Harry Chapin's Brother

Lancaster, Pa.-Singer-guitarist Tom Chapin will perform at Franklin and Marshall College on Friday, March 10 at 8 p.m. in F & M's Hensel Hall. Tickets are $3 in advance and $4 at the door. They can be purchased at the information desk at F & M's Steinman College Center daily from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Chapin, the brother of folksinger Harry Chapin, was the star of the children's television series "Make A Wish," which won T.V.'s Emmy and Peabody Awards. He also wrote the music for, and starred in, the documentary film "Blue Water, White Death." Chapin's first solo album on Fantasy Records is entitled "Life is Like That," and includes both rock and folkstyle original music.

He has performed at more than 150 colleges and clubs across the United States and Canada. In February, 1977, he went on a 50-date tour through America with singer Janis Ian. Chapin's concert is being organized and sponsored by F & M's student-run College Entertainment Committee, headed by Randy Brown, a junior from Millburn, N.J.

Gallery Lounge

Middletown Tom McKinney, a 37-year old freelance painter from Philadelphia, currently has some of his work on display in the Gallery Lounge at Penn State-Capitol Campus.

McKinney is a regular contributor to the Virginia Beach Art Show, where he has won awards for his watercolors. He has exhibited in a one-man show at the Georgetown Art Gallery. His work is also on display in various schools in the Philadelphia area.

Among his works in the Gallery Lounge are portraits of Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong, Martin Luther King, Miles Davis, and the Beatles.

TV Producers

An active television producer for the Maine Public Broadcasting System will visit Capitol Campus in the Gallery Lounge Friday, March 10, at 11 a.m.

Mr. Eton Churchhill will be here to discuss his candidacy for the position of instructor in television and film production.

The meeting is open to all students and faculty who have an interest in meeting Mr. Churchhill.

Another candidate for the position, Henry N. Williams, will have an open meeting with interested faculty, students, instructional services staff, and others in the Gallery Lounge on Monday, March 13, at 3 p.m.

Mr. Williams is currently employed by WITF-TV (PBS) in Hershey as a writer-producer.

$1000.00

The yearbook needs $1000 in advertising to break-even this year.

Students who wish to or perhaps sense the faintest possibility of selling an ad please drop by W-129 and leave their name and phone number so that a cover letter authorizing them to solicit funds for Capitolite 1978 can be prepared.

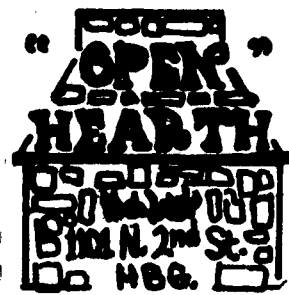

Also, those students who still would like to purchase a subscription or complete partial payment for Capitolite 1978 can do so by stopping by W-129. If a staff member is not available when you stop by, there are mail order forms available outside the door. Postage is pre-paid, and your receipt will be mailed back to you.
