Game's Over

By Tim Adams

The C.C. Reader sponsored a Charity Basketball game for the Epilepsy Foundation this past Friday at the Main Street gym.

Although the attendance was poor nearly $50.00 was donated.

The first game featured the Womens Varsity Team against the C.C. Reader Staff. As expected the girls got beat 52-46. The score was only as close as it was because the women picked up two male players Mike Pavlishin and Scott Kurtz, in the 2nd half.

The top scorers for the C.C. Reader were Don Gale, Bill Kane, and Don Shoemaker, they were assisted in their effort by the strong footwork of "Three Bagatelles," "Passin' Through," "Estrange," and "Traces." In addition to Don Redlich, members of the dance company to perform here are Jennifer Donohue, Irene Feigenheimer, Barbara Roan and Billy Siegenfeld.

Don Redlich's choreography demonstrates the blending and contrasting styles and movements in modern dance. Members of his company have studied and trained with such masters of modern dance as Hanya Holm, Martha Graham, Merce Cunningham, Alvin Ailey, and Erick Hawkins, whose stylistic and technical innovations have been incorporated into the program.

Tickets are now on sale at the Hershey Community Theatre box office, 534-3405.
