopefully, an agency can be selected which will enable the student to gain experience in their chosen field of major study. Emphasis is placed on the student's ability to sell his services to a local service agency as they themselves know best where their interests and concerns are centered. Usual work load is 15-20 hours per week, with the student's salary being paid by the Tri-County Neighborhood Youth Corps. Students are responsible for making their own work schedules as well as keeping a time sheet of their hours.

Agencies where students could possibly do volunteer work to fulfill requirements for this College Intern program are Goodwill Industries, the Salvation Army, State agencies, mental health services as well as local hospitals.

Any Capitol student interested in the College Intern program is urged to contact Ms. Levinson by phone at 233-1084 to obtain further information on this unique learning experience...

All organizations are reminded that information for the January 1975 Activities Calendar should be turned in to Jacques Miller in Student Affairs by Friday, December 13th.

Also, the SGA would appreciate each organizational president's class schedule for the winter term. The schedules can be left in the SGA mailbox in W-110

Mr. Paul strikes again!

by Phil Zimmerman

This has got to be the last straw. Mr. Paul has abused his authority once to often. This last incident is inexcusable. What happened you ask--Mr. Paul sneezed while walking past two students the other day, and at least six witnesses will swear that he tried to assault one of the students. Absurd you say, not so on this campus.

Mr. Paul's reputation will always overshadow any good deed he could ever possibly think of doing. The first thing we hear upon arriving at Capitol Campus is that we have a security officer that is out to get us. So to be on the defensive we always avoid him and believe everything we hear about him. Usually the rumors are stretched so far out of proportion that no one knows the difference between fact and propaganda. So we continue to gossip and retell the same stories over and over, and each time they get better.

Last year a group of "concerned students" had a Student Committee on Security Matters formed. I was asked to be a member of the committee because I was a junior. Guess I was the only member of the committee that hadn't already decided on the removal of Mr. Paul from his present position. The committee presented Jerry South, Director Student Affairs, and Mr. Dressler, Administrative Officer, a document of recommended changes and a list of alleged abuses committed by Mr. Paul. This list would question anyone's integrity and credibility, if they were true. However, the chairwoman of the committee hastily drafted the document and relied upon rumors and propaganda to defend the allegations. The explicit purpose of the committee was to put the ax to Mr. Paul. The few leaders of the student grievors which I met seemed to possess a dislike for Mr. Paul to which objective analysis could share no part. In all my research into the student court records and talking with individuals personally involved with cases brought against them by Mr. Paul, no evidence was given that MR. Paul overstepped his authority or used undue influence upon them.

If your reputation or my reputation was questioned by a list of alleged abuses, we would demand action to produce evidence of misconduct. We would want our name cleared, why wasn't Mr. Paul given the same consideration?

One good thing came as a result of the committee's action, a student security force was established. However, I question the overall actions of the committee. It appeared evident that the committee was a tool used by a few to pursue a personal vendetta. Most of us have had little contact with Mr. Paul, yet approximately 30 individuals last year kept the rumors flying to cloud the atmosphere of real issues being confronted.

If Mr. Paul is wrong in enforcing the rules and regulations of the college, then why have the rules in the first place? He's not to blame for restricted parking areas or the awkward parking situation which we have. If you want to complain about them, complain to someone who can change policies--SGA. The one fault Mr. Paul does have is that he goes strictly by the book, and it gets him a bad reputation. But because you don't like the rules, don't degrade and slander the body of individuals enforcing them.

The grave peril resulting is that a small minority, approximately .015 percent, can influence the majority in their thinking. Try and recall if you signed one of the many petitions circulated last year regarding Mr. Paul. You probably did, just because Mr. Paul's name was mentioned.

One thing I can't understand is why students are so repressed by the thought of security on campus. I was informed that the "big yellow and red lights", on the security vehicle, psychologically upset some individuals. Does this occur when they are in a town, municipality, or on a state road and a marked police vehicle passes them? The group pressuring for the removal of Mr. Paul were against "pigs" in general. Even the student security force became the brunt of verbal assault after their implementation. So is the real problem Mr. Paul, or what he and the student force stand for and represent?

I'm sure Mr. Paul has made mistakes. But why should mistakes of others be overlooked and forgiven and not the mistakes of Mr. Paul?

New Ministry Begun on Campus

Father John P. O'Connor a Jesuit Priest, is the University's first on campus chaplain. Father O'Connor works out of the Counseling Center, and is on the campus every Tuesday and Friday from 10 A.M. until 2 P.M. and is also available for counseling by appointment.

He also celebrates Mass every Sunday at 1 P.M. in the Student Center. Father O'Connor is here to serve, in any way he can, the faculty, staff, and students of Penn State Capitol Campus.

I would like to see more students become concerned about this problem. If we are here to gain truth and knowledge, let's start with learning more about one of our favorite and yet most misunderstood topics--Mr. Paul. There is certainly no communications gap or personality conflict regarding Mr. Paul as the grape vine would have it. If students became acquainted with the man they would also realize this. We evaluate our instructors and professions thru face to face confrontations, why not do this with Mr. Paul?

I am concerned that minority pressure will force Dr. McDermott into creating a position to alleviate a situation and shortly thereafter have the same problem all over again. I believe the faculty and students need to review their prejudices regarding the subject. Put yourself in his shoes, before you criticize!

THE BEATLES

THE BEATLES: AWAY WITH WORDS

Finally, after years of experimentation in the media and entertainment industry, a breakthrough that can truly be called a breakthrough has emerged. The discovery is Multi-Media, and it has emerged in the form of "THE BEATLES: AWAY WITH WORDS". If you only go to see the technological triumphs and have no interest in the aesthetic, nostalgic, or musical value of the show, by all means go; for you will behold something you've never before imagined. Not a crude attempt at Multi-Media, but Multi-Media itself. Twenty-six projectors, thousands the show. "If you were at The Beatles first Ed Sullivan appearance, you remember The Beatles. If you were at Shea Stadium, Alpert Hall, or any of the airports where they deplaned, you remember The Beatles. If you were ever in their dressing rooms after a performance, or with Paul at his home as he wrote a song and you shared his mood, you know The Beatles. If you were not at any of these places, then be at the Forum in Harrisburg, Saturday, Dec. 14 or Sunday, Dec. 15 (shows at 6, 8, & 10 p.m.). "AWAY WITH WORDS", is an attempt at synthesiz-of feet of film, and a 360 degree sound system, all tied into a computer, and all aimed right at your soul. Producer Earl Jarred, who has won acclaim internationally for his feats in the entertainment world, says "trying to describe this show is like trying to describe music to someone who has never before heard it." Chris Marshall, National Promotional Director for "AWAY WITH WORDS" and former West Coast Personnel Director for Apple Records, says this about ing the essence that was The Beatles. If you are one of the many who feel The Beatles are deserving of such a monumental memorial, come, join with us as over 100,000 already have, as we salute the greatest musical genius of our time.

Beatlemania comes to life once again at THE FORUM* HARRISBURG* SATURDAY* DEC.14, and SUNDAY* DEC.15. BE THERE AND "LET IT BE."
