binoculars. Sure enough, the 82nd Airborne. I guess they had had been stationed in South Carolina so long they had gone native. Well, that screwed any chance of a counter-coup. I dejectedly walked to the nearest interstate and started hitchhiking.

A fat-cat Republican stopped his Caddy Seville. I got in back because the front seat was taken up by his dowdy wife and three obviously un-car-trained and over-weight poodles. He explained that he wasn't going to stop until he made the Canadian border, but he would slow down to 35 MPH at the Harrisburg exit. I settled down and listened to a bizzare lecture on how Gerald Ford was the right man in the right place at the right time. I do hope the state of Maryland will forgive me for throwing up all over their pretty highway.

At home, finally, over several Heinikens, I contemplated my future.

Does anyone know the words to 'Waltzing Matilda'?

Tish and Tush will not let you forget the upcoming Spring Concert. Their desire for a Big Mac is all enduring.

I want to remind everyone that the XGI's are sponsoring another keggar on January 29th at the Hunter's and Anglers Club. The name of the group playing that night is Red Delicious, the same group we had at our last keggar in the Fall Term. Vince Johnson will be posting signs during that week and maps will be available at the roundtable on Friday, January 28th for those who don't know where the Hunter's and Anglers Club is located. Be sure to make it a special point to attend this Keggarr because it should be one of the better times this term for everyone who attends.

Another event the fraternity is sponsoring this term is a pancake eating contest which will be held later this term and all proceeds will be donated to charity. The Epilepsy Foundation sent a representative to one of our past meetings and asked the fraternity if we would hold one of these pancake eating contests for the benefit of those who are afflicted with epilepsy. I urge all students to come out and cheer those people who are eating the pancakes and to back this worthwhile cause.

Under the heading of sports, Rick Mosley reported that the fraternity now has three bowling teams and everyone who bowls has a good time. Anyone who wants to be a substitute for any of the bowling teams can contact Rick in the XGI lounge. Also, anyone who would like to play basketball for the fraternity can see Rick again because he is the captain of this year's basketball team.

Can You Teach An Old Dog New Tricks? From Pg. 3

performance are effective in keeping the elderly person exposed to a learning environment.

The professor cited examples of cases where intellectual performance increases during adulthood.

"Older persons of very poor educational backgrounds who were exposed to various educational and cultural programs, especially through the introduction of television in the United States, evidenced increases in intellectual performance."

Because older citizens are so capable of learning, Dr. Baltes says we should consider redesigning a much more flexible educational system so that these people can be active throughout their life span.

He suggests that persons not obtain all of their education in a continuous, rigid fashion in early life, but distribute their education in different ways--such as in chunks throughout childhood, adolescence, adulthood and old age in order to achieve a greater balance between personal life-related needs and educational offerings.

However, Dr. Baltes cautions that it would be dangerous to simply take the educational system that we have created for the young and transpose it into later life.

"The challenge," he adds, "is one of creating an educational system in which chronological age becomes less and less important."

Did you catch a cold yesterday or today?

Do you expect one tomorrow?

If so, don't give it away, sell it to the Hershey Medical Center.

Here's what you get in return for your virus: a weekend at the Hershey Motor Lodge in beautiful Hershey, Pa., and $125 upon completion of the program.
