Mr. Gerald P. Madden has been designated as an instructor in Finance. Mr. Madden obtained his bachelor's degree in accounting at St. Joseph's College and his master's degree in finance at Temple University.

Dr. Ronald J. Webb has been appointed Associate Professor of Management in the Business Administration program. A graduate of Wheaton College, Dr. Webb received his master's and doctorate degrees in management from the University of Maryland. He is a member of the Academy of Management and has spent the last two years as an assistant professor at the Abadan Institute of Technology, Abadan, Iran.

CAMPUS HELPS IN FLOOD

Two weeks ago was the second time that The Capitol Campus has been called upon to provide help to the communities surrounding the campus. The reason this help was needed was the same as it was three years ago. As the Susquehanna River rose, due to the torrential rains of Hurricane Eloise, the people of Lower Swatara Township, Middletown, and Highspire looked to the campus as a possible refuge and evacuation center. Likewise, they looked to the students and faculty of the campus as people who would provide them with help in a time of trouble.

As in 1972, the students, faculty, and staff of The Capitol Campus responded in a very willing and energetic fashion. This willingness to help our neighbors should, I feel, not go unnoticed. Because the names of those who joined in helping our neighbors is too extensive to list, it seems to me appropriate that special credit be given to several student groups.

First of all, those students from the residence areas, both Meade Heights and the dormitories, who chose to stay on campus and lend a hand should be recognized.

Secondly, the members of the Chi Gamma Iota Fraternity deserve credit for their efforts in helping evacuate families from Pineford and the lower parts of Middletown.

Another group of students who willingly gave their own time are the members of the campus student security force. These individuals were of great assistance in responding to inquiries that were addressed to the campus and in helping ready the campus for the expected arrival of evacuees.

Fortunately, the river didn't get high enough to necessitate evacuating many families. Thus the campus was not used as an evacuation center as it was in 1972. None the less because of the efforts of our faculty and students and staff, the campus would have been ready had it been needed.

It is also appropriate at this time that I give credit to the members of the faculty and staff as well who came to the campus that Friday in order that the campus could be kept operating during the course of the weekend. Many of these individuals came to the campus even though their own homes were endangered by the flood waters. The staff members of the Housing and Food services and the Maintenance Department are to be especially commended for their fine efforts. Too often we forget to give credit to the efforts of these fine people who do so much for the campus.

Even though the campus was not used as an evacuation center; even though we will not have another flood village located on the knoll in front of the Main Building; our campus was ready to help because, as people, you cared about your neighbors. You have my thanks and my congratulations for a job well done.
