

XGI REPORTER

The big happening this week is the winter term service project- the Coatesville VA Hospital trip. There will be music and eats, so please plan to be there to show fellow vets that you care. The trip is for 7:30 PM, Friday the 28th. Stop in at the lounge for details.

The semi-formal was a huge success!! A really great time with a great band and great food. I really enjoyed the shrimp newbery (two helpings). I'd like to have another semi formal next week- how about it, social committee?

It seems like we have lost our meeting place -- as you probably know if you tried to attend the last meeting. We hope the problem can be ironed out by next meeting time. At this time, I cannot tell you that the upcoming meeting will be at the Tiltin Hilton, so stop in at the lounge and find out just where it will be held.

And here is something that we can put into XGI frat history (and leave it there!). The frat's very own Paul Will along with Bob Okenquist from the- tisk! tisk! - Spread Eagle Inn, very handily won the pinochle tournament at HACC during the World Record Weekend. They played cards from 9:30 AM to 10:30 PM on the Saturday of that weekend and they claim that channel 8 TV was there to film the action.

Gid Wray says, "If they're so tough, why won't they play me a few hands of cutthroat pinochle?" I don't know, maybe if you hassle them enough, they will show you how they won the tournament!!

Conflict Studied

Huntingdon, Pa.- (I.P.) - A new program of "Peace and Conflict Studies" is being added to the curriculum at Juniata College. President John N. Stauffer said many of the college's students and faculty members had expressed "a growing awareness of the dangers posed by violent forms of human conflict".

"In response to this concern, Juniata has developed an interdisciplinary program combining aspects of the social sciences and the humanities, exploring the causes and consequences of human conflicts, and searching for ways to resolve those conflicts", Dr. Stauffer said.

Two additional courses will be added to the program in 1975-76: "Tolstoy: His Life and Message" and "War and Conscience in America".

Great Decisions Group Meets

The Capitol Campus Great Decisions Group meets Wednesdays at 7:30 in W309. Faculty, students, staff and the public are cordially invited to come. The group was organized by Leslie Johns, a '74'. The topic to be discussed on February 26th will be "Our Changing World Economy: Can We Meet the Challenge of Interdependence?". Handbooks with background information may be purchased in Room W356 from Prof. Heindel, chairman for Capitol Campus, which is co-sponsoring the series with the Foreign Policy Association of Harrisburg. Professors from Capitol are appearing on two series of programs on the Great Decisions topics. Prof. Simko, who is radio-TV chairman for Capitol, is moderator for weekly programs on WMSP-FM (94.9) aired Thursdays at 7:30 P.M. and Prof. McAree is moderator for the Harrisburg Cablevision series shown on Channel 5 Tuesdays at 8:30 P.M. Other faculty members appearing include Prof. Klain, Prof. Goldman, Mr. Molovinsky, Prof. Bresler, Prof. Murti, Prof. Robert J. Brown and Prof. Heindel. Faculty and students are also cordially invited to attend the monthly dinner meeting of the Foreign Policy Association to be held February 27 at Schindlers; the speaker will be Dr. David McKillop, advisor to Sen. Pell. He will speak on Cuba, which he visited recently with Senators Pell and Javits. Reservations may be made through Prof. Heindel.

How Do You Know That The Fruit Was An Apple?

by Bob Kuhn

I've just read the article printed in the Valentine issue of the CC Reader entitled "The History of V.D." and think it very appropriate for the afore mentioned issue. I was amazed at the efficiency at which Mr. Olson used pure opinion to distort basic Biblical facts.

FACT 1 Where does it say that the fruit Eve ate was an apple?

FACT 2 Where does it say that the serpent that tempted Eve was a snake?

FACT 3 Where does it say that God has said "infamous, immortal last words" - For that matter, where does it say in the Bible that God is dead?

So much for your "over dramatization of a crucial point" and I dispute your comical argument with Biblical fact.

But as you stated your point was that "western Christianity has paranoia and quilt complexes". Mr. Olson, no where in the Bible does it state that "believers", "closet-Christians", non-believers, agnostics, or anyone will be "struck down or turned into a slab of salt" because of guilt feelings, because of adultery, or any other of the things which you've mentioned.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Olson, I can guarantee you that you will not be sent to Hell for any of the "sensual enjoyment" you mentioned.

But alas Jimmy Olson, you did miss a trick! The Bible says that God is only going to judge you on one thing - have you accepted what Jesus Christ did for you. An analogy here might make things more clear. Suppose you were arrested for speeding and the traffic cop takes you to court. You find out that the judge is your father. He asks how you plea - you know you were speeding so you plea guilty. Now your father, to be perfectly fair and just, sentences you to a fine or 3 days in jail. You have no money, so the jailer takes you to your cell. Now your father was fair and just as he should be but because he loves you, he can pay the fine for you. The jailer comes back to you and says that you're free to go because your father paid the penalty. You have a choice to make. Will you accept your father's payment or will you pay your own penalty in jail.

The same thing is true spiritually. I'm sure you'll agree that you haven't lived up to God's perfect standard at every moment in your life and a perfectly fair and just God must have a penalty for this. But God loves us and paid the penalty Himself by sending His Son Jesus to die on the cross for us. Are you going to accept that payment or reject Jesus and pay the penalty yourself.

Jesus said "I am the Way the Truth and the Life. No one comes to the Father except through Me." If Jesus was God (and I know He was), then everything that He says is truth. If He wasn't God, then forget about "christian morals", because there is no such thing as Christianity.

P.S. If you interested in this more, there is a Bible study every Tuesday at noon in W202.
