

Graham To Be Humanities Head

By Jean Beatty
Staff Writer

Dean of Faculty George D. Wolf has appointed Dr. Robert D. Graham chairman of the Humanities Department to succeed Dr. Nancy Tischler whose resignation is effective at the end of the spring term.

Commenting on the appointment which is effective July 1, 1976, Wolf noted that Graham had done a "fine job" as chairman on an interim basis two years ago when Tischler was on a sabbatical leave.

"It is an ideal situation," he said. "Bob is a very competent person, has had extensive experience with the University and enjoys the admiration and respect of both colleagues and students."

The new chairman has been at Capitol since 1969, having spent the years 1965-69 as professor of American Studies and English at University Park.

Asked to comment on the challenges of his new position, Graham noted that his tenure would be characterized by the continued search for effective means to implement new ideas.

He added that one of his most important considerations would be maintaining the balance of options in the humanities program.

Policy of the University dictates that department faculty nominate a candidate for the chairmanship and submit the name to the Dean and the Provost for consideration, according to Wolf. He said Graham was the unanimous choice of his colleagues for the position.

Our "Citizen Kane" Takes The Reigns

By Mark L. Appleby
Staff Writer

The literary responsibility of the editor of the C.C. Reader for next year has passed to Bill Kane. The current Editor-in-chief, Phyllis Schaeffer, will be a spring graduate.

Kane, a 9th term Humanities major, has been a staff writer for the Reader since last fall. He has already begun training for the job.

The position requires a knowledge of journalistic practices and requires many hours of attention before the presses roll, Kane said. As editor, he will assume responsibility for the paper's content and form.

On his plans for next year, Kane said, "The paper's format will remain, but the content will be expanded to better cover student and faculty needs. There exists a need for a more complete coverage on all phases of life at Capitol Campus."

"A paper can only be as good as its editor and staff," Kane added. He has asked for better student representation in the roles of reporting and layout. All contributions to the Reader are appreciated.

The new editor hails from Upper Darby and is a current resident of Middletown. His interest in news reporting was nurtured while attending Delaware County Community College, near West Chester.

Kane believes that a sound mind needs a sound body, so he participates in Capital's Martial Arts Class.

As a high school and college student, he excelled in track and cross-country competition. (Who would argue with an editor who knows Judo?)

Future plans include combining creativity with straight news writing to add more style to the Reader.

Kane is also hoping to publish the Reader weekly. A larger staff and a higher SGA budget allocation would be necessary to publish weekly, he said. He believes the development of the new photo lab will also improve the paper's layout and content.

Kane asks anyone with suggestions to stop in W-129. (If no one is there, try the Lamp Post Inn.)

Father Jafolla Dies

Father Jafolla, Henry to his friends, passed away on May 16, 1976 in Philadelphia at age 49. He left behind him many friends at both Capitol and HACC. Mass of Christian Burial was held on Wednesday the 19th of May at the Daylesford Abbey in Philadelphia.

Father Jafolla was a Norbertine Priest who joined the order in 1946 and was ordained in 1953. He taught high school in Philadelphia and Green Bay, Wisc. He was then assigned as a Campus Minister to La Salle College. His last Campus Ministry was here at Capitol Campus and HACC. His efforts helped to fill the spiritual needs of many students, faculty and staff.

A Memorial Service was held today for Rev. Henry A. Jafolla, O. Praem. at Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament, 2121 N. Third Street in Harrisburg at 10 a.m.

"I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." John 11, 25-26.

Let us live on together in true Christian Love. Amen.

Many thanks and congratulations on a job well done to all the people who worked Traffic Control for the Spring Concert. I couldn't have done it without you.
