

EDET Evening Courses Penn PIRG Returns

In response to the needs of the community Penn State-Capitol Campus will offer the traditional daytime courses in Electrical Design Engineering Technology in the evening. This will begin in the 1975 fall term.

The new scheduling occurred as a result of a petition from 22 people, headed by Robert E. Buss, Jr., of Harrisburg. The group requested the evening courses since they all had earned associate degrees and have daytime jobs. The evening courses will enable them to earn a bachelor of technology degree.

According to Wesley G. Houser, EDET program chairman, the courses have been given only during the day for the past 8 years. The evening courses add a new dimension to the program; while the daytime program will continue to meet the needs of full time students.

XGI Elections

Houser indicated the program would be academically the same as that in the daytime". Houser expressed his appreciation for the group's petitioning Penn State-Capitol Campus for the evening course addition. He plans to meet with the group

Paul Skodacek was elected president of Chi Gamma Iota, (XGI's), a service fraternity of veterans here. Other officers elected include Edna Keister, Vice President; Bruce Sommers, Secretary; and Ken Harris, Treasurer.

PENN PIRG PETITIONS have been extended. The Pennsylvania State University is in favor of the idea of Penn PIRG, but not the funding procedures. Sign a petition, show your support, you'll find the petitions available in Wilco

Berks Campus has some 800 students and about 600 have signed their names supporting PIRG. Capitol has over 2300 students and less than 200 individuals have signed. The Student Government Association refuses to believe that we are an apathetic bunch of people, do you?

It's said flight brings you closer to God and the earth is prettier from above. You'll get a chance to find out for yourself at Capitol Campus's Second Annual Aviation Day, planned for April 30. For the full story, see page 1.
