

Message From The Provost

Dear Capitol Students:

It has been almost ten years since Capitol Campus was opened. Although each one of these years has been an important one, the coming year well could be the most important. During the next few months basic decisions are going to be made about Capitol. Your help is needed in arriving at these decisions.

As a first step in gaining your involvement we shall distribute a questionnaire as a part of Spring Term registration. The information requested on that questionnaire will help us answer questions about the kind of academic courses we should offer, the type of organizational structure we should have, and the level of budgetary support we need.

It is vital that we get this data. As we present the case for Capitol to the University and to the State government, we have to support our ideas with specific facts. If our decisions are to be the right ones, we need accurate and complete information and you are the direct source.

I hope you understand the importance of your participation and our motives in seeking your help. I think Capitol has a great future, but your help is needed.

Sincerely,
R. E. McDermott
