

CAPITOL CAMPUS READER

Vol. 6 No. 8, Capitol Campus Penn State University November 18, 1976

Students Named To Who's Who

By Ann Clark

The Who's Who Committee of SGA has completed selections for the 1976-77 school year. The Committee, made up of Katie Fee, Kitty Nestor, and Lenny Klonitsko, was requested by Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, to nominate senior and graduate students for this distinction. The criteria for selection are participation in extracurricular activities, community service, and a cumulative grade average of at least 2.8.

Nomination forms were submitted to all clubs and organizations, and the ultimate choices were made by Program Heads and Heads of Departments.

The following 35 students will be listed in the 43rd edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges:

Edgar Atkinson
Curry Bailey
David Becker
Marvin Bellamy
Jack Beury
Christina Cox
Kathleen Fee
MaryAnn Fitzgerald
Theresa Gallagher
Deborah Hoffner
Stephen Huntzinger
Gerald Johnston
William Kautter
Daniel Kelly
Mark Kerestes
Patricia Kern
Kenneth Kirkpatrick
William Klusarity
Catherine Kresge
Patricia Manning
Raymond Martin

See Page 3

Stan Grosner, emergency medical technician, demonstrates life saving techniques to Jimmy Perkins, and Bill Walls.

First annual meeting of the Society of Necrophiliacs.

A Matter Of Life And Breath

By John Leierzapf

The Student Center was the scene of some heavy breathing last Saturday as members of the residents living staff and security department took part in a CPR training program administered by the emergency medical technicians of Steelton's volunteer ambulance crew.

The purpose of the program was to train resident assistants and security patrol members in the simple life-saving techniques of cardio-pulmonary resuscitation so they can deal effectively with emergency situations.

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, or CPR for short, combines a number of simple techniques that are critically important to maintain life until a victim can be treated and taken to a hospital.

Participants learned how to recognize unconsciousness, arrested breathing and cardiac arrest. They were taught the techniques of establishing an airway, rescue breathing, how to deal with airway obstructions and external cardiac compression. In addition, they were also shown how to perform these same techniques on infants and children.

The program was eight hours in length with a break for lunch. Participants learned basic skills in the morning and early afternoon, then took a 100 question written exam and a performance exam at the end of the day. And, at the end of the day, everyone was exhausted from constantly blowing into the lungs of the demonstration manikins.

The nurse's office hopes that it will be able to provide a similar program open to all students who wish to learn the techniques of CPR.

This old man seems to prefer the company of pigeons on his Saturday afternoon.

Weavers Bug-Box On Display Now

Penn State-Capitol Campus is currently sponsoring an art display featuring the works of Mr. James L. Weaver.

According to Roberta McLeod, coordinator of student activities, the display began Nov. 13 and will run through Dec. 4. The display features drawings and paintings of the artist including a unique "bug box" series which features twenty-four acrylic on paper paintings measuring 1" by 1".

James L. Weaver was born in Clarksburg, W. Va. After serving in the U.S. Marine Corps, Weaver majored in art at the College Of Sequoias in Visalia, Calif. and at the University of Nevada. His works have been displayed at numerous group and one-man shows in Nevada, Washington, California, Pennsylvania and France. Recently Mr. Weaver received the Washoe County Bicentennial Sculpture Commission 1975/76 Award.

Weekend Weather

Eastern Pennsylvania outlook Friday through Sunday. Partly cloudy through the period with a chance of rain Friday or Friday night. Highs mostly in the 40s. Lows in the mid 20s to mid 30s.